SCHOOL CHOICE

- ♦ Bouche: Dade Phelan has always been Abbott's bitch and we're being "played" on school choice (comments at 40:31):

Bouche: So stay with me. And Paxton and Dave Phelan don't get along

Walter West: I don't think Dade Phelan gets along with French fries.

Bouche: So Dade Phelan has always been Abbott's kind of minion

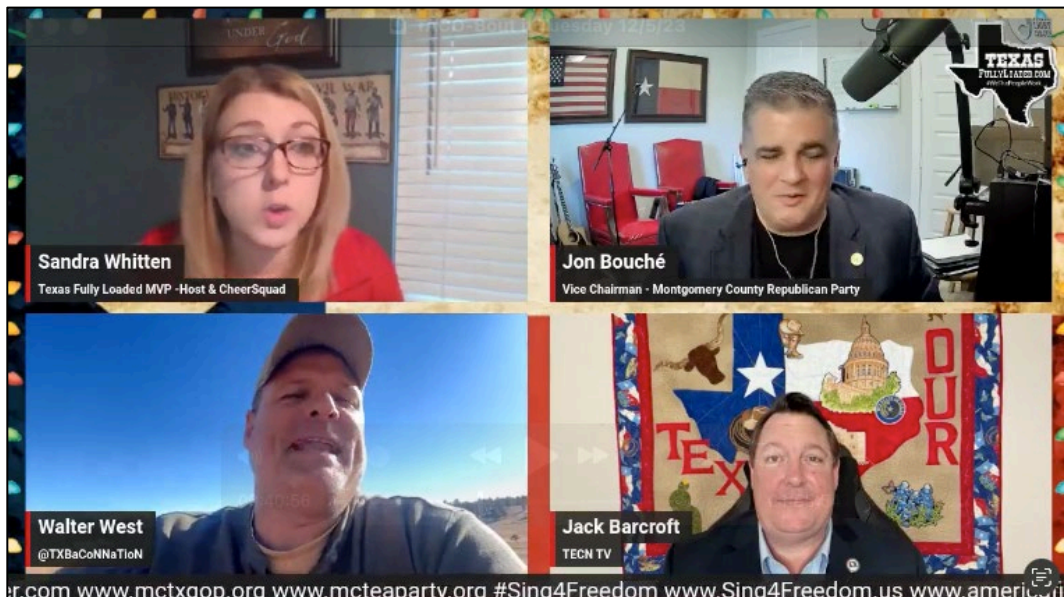

Walter West: Bitch? Did you say bitch?

Bouche: Yeah that's the word. I was gonna say that, but...so are we being played on the school choice thing?

Walter West: Played! Played!

Bouche: This is all political theater.

Walter West: Like a jar of KY jelly in a 13-year-old's medicine cabinet.

📖 As conservatives, we believe that parents—not the government—should decide what’s best for their children. That’s why I’m committed to improving educational outcomes by promoting competition among educational options, and giving parents the power to take full control of their child’s education.

👨🏫 We must also support teachers to do the essential work in the classroom. I will work to bring discipline, order, and common sense back into our classrooms, so teachers can focus on teaching and students can focus on learning. 📚

🗣️ As your next State Representative, I’ll fight for an education system that reflects our conservative values, respects parental authority, and delivers real results for Texas families.

As your House District 16 Representative, I will work hard to achieve the following initiative:

IMPROVE EDUCATIONAL OUTCOMES

Texas First Agenda

On DAY ONE as your Texas House District 16 Representative, I will fight to put an end to the games played in the Texas House by the "Uniparty," which has betrayed Republican voters and squandered our hard-earned majority in the Texas House for the last decade.

Texans Deserve REAL Republican Leadership

As your House District 16 Representative, I will work hard to achieve the following initiatives:

SECURE OUR BORDER and all points of entry into Texas.

SAFEGUARD WOMEN AND CHILDREN by ensuring private spaces for them, keeping males out of female sports, and prohibiting gender ideology and grooming in all forms.

DEFEND INNOCENT LIFE from conception until natural death.

IMPROVE EDUCATIONAL OUTCOMES by promoting competition among schooling options, giving parents full control over their children's education, and supporting educators by bringing discipline and common sense back into the classroom.

REQUIRE VOTER APPROVAL FOR TAXPAYER-FUNDED LOBBYING to respect Texans' First Amendment right of redress of their government.

ELIMINATE PROPERTY TAXES to create true home ownership for Texans. Stimulate economic activity by eliminating franchise taxes and business personal property taxes.

IDENTIFY AND VIGOROUSLY RESIST UNCONSTITUTIONAL FEDERAL OVERREACH that usurps the power vested in our state, and infringes upon liberty and the pursuit of happiness of the people.

LIMIT AND CLEARLY DEFINE EXECUTIVE "EMERGENCY POWERS" so that those powers are not abused.

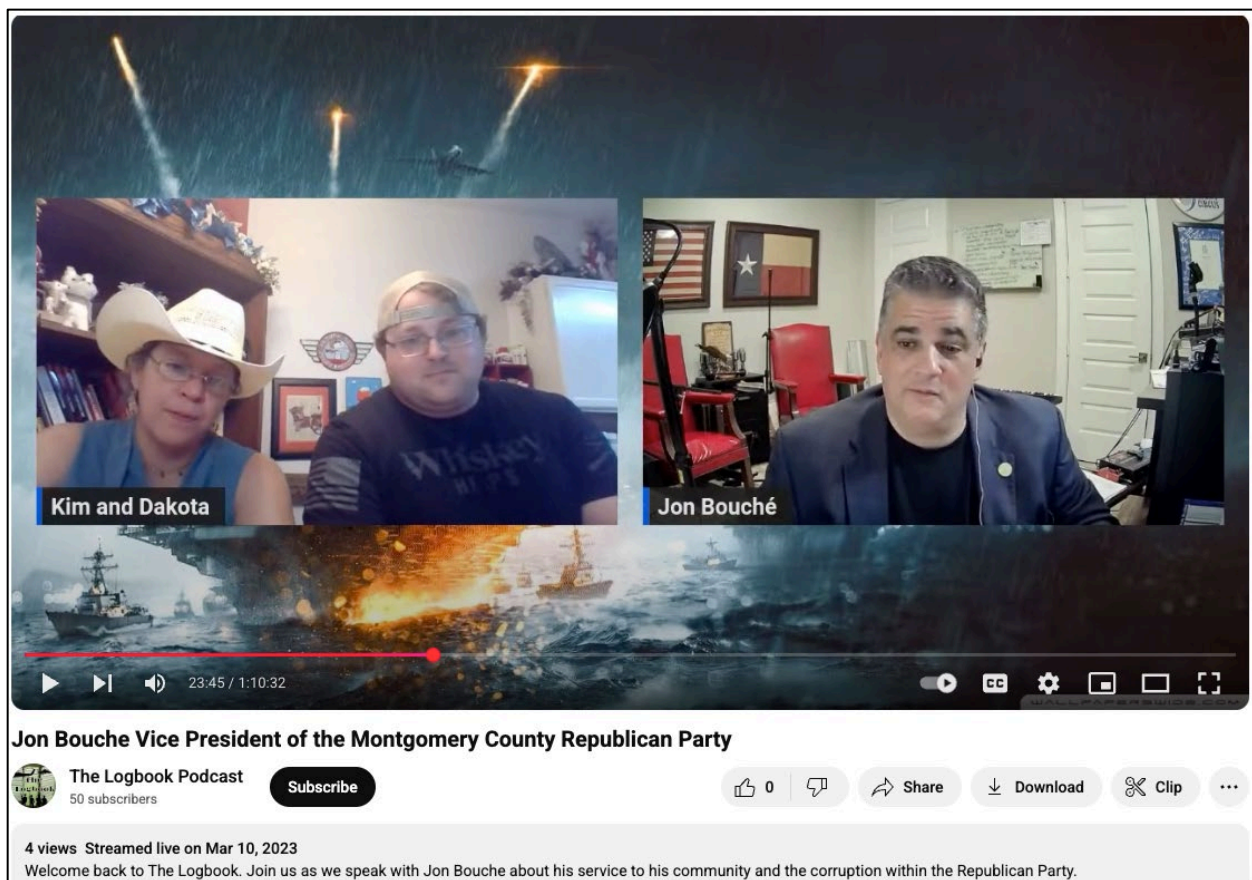

STRENGTHEN ELECTION INTEGRITY by stopping non-citizens from voting in our elections and by increasing penalties for anyone convicted of voter fraud.

ANTI-ABBOTT / PATRICK

- ♦ Bouche (comments at 29:10): “Greg Abbott is always going to do the right thing once he runs out of all other options. You can count on that.”
- ♦ Bouche (comments at 30:18): “And one of the funniest things we ever did was when Greg Abbott was out there saying, the border is secure. The border secure. Our co host Walter West is on the border in the background, just showing them streaming across the border. Yeah. We went there.”

Last night I was asked why Lt. Gov. Dan Patrick seemed so pleased with the 89th Legislative session despite it beginning with the Texas House being hijacked by the Democrat/RINO coalition.

Here is the simple answer: Lt. Gov. had his own priority list for the session which was largely achieved. And while I really do like Lt. Gov. Patrick's list, it was not prioritized the same as the Texas GOP Legislative Priorities.

Below is a snapshot of how Patrick's legislative priorities did overall versus the Texas GOP Priorities. If I were Patrick, I would be happy too but to think this somehow excuses the RINO's who joined Democrats to undermine the Republican Majority in the House is ridiculous.

Every one of those who joined the Democrats against the House Republican Caucus nominee for Speaker must be replaced. Just imagine what could have been achieved had that betrayal not happened.

	LT. Governor Dan Patrick		Texas GOP
✓	School Choice	✗	Border Enforcement
✓	Increase Teacher Pay	✗	Secure Texas Elections
✓	Parental Bill of Rights	✓	Stop Sexualizing Kids
✓	Bail Reform	✗	No Democrat Chairs
✓	Establish Texas Bitcoin Reserve	✗	Ban Taxpayer Funded Lobbying
✓	Ban on THC Products	✓	Secure the Electric Grid
✓	Property Tax Reform	✗	Texas is Not For Sale
✗	Proof of Citizenship for Voting	✓	End Federal Overreach

ANTI-TRUMP

- ◆ During a January 2025 podcast, Bouche said he didn't like Trump in 2016. "Full disclosure. I was not a big Trump fan back then."

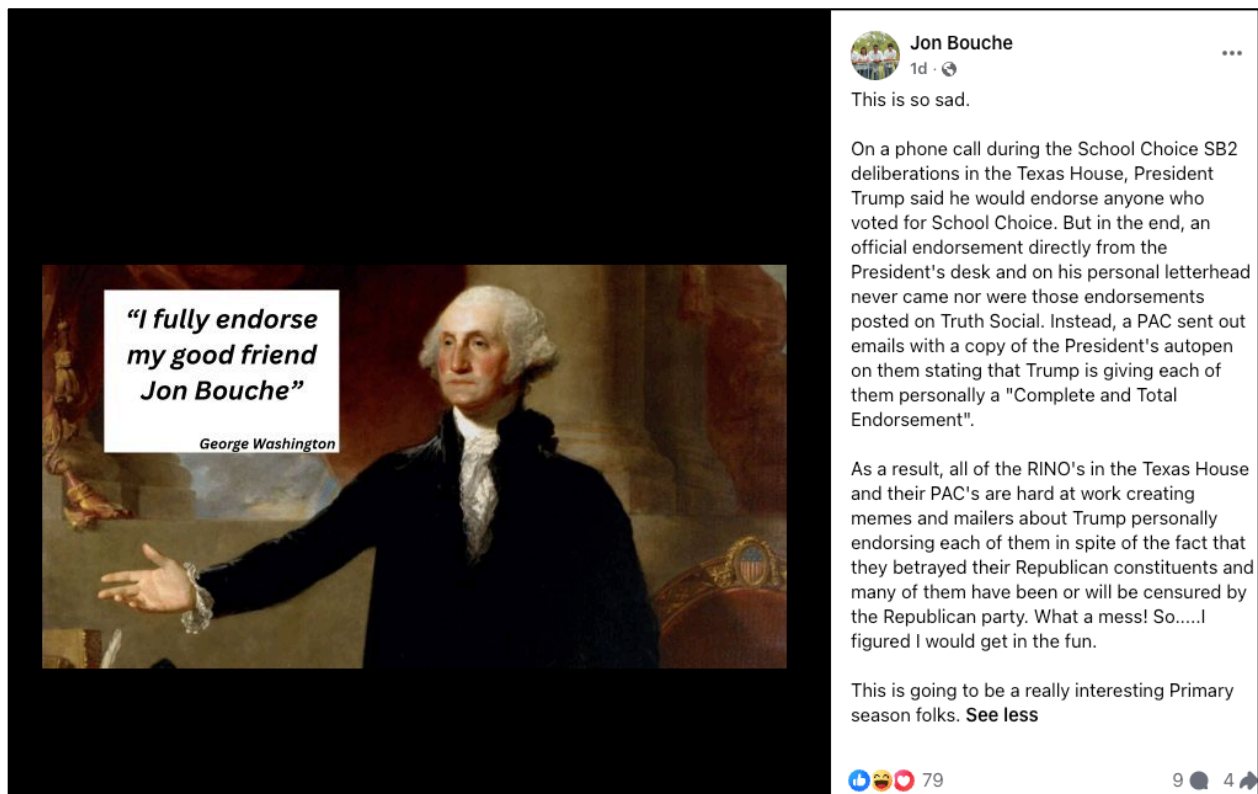

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mrb6zRaxXWE>

- Bouche (segment begins 19:44): "the only letter I've ever written to a President of the United States is when Trump was elected back in 2016 I wrote him a letter, and I said, Mr. President, congratulations. Now, full disclosure, I was not a big Trump fan back then. I was very suspicious of him and his his background, the people you know. Out with sure I was, I was, I was more on leaning towards a conservative side, Ted Cruz, one of those I wanted. But with that being said, thank god Trump got elected. He's done an amazing job."

He's been a transformative figure in history, and that's that's been great. But the only letter I've ever written a president my entire lifetime was the one I wrote to him, and it said, Mr. President, congratulations. But if you don't fix election integrity in this country, we're dead. Nothing else matters. How prescient was that when you looked at what happened in 2020 so that's another big issue for me."

- ◆ You can vote to finally pass conservative priorities to make Texans' lives better, but to Jon Bouche you're still a RINO. Bouche claimed Texas House members who were told by President Trump (in a recorded and well-publicized phone call) that they would have his endorsement for supporting SB2, are still RINOs who "betrayed their Republican constituents"

- ◆ While President Trump is forward thinking and established a Strategic Bitcoin Reserve for the U.S., Bouche is “really nervous about blockchain and cryptocurrency” and said it “always seemed very Dungeons and Dragons to me.” During a January 2025 podcast, Bouche and the host were discussing ways to make elections more secure. The host asked what Bouche if he though blockchain would work.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mrb6zRaxXWE>

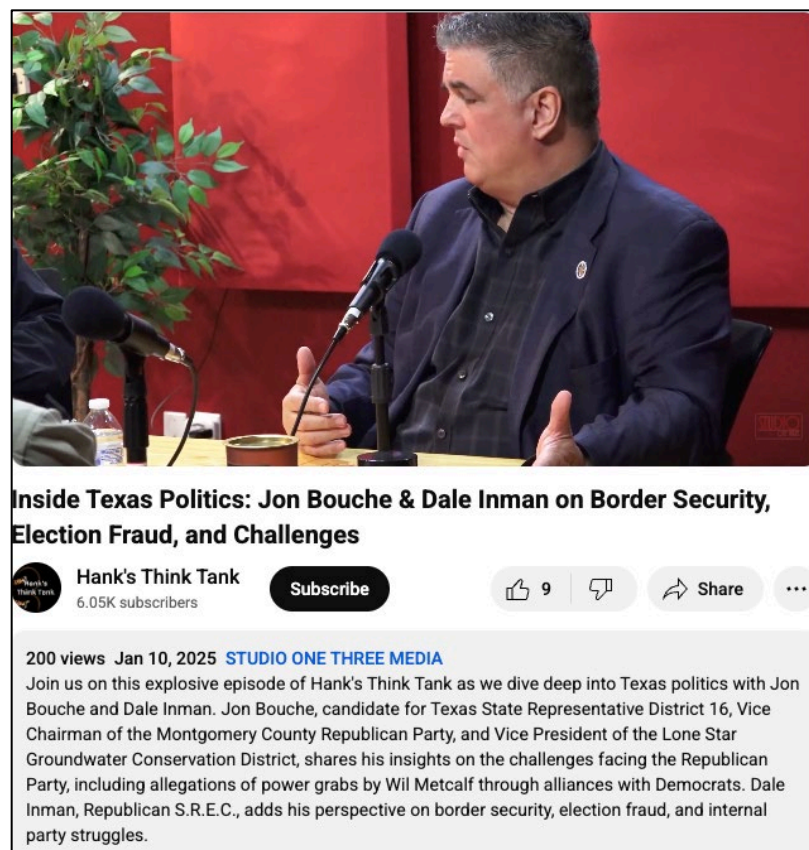

- Bouche (comments begin 24:01): “I don't know enough about that, but I've always been really nervous about blockchain and about cryptocurrency. It's always, it's always seemed very Dungeons and Dragons to me, you know, like, Okay, I'm gonna mine this money.

Where'd it come from? Well, I mined it. Well, what, you know? What's that mean? It's money out of thin air. I think, I think that bubble is going to pop at some point."

- Host: "Well yeah with crypto, but I'm talking about blockchain being used to vote. I think, I think if we use blockchain, it couldn't be beat. I mean, there's no way."
- Bouche: "How would you apply blockchain to that?"
- Host: "Well, it's very complicated, but everybody would be able to vote. That vote could be registered"
- Bouche: "you'd have an audit trail."
- Host: "You'd have a complete audit."
- Bouche: "Well, I would be in favor of whatever would"
- Host: "not only that, but it could never be manipulated, because of the way blockchain set up. It's really, really, really brilliant. Could we apply it to voting? Is the key question. I think it would. Takes some computing power that, yeah, somebody have to pay millions of dollars to set that up"
- Bouche: "But sometimes Hank sometimes the simplest answer is the best answer. I mean, in the countries where they have a thumbprint and you have to show up and vote in person on voting day, they have the least amount of fraud, yeah, you know, sometimes the simplest answer, I mean, there's ocular technology also, yeah, there's a lot of things you can do, but I think people are so suspicious of the government that they don't like giving a lot of personal information."

OTHER

- ◆ Bouche supports unlimited immigration as long as it's done legally. During a January 2025 podcast, Bouche said “I am in favor of everybody that wants to come to this country to contribute I am in favor of everybody that wants to come to this country to contribute... I want everybody here that wants to love and contribute and fight for this country to be here”

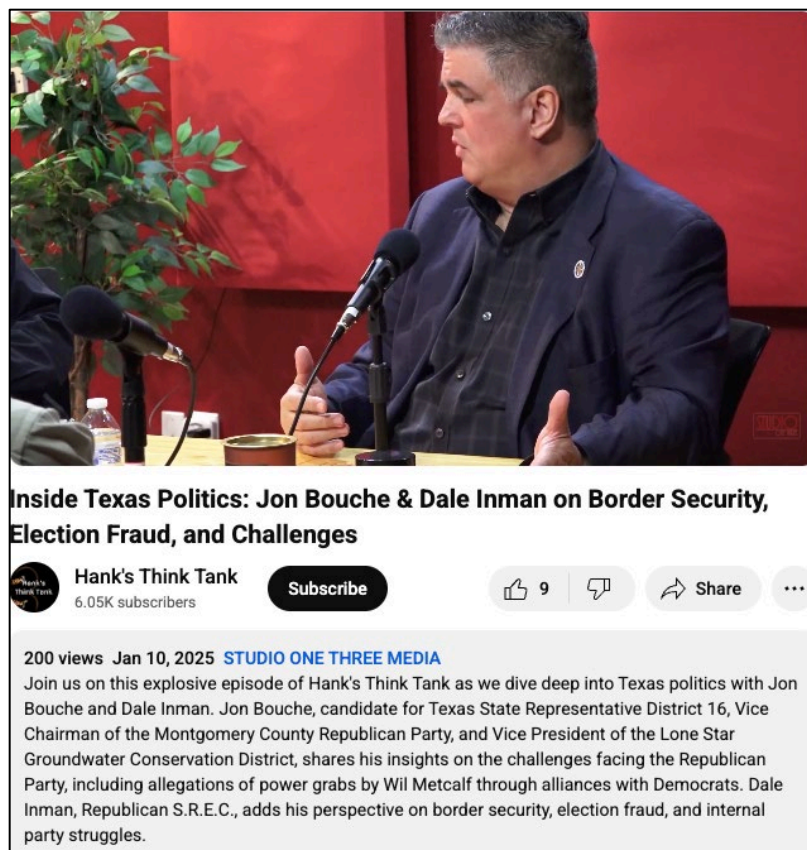

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mrb6zRaxXWE>

- Bouche (comments begin 26:49): “I tell you, somebody asked me one time how I feel about, you know, her legal immigration. And I said, Listen, I am in favor of everybody that wants to come to this country to contribute. We have a legal immigration process. We need to make that, you know, easier for people to navigate at the same time. I am also in favor of when we catch somebody burning down our cities, destroying businesses that are contributing nothing to society, that hate America, loading them on the same bus that these people came in on, and sending them back south so they can experience what they want, the you want to live that life, then you should, you should go there and do that, right? So it's a citizens exchange program that we should, we should probably have. I mean, I want everybody here that wants to love and contribute and fight for this country to be here, you know? And there's a lot of people that are trying to come here legally that are caught up in the system right now, just because we're not efficient in the way that we process"

- ◆ Bouche wants to expand federal control of elections (something the democrats tried to push in 2023). While Bouche wanted tighter controls instead of the Democrats plans to disallow stricter voter ID requirements, turning everything over to the federal government when party control can shift is a dangerous game.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mrb6zRaxXWE>

- Bouche (comments begin 33:57): "2020 was revealing. Also, if you watch what happened in Georgia. There was obvious fraud in Fulton County and everybody involved. I mean, people whistle blowing, saying, I saw it, I know it's there. And they said, Okay, we counted, you know, X amount of ballots. And you go, well, we want that audited. And they fought you, and they fought you. And then you go back finally, and you say, Okay, we counted them again. That's the same number, but that's not an audit. An audit is you go look for how valid each ballot is. It's not you recount the fraud, fraud ballot. So I have another idea. What I'd like to see happen is these election administrators in each state should be held accountable for the evidence the entire I think we should pay them a lot of money, and we should make sure that there's a uniform practice for auditing election results in the states that refuse to follow federal law on how we you know, it says only US citizens can vote for those states. I don't think we should allow their votes to count on the federal level until until they comply with federal election law and. There should be a uniform audit process for all the states you go in. You have to be able to track all the ballots. The ones that you can't account for don't count, basically, until you can verify or contact the voter that cast them. There has to be a way to do that."

- ◆ Hypocrite/RINO: Bouche has contributed to TREPAC (Realtor's PAC) which gave burrows $50,000 on 6/23/2025.

🚩 As your next Texas House District 16 Representative, I will always act with integrity, avoiding corruption, favoritism, and any form of self-enrichment. We should expect that from our public servants.

🏡 Texans should never be forced to fund political agendas they don't support. Often, our hard-earned tax dollars are being used against us by local governments that hire lobbyists who push against conservative values, transparency, and financial accountability.

🗳️ I will fight to require voter approval before any taxpayer money is spent on lobbying. This will restore transparency, respect your First Amendment right to petition your government, and ensure that local officials are accountable to the people—not to special interests or Austin insiders.

Senator Middleton's SB19 Bill to ban Tax Payer funded lobbying has been watered down to ineffectiveness when it was amended by Senator Nichols to exclude TASB and TML.

Those organizations are the two most cited when people talk about why a bill to ban tax payer funded lobbying is desperately needed.

With the carve out by Nichols, SB19 is pretty much worthless and passing it would not fulfill the GOP Legislative Priority of Banning Taxpayer Funded Lobbying.

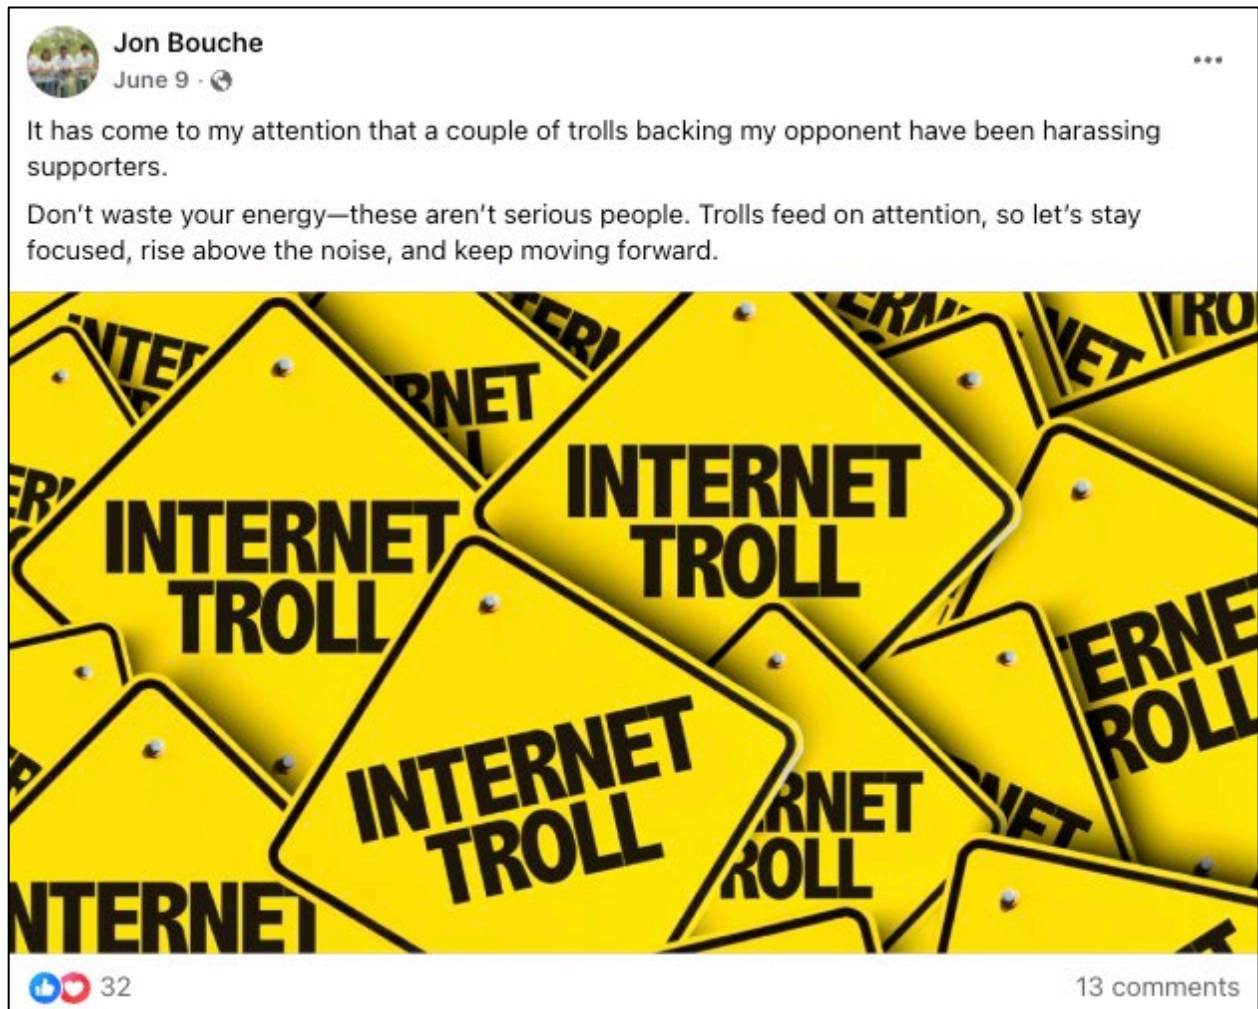

Just more gaslighting from the GOP moderates and their Dem allies.

Friends,

As you already know, I am running in the March 2026 Primary to represent Texas House District 16.

From day one, I'll work with the House Republican Caucus and the Republican Party of Texas to keep the caucus united and advance our shared priorities:

- Eliminate property taxes – Texans should own their homes, not rent them from the government.
- Secure our elections – Every legal vote must count
- Defend the border – Texas must lead where Washington won't.
- Fix the power grid – Reliable energy is essential.

I'm not running to play politics—I'm running to fight for the values that make Texas strong. But I can't do it alone. Winning this race takes a strong grassroots movement—and it starts with you.

Will you chip in today to help keep Texas red and move our conservative agenda forward?

Jon Bouche is one of the most interesting Men I know. This guy has reserve energy like no other. His resume is literally a mile long and is very well known in the Houston Metro area, and a tremendous staple in Montgomery County where and his family reside. You can find him attending local events or even on stage performing as the front man for Johnny and the Spinsations. What can't this guy do!

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IZoNX8wdAcQ>

- ◆ Bouche wants to “abolish” abortion. Bouche does not use this exact language on his platform, instead defining his position as “defend innocent life from conception until natural death.” The abolitionist movement is distinct, and at-odds, with the pro-life movement. The abolitionist movement characterizes the pro-life movement as ineffective and focused on regulating/permitting abortion through things like heartbeat bills.

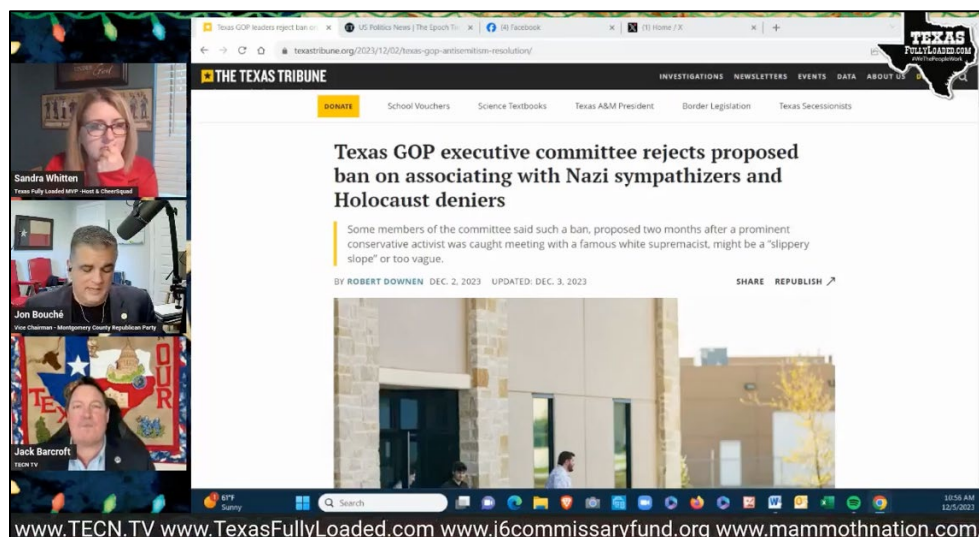

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mrb6zRaxXWE>

- Bouche (segment begins 16:48): “Oh, you know, the usual stuff that Christian conservatives fight for. I'd like, I would like to abolish abortion. I think it's murder. I think it's terrible. You know, the the centrality of family, you know, your faith, individual responsibility, all those things that we we say we believe, as Republicans, and I actually do believe that I fight for unfortunately, I would be in the minority in the house, because it's probably only about 20% of conservatives in the house.”

- ◆ Bouche dismissed the 2023 Stickland/Nick Fuentes meeting.
Bouche (comments at 55:41):

This is the Texas Tribune at rag that left wing rag rejects proposed ban on associating with Nazi sympathizers and Holocaust deniers. It seems right now the thing for the rhinos to do in the party is to call all the Conservatives Holocaust deniers and anti Semites and Nazi sympathizers, etcetera, because they had some contact through Stickland group with a guy who had made some statements at some we still don't even know what the whole story is. And they started calling the local tea party these things because they had contact with someone who had contact with someone who allegedly said something, it's gotten really stupid. And so there was a resolution put before the SREC this week, this past weekend, that's that basically denounced Nazi sympathizer anti semitism. But the RINOs in the group wanted to push it and say and say, We will not tolerate this. Well, the problem you have is, what if you have a next door neighbor and they're a Nazi sympathizer, and they come out in the morning and they say, Good morning, Jack. And you go, yeah, good morning. Well, you just tolerated him, Jack. I mean, how much. I mean, how stupid is this and how blind are people to allow themselves to get sucked into this thing? This is clearly about trying to strip away the funding for any conservative candidate right now.

♦ Bouche “hopes” Israel turns Gaza to “glass” (comments at 59:41):

Bouche: Yeah, but Fuentes is loving this, you know why? Because nobody even knew who the hell he was until all this came out. I've never heard the guy's name before, you know. But look if, if, if the head of Hamas were to call Netanyahu and say, I want to meet with you. Do you think he would meet with him? No, oh, absolutely he would. He certainly would. Netanyahu would meet with the head of Hamas, because it'll be, it'll be suicide for him to not because he would. He would not if he thought there was a way forward to end that conflict by meeting with the guy. He certainly would.

Sandra Whitte: I really hope that they were just going to turn all that into glass and just be done with it and annihilate him like you said he was going to.

Bouche: Well, I hope that. I do hope that is what happens, by the way, but my point is, I look, I the person I'm kind of disappointed in and all of this that could have put all this crap to rest is stickling. I've always liked Stickland, but why didn't Stickland come on and say, here's what the meeting was about. Or I didn't even meet with these people. The guy came in and went into a room and borrowed some workspace for I don't know what happened.

About Jon Bouché
Conservative Leader for Texas

A longtime Montgomery County resident, Jon is a businessman, real estate agent, and dedicated Republican activist. Since moving to the county in 2004, he has been in the trenches for the Republican Party, serving as a Precinct Chairman since 2018 and now as the Montgomery County GOP Vice Chairman, and is known across the state as a prominent, respected leader in the conservative movement.

Jon was the 2019 Republican Party Volunteer of the Year for Senate District 4 and served at the 2022 Texas GOP Convention on the Platform Committee and as Chair of the Criminal and Civil Justice Committee. He served on the Rules Committee at the 2024 State Convention.

A proven, steadfast, America-First leader, Jon Bouché will fight to uphold the conservative values that Montgomery County citizens expect from their representatives. Read Jon's Texas First Agenda. We can trust Jon to fight for our Christian Conservative values—because they are his values, too.

TEXAS FIRST AGENDA

JON BOUCHÉ
FOR
TEXAS HOUSE DISTRICT 16

Texas First Agenda

On DAY ONE as your Texas House District 16 Representative, I will fight to put an end to the games played in the Texas House by the "Uniparty," which has betrayed Republican voters and squandered our hard-earned majority in the Texas House for the last decade.

Texans Deserve REAL Republican Leadership

As your House District 16 Representative, I will work hard to achieve the following initiatives:

SECURE OUR BORDER and all points of entry into Texas.

SAFEGUARD WOMEN AND CHILDREN by ensuring private spaces for them, keeping males out of female sports, and prohibiting gender ideology and grooming in all forms.

DEFEND INNOCENT LIFE from conception until natural death.

IMPROVE EDUCATIONAL OUTCOMES by promoting competition among schooling options, giving parents full control over their children's education, and supporting educators by bringing discipline and common sense back into the classroom.

REQUIRE VOTER APPROVAL FOR TAXPAYER-FUNDED LOBBYING to respect Texans' First Amendment right of redress of their government.

ELIMINATE PROPERTY TAXES to create true home ownership for Texans. Stimulate economic activity by eliminating franchise taxes and business personal property taxes.

IDENTIFY AND VIGOROUSLY RESIST UNCONSTITUTIONAL FEDERAL OVERREACH that usurps the power vested in our state, and infringes upon liberty and the pursuit of happiness of the people.

LIMIT AND CLEARLY DEFINE EXECUTIVE "EMERGENCY POWERS" so that those powers are not abused.

STRENGTHEN ELECTION INTEGRITY by stopping non-citizens from voting in our elections and by increasing penalties for anyone convicted of voter fraud.

UPDATE, STABILIZE, AND SECURE THE TEXAS ENERGY GRID.

PROHIBIT HOSTILE GOVERNMENTS FROM PURCHASING TEXAS LANDS.

PROMOTE TEXAS EXCEPTIONALISM BY ELIMINATING DEI and instituting a merit-based system in all aspects of government at every level.

PROTECT THE CIVIL LIBERTIES OF ALL TEXANS by ending warrantless searches of any kind and discontinuing civil asset forfeiture.

TAKE CARE OF OUR VETERANS and ensure that they have the support they need.

INTRODUCE LEGISLATION FOR A SPEEDY RECALL PROCESS for elected officials who betray their constituents.

FIGHT CASINO GAMBLING to protect citizens from crime and diminished economic prosperity.

A Strong Republican Caucus

Unite, Lead, & Deliver on Legislative Priorities

Republicans must unite in the House if we are to lead our state and deliver on the Republican Legislative Priorities. Our constituents demand this, and they deserve representation. In Austin, I will champion accountability to ensure our priorities are achieved.

Representatives who betray the Republican Caucus and allow Democrats to run the Texas House put all of our Texas GOP Legislative Priorities in jeopardy. If elected, I will advocate for the expulsion of any Republican House member who votes with the Democrats against the Republican Caucus nominee for Speaker of the House.

I will also push for the House Republican Caucus and Republican Party of Texas to immediately issue a joint press release exposing the names of expelled members, followed by an email and texting campaign to the voters in the House Districts of the defectors, letting them know that their Representative is not acting as their voice in the Texas House.

True Representatives will stand with the Republican Caucus to strengthen our shared vision for Texas. We owe it to Texans to follow through on principles of limited government and maximum liberty for every citizen. I am resolved to do just that.

For Liberty,

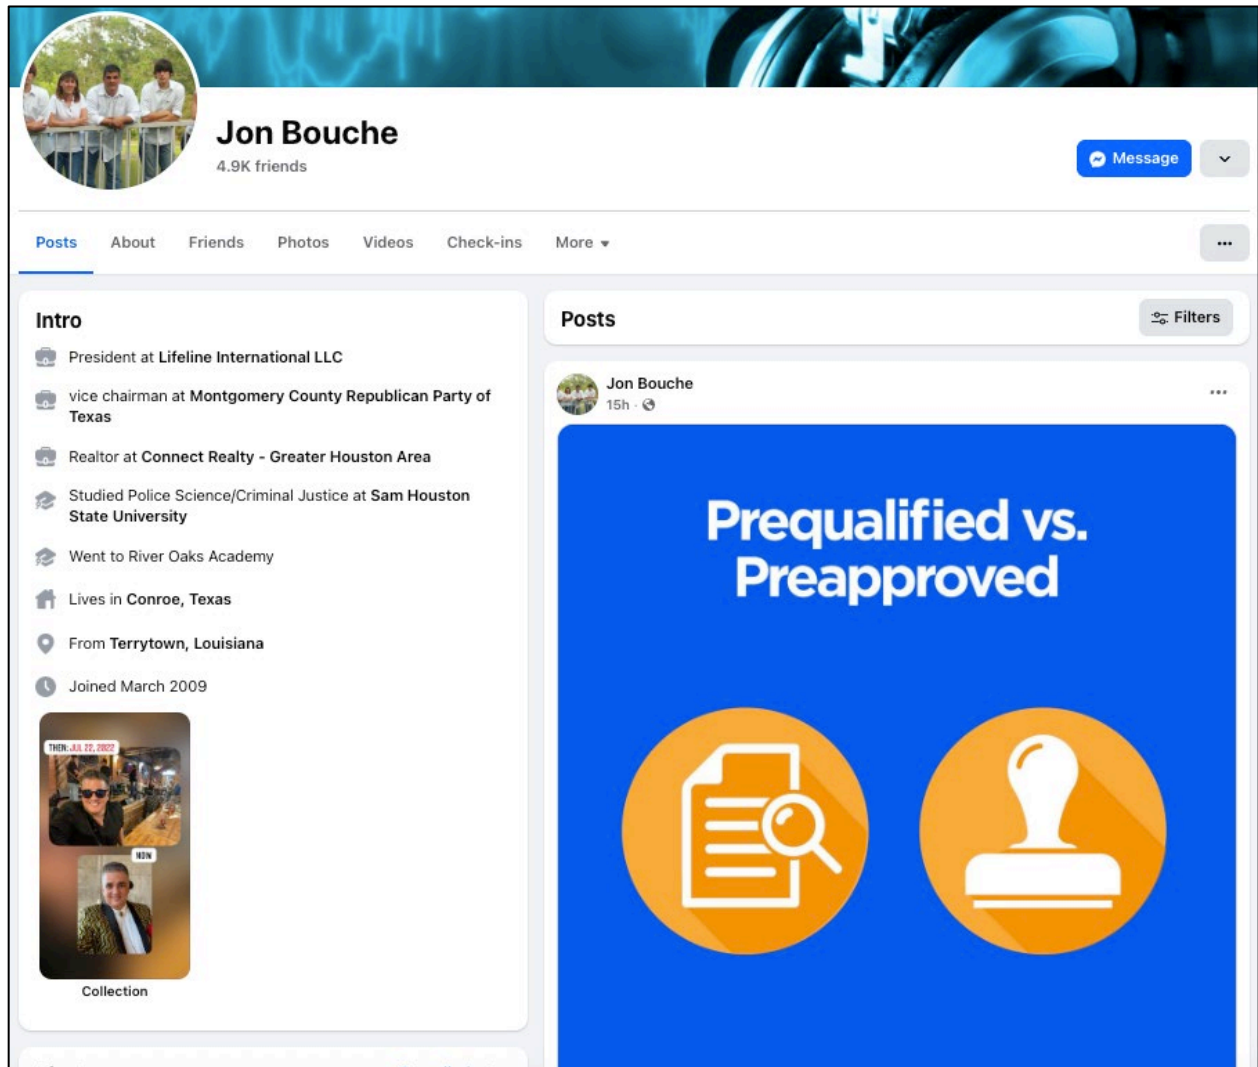

Jon Bouché

Election Integrity is integral to ensuring the representation of our citizens and non-citizens should NEVER be allowed to vote.

I would fight to strictly limit mail-in ballots, requiring an audit trail when used. I would also introduce legislation to make election fraud a first-degree felony and revoke the voting rights of those convicted.

Our freedom and liberty are at stake, and we must shore up our elections.

Join me in this fight! 🇺🇸
