RESEARCH FINDINGS 14

Black is endorsed by CAIR Action Texas, boasting about their endorsement on her website, while categorizing their work as “accountability” advocacy. CAIR (Council on American Islamic Relations) is a radical Muslim group constantly complaining about “Islamophobia” and defending figures like Rashida Tlaib and Ilhan Omar. Gov. Abbott declared CAIR a “Foreign Terrorist and Transnational Criminal Organization.” 15

The Soros candidate, aligned with the radical left. Black is “proud” to have both the “support and endorsement of Run for Something.” Run for Something is a far-left nationwide organization run by a NYC liberal that aims at recruiting and supporting “progressive candidates” and has been favorably described as “building an army of Zohran Mamdani.” Run for Something funnels George Soros’s money into local races, as Soros’s Open Society Foundation gave a whopping $50 million to the group. Run for Something “alumni” include Nithya Raman, who is now running for Los Angeles mayor, and Texas’s very own James Talarico. 25

Black wants to bring her Chicago style politics to Texas. Neither your husband nor you are from Texas. Why did you move here? Black wants to “change Texas” and is endorsed by big teachers’ unions and “progressive” groups like Progress Texas and Vote Save America. 32

Black cites a “health care situation” and went “through a complicated pregnancy” during which she “wasn’t able to find health care in the state...because of the laws.” At the end of her story, she states “We want families, we want just a normal, healthy child, and even when we go through struggles like I did, we can’t even get health care in this state.” Black says this was the “tipping point” that caused her to run for office. 33

Black, a self-described business owner who loaned her own campaign $45,000 and owns three homes – two of them purchased in 2025, is campaigning on the fact she doesn’t have health insurance. 36

Black literally just got here. A Dallas Morning News article states she moved to Texas in 2023. Black graduated from DePaul University in Chicago in June 2024. Black lived in The Colony, Denton County when she first moved in 2023. Black registered to vote in Denton County in August in 2023, but she did not vote at all in Denton County. After purchasing her McKinney home in April 2024, Black registered to vote in Collin County in May 2024. This also means that Black did not vote in the 2024 primary election. 48

In a February 2026 interview with Mothers Against Greg Abbott, Brittany Black was asked what her favorite word is. Black laughed as she said “accountability.” Black has a lengthy record that includes domestic violence, drunk driving, fleeing police, possession of controlled substance, criminal damage to property and many traffic violations. _____ 52

Records show in April 2006, Black refused to pull over causing police officers to chase her at 120 mph as she swerved through traffic – resulting in 2 felony charges and a guilty plea to possession of a controlled substance (a class 4 felony). When she eventually crashed into a ditch, Black admitted to having cocaine in the car. Black was also found with two cell phones and a radar detector. Black was charged with aggravated fleeing police, possession of controlled substance, speeding 40+ over the speed limit, and driving with a suspended license. Does her guilty plea to a felony make her ineligible for office under Texas law? _____ 59

Black claims her experience as a survivor of domestic violence is one of the reasons why she is so opposed to pro-life legislation like HB 9, which restricts abortion pill access. However, in 2006, Black herself was arrested and charged with domestic battery for allegedly assaulting her ex-boyfriend and his mother. Police reports state that Black was “hiding in the bushes” outside her boyfriend’s home and assaulted him by slapping him in the face. According to the report, Black also slapped her ex’s mother in the face and pulled her hair, then refused to leave. Even the witness Black brought with her to the scene stated that Black was “being the aggressive one” and acting “foolish.” The prosecutor dismissed the charges after they couldn’t subpoena victims/witnesses. _____ 72

In 2008, Black was cited for driving on a suspended license twice in two months. This was after previous citations for the same thing in 2006, 2005 and 2004. Following her conviction in 2009, Black was ordered to serve 180 days in Champaign County correctional center (order of incarceration held in remission and stayed until further order of the court), as well as fines, community service and alcohol restrictions. _____ 78

In 2008, police records show that Brittany Black was arrested for “disorderly conduct” in Champaign, Illinois. Black allegedly instigated a drunken fight in the middle of the street, which she lost. The arrest did not result in any court cases that have been identified. _____ 80

In July 2008, a month and half after her disorderly conduct arrest, police records show that Brittany Black was arrested for “criminal damage to property” in Champaign, Illinois. ____ 86

Black’s mother, Toni Griffin, and her mental health counselor, Amy Peck-Carmen, wrote letters to the Champaign County court in 2009, pleading for leniency for Black after her 2008 arrest for driving while license suspended. Both letters claimed that Black was in an abusive relationship to excuse her actions. The counselor admits Black is “no perfect citizen” and has an “inherent impulse with making destructive decisions.” Interestingly, the counselor is convinced that Black is reformed, however she will go on to commit voluntary property destruction, a DUI and more rash speeding violations in the future. Voters should not be so gullible. _____ 90

Black sued Michael Connelly, the same ex-boyfriend she allegedly battered, claiming he owed her money after he became paralyzed and wheelchair bound after a January 2007 accident. The lawsuit was filed in the Fall of 2007 and the court ruled in Black's favor in 2008. Despite the lawsuit, records suggest Black was still dating Connelly. In 2009, when Black's mother pleaded for leniency in a letter to the court, she wrote that Black's former boyfriend was "handicapped/paralyzed" and the many violations she received in 2008 was due to driving him around. _____ 95

Black dated Michael Connelly after he pled guilty to child sex abuse of a teenage girl under 17/older than 13. While the only documented evidence of domestic abuse between Black and Connelly has Black as the abuser, Connelly was charged with domestic battery in 2009 of a different woman. Those charges were dismissed. Given Black's dysfunctional behavior and Connelly's other charges, as well as the 2009 claims from Black's mother and school counselor was in a dangerous relationship, Black's claims that she is a survivor of domestic violence may very well be true. As Black was also charged with domestic battery, voters ought to know the full story if Black chooses to campaign on it. _____ 104

Honestly, Black is lucky to be alive—and that she didn't kill anyone. In December 2012, in the middle of the night, Black was arrested for Driving Under the Influence in Macon County, Illinois. Black was pulled over for speeding and not changing lanes properly; she disobeyed police and was not wearing her seat belt. She failed the field sobriety test and blew a .21 on a breathalyzer test—nearly three times the legal limit. She also had an open container of Seagram's Whiskey in her vehicle. _____ 108

For her 2012 DUI, Black was ordered to complete 20 hours of Substance Abuse Treatment and 100 hours of community service. By 2014, the state filed a petition charging that Black violated her supervision by failing to complete these requirements. _____ 118

Black is campaigning about how she "volunteered and mentored in underprivileged schools." Do they still call it volunteering if it's court ordered? Black did do community service, including at Urbana Middle School, but her time there was used to satisfy court mandated community service after she was convicted of a DUI—an order she did not complete in time. _____ 120

In 2011, Black was arrested again for criminal damage to property, this time in the city of Chicago. Police reports state that witnesses observed Black deliberately smashed window of the front entrance to a residential building at 2 AM. Police records claim Black was "suspected of using" alcohol. The case was dismissed when the complaining witness did not attend court. _____ 125

Black wants to control tax dollars, but she has a history of not paying her bills, even after a court order. In 2010, a debt collection agency had to go to small claims court in Chicago and have Black's wages garnished from her employer, Encyclopedia Britannica, to pay back a claimed debt of $6,651.42. The case was ultimately dismissed without prejudice after Black moved to vacate the judgment alleging she wasn't properly served. _____ 131

In November 2009, Capital One sued Black for $3,698.55; a default judgment was ruled against her. In total, Black paid $4,052.08 and costs. _____ 136

Despite her DUI charge, her controlled substance charge, and court-mandated alcohol/drug probation, social media activity shows Black still drinks. _____ 139

Black: “I rebuilt my life after learning the hard way that it takes strength.” This is the only allusion to her destructive past in Illinois. _____ 143

Weird. Black filed to run for Congress as a Republican in 2025. She claimed it was a mistake and that she didn’t want to run as Republican, and upon more reflection she decided on Texas House and running as a Democrat. In Illinois, Black voted in the 2016 and 2018 Republican primaries. _____ 144

Is Black straight up lying to the public about her opponent? Black on Keresa Richardson: “The current incumbent has only possibly done one real bill, and I think it was to benefit her own business, and for the most part just signs on to whatever she's told.” In the 2025 session, Richardson authored 24 bills and joint-authored 17 additional ones. _____ 147

Black is excited about the demographic changes in Collin County because it will help make the county more competitive for Democrats. _____ 151

Black wants to bring back red light cameras. _____ 152

Black, after dismissing school choice and vouchers, claimed she is running on “freedom in our education system” and that she “want us to be able to send our future children and our current children to whatever school that they want to go to.” Black has firmly stated that she is opposed to school vouchers. _____ 154

Black attacks the Robin Hood recapture program which takes funds from “property wealthy” school districts to help other poorer districts. She mischaracterizes the policy as a “loophole.” _____ 157

Black supports universal free school meals from K-12, regardless of income. _____ 158

Black wants to “end tax subsidies and abatements for large corporations” that play a large role in bringing businesses to Texas in a competitive environment among states. _____ 159

Black supports “community-owned renewable [energy] projects” and redirecting state subsidies away from fossil fuels. _____ 160

Black is bad news for the Second Amendment. Black is “proud to be on the Teachers Unify to End Gun Violence Action Honor Roll!” To get there, Black had to fill out a questionnaire to prove that she supports gun control, commits to listening to their lobbyists and promises to address the “intersectionality” of gun violence and race. _____ 161

Deep thoughts with Brittany... Black: "We've forgotten that we're just all humans at the end of the day. Where did humanity go? Like, I don't even understand how we just can't be humans, how we can't have disagreements and just look at the other side and understand that we can disagree and just still be humans and still talk to each other like normal people." _____ 164

Black moved to Texas in 2023 and to Collin County in 2024, but if you ask her what has she been up to or question why she's running...then you are doing a "purity test." In a short video, Black states she is annoyed by the "same tired question: 'Where have you been the last four years? Why haven't we heard about you?' I was just living my life." _____ 166

Black is weak on election Integrity and wants to undo all the laws and initiatives that prevent voter fraud. Black posted a video complaining about Paxton and Texas going after voter fraud "that barely exists" and how the SAVE Act is taking "the same playbook" nationwide. ____ 167

Black wants to fight "alongside" Jasmine Crockett. Black posted a selfie with Jasmine Crockett during the 2026 Democrat primary, thanking her for "fighting alongside us." When Austin Metcalf was murdered by Karmelo Anthony, Crockett infamously defended Karmelo Anthony. After a jury found Anthony guilty of murder, Crockett decried the verdict as injustice. Crockett suggested she "she also would have stabbed Austin Metcalf." Black also described Crockett as "so gracious." _____ 168

Woke Alert. Black is grateful to be endorsed by Collin County Stonewall Democrats, claiming it gives her a "wider reach." The Collin County Stonewall Dems is a pro-LGBT group that celebrates "Trans Day of Visibility," attacks Christians, supports trans propaganda in schools and libraries, and attacks legislation aimed at protecting girls' sports/bathrooms and preventing mutilation of children through "gender affirming care." _____ 170

Black posts condescending video promoting the LGBT agenda. Black states "I think it's super strange that in 2026 we're still asking whether some people deserve equal rights and basic dignity. LGBTQ+ Texans are our neighbors...and they deserve... to be free to live their lives without being targeted by our government." If you think kids should be protected from transgenderism, you're just trying to score "cheap political points" by targeting a "vulnerable" community. _____ 179

Black made an Instagram post about the death of Afghan "asylum seeker" Mohammad Nazeer Paktiawal who died after being arrested by ICE. Black implies that Paktiawal was just a great dad who helped fight the Taliban and he died to in a unsanitary "detention center." She fails to mention that Paktiawal was indicted for committing SNAP benefits fraud and while awaiting trial was also arrested for theft and leaves out other details to gin up resentment towards ICE. _____ 180

Confused messaging. On December 12, 2025, Black posted a video on Instagram supporting rising home values as "protecting homeowners long term investment," arguing it's a reason why we need good public schools. On the very same day, the next video she released complained about rising housing costs making life unaffordable. So which is it? Do you want home prices to go up or down Brittany? Also, if good public schools raise property values, but Republicans have destroyed Collin County public schools, then why are property values rising? _____ 184

Black claims she wants transparency and accountability. _____ 186

She did the meme. Black posted a “POV” post (point-of-view) when the angle wasn’t POV but included her whole body in it. _____ 188

In an attempt to appear relatable, Black states in February 2026 that she looks at her property tax bills and year after year it gets higher: “every year I open my property tax bill and every year it gets higher.” The problem is Black bought her home in 2024, 2025 was the first full year of her owning her home. _____ 190

Black tells voters she is just like them by saying McKinney public schools are “gonna be my kids’ school.” _____ 191

Black didn’t even vote in the 2025 constitutional amendment election. During the election, voters approved property tax cuts for homeowners and businesses; funding for water, higher education, and dementia research; tax credit/exemptions for veteran families, border security, animal feed and victims of house fires; as well as constitutional protections against capital gains and death taxes. _____ 192

It appears that Black is currently unemployed. She has an updated resume on Indeed seeking employment. Her last employer was USI Insurance Services. _____ 195

According to her resume, Black spent nearly 8 years at the Riverside Research Institute as a “Senior Frontend Software Engineer.” According to their own website, Riverside “is a nonprofit organization chartered to advance scientific research for the benefit of the U.S. government and in the public interest. We deliver innovative solutions for many of the defense and intelligence communities’ most difficult challenges.” In her campaign, Black seems to have “simplified” things, telling voters, “I worked for the Defense Department for 8 years.” ____ 198

Black claims that she “builds businesses” and has experience working for NASA and Department of Defense. A recent updated resume makes no mention of government contracts with NASA, DOD or any government entity except for Iowa’s Department of Health & Human Resources, work Black received as a contract employee of an IT vendor, not through her own business. The only “business” identified with Black is BNR Ventures LLC, which is the entity she uses to own a second home/rental property in Wood County. _____ 204

In a zoom call interview, Black boldly proclaimed: “there’s nobody better that’s going to be able to represent this district better than me. My values align perfectly.” _____ 214

Black wants to push more “mixed income housing” into your neighborhood. _____ 215

Black met her now husband, Kye Reczek when he was working as a mailman in Illinois delivering mail to her house. Both were living in Illinois at the time. They married in October 2025 in Dallas. Reczek is Black's campaign treasurer. _____ 218

Black's husband, Kye Reczek, was an aspiring male model who did a shirtless photo shoot with an erotic photographer. Reczek also posted professional photos with hashtags #malemodels #iron #male #guys #man #men #ironworks. _____ 220

Did Brittany turn Kye into a liberal? Black's husband, Kye Reczek, reposted a video of musician Upchurch defending confederate statues from the BLM mobs in 2017. In 2016, he also posted a video of a black man calling out BLM and the narrative around Ferguson riots. He also shared a Tomi Lahren rant during her heydays in 2015 against "radical Islam." _____ 222

At the same time she became a candidate for office, Black deleted her personal Instagram posts, and renamed her page to Brittanyfortexas. The only Facebook page identifiable to her was created in December 2025. _____ 224

Embarrassing and insensitive Venmo transactions. Black's public Venmo activity between her now husband and some of her friends include payments labeled: "strippers and blow;" "your 3 day old panties;" "Merry Kwanza;" "2-time poke and choke" and "midget money." Reczek also paid Black for "Thank you for buying lunch for everyone. But you didn't have to scream the N-word after we ate it..." and another transaction for "Mexicans." Another transaction appears to mock the handicapped. _____ 228

WHY BRITTANY IS RUNNING

A Leader for District 61

Brittany is running for Texas House District 61 because too many families are paying more and getting less, and too many decisions are being made without listening to the people who live here. She believes we deserve leadership that reflects our values, understands real-world problems, and delivers results that strengthen our communities for the next generation.

Schools are closing, costs keep rising, and decisions are made without transparency. Brittany is a senior software engineer and business owner where she fixes broken systems for a living. Her work has spanned projects supporting national defense and critical infrastructure for the Department of Defense, NASA, and the State Department. Brittany is running to strengthen public schools, make life more affordable, and protect Texans with honest, accountable leadership.

When the extremes win, we all lose.

Research Findings

Black is endorsed by CAIR Action Texas, boasting about their endorsement on her website, while categorizing their work as “accountability” advocacy. CAIR (Council on American Islamic Relations) is a radical Muslim group constantly complaining about “Islamophobia” and defending figures like Rashida Tlaib and Ilhan Omar. Gov. Abbott declared CAIR a “Foreign Terrorist and Transnational Criminal Organization.”

- ◆ Black proudly displays her endorsement by CAIR Action Texas on her campaign website, which she categorizes as an “accountability” group.

<https://brittanyfortexas.com/#about>

- ◆ Black also shared a post on Instagram from CAIR endorsing her:

https://www.instagram.com/p/DU8_Td7jP7e/

- ♦ CAIR has a cushy relationship with Ilhan Omar who speaks at their events to rile up Muslims and accuses Americans of being “Islamophobic.”

Ilhan Omar Says Trump 'Fuels Hate Against Muslims' At CAIR Banquet

March 25, 2019 / 11:39 AM CDT / CBS Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS (WCCO) – Rep. Ilhan Omar continued her criticism of President Donald Trump and Israel while speaking at a banquet over the weekend in California.

The Minnesota Democrat was invited to address the Council on American-Islamic Relations in Los Angeles.

During a speech, she said that the week following the massacre in New Zealand has been difficult for Muslims around the world. In the attack, dozens of people were shot and killed in mosques during morning prayers.

She said that Trump, who was mentioned in the suspected gunman's online manifesto, "fuels hate against Muslims." Additionally, she encouraged Muslims to stand up to discrimination, reports say.

Omar also addressed her criticism of Israel, according to reports. Without naming the country, she said her repeated criticisms stem from concerns over human rights violations.

- ◆ CAIR celebrated Rashida Tlaib's win:

CAIR-Chicago Congratulates Rashida Tlaib, First Muslim Woman to Win a Congressional Seat

(CHICAGO, IL, 8/08/2018) – The Chicago office of the Council on American-Islamic Relations (CAIR-Chicago) congratulates Rashida Tlaib on being the first Muslim woman elected to the United States Congress. Tlaib, who formerly held a seat in the Michigan House of Representatives, will represent the constituents of the 13th Congressional District, fighting at the federal level for access to quality education, healthcare, and a clean environment; and against the rising atmosphere of hate, bigotry, divisiveness and the scapegoating of minorities. She is a strong advocate for the Arab and Muslim American communities and her win does more than provide tough, smart representation for her constituency, it opens doors for Muslim Americans to run for office around the country.

"Rashida Tlaib's historic victory comes at a time when we are facing increasingly loud voices telling us that we do not belong," Ahmed Rehab, Executive Director of CAIR-Chicago, said. "Rashida not only proved that untrue, but she proved that you do not have to compromise on who you are to earn the confidence of your fellow Americans, that the merit of your ideas are what ultimately count – as they should."

Tlaib is one of over 90 Muslims running for office in the 2018 election year. Of those was Abdul El-Sayed, who ran and came in second in the primary for Michigan Governor.

"Abdul may have lost his primary but his courageous trailblazing run was a win in that he inspired a record-breaking voter turnout, energized Michiganders who had given up on politics, brought attention to healthcare and education- and he is just getting started," Rehab stated. "He ran as a brown, Arab, Muslim male, possibly the least accepted profile in US politics, and still managed to go far, winning the love and respect of many constituents and dealing a heavy blow to that last of glass ceilings."

CAIR Chicago, Press Release 08/08/2018

- ◆ In November 2025, Gov. Abbott signed a proclamation declaring CAIR, along with the Muslim Brother Hood as a “Foreign Terrorist and Transnational Criminal Organization.” Abbott lists many reasons for the designation and claims Texas law gives him the authority to make such a designation. Abbott cites leadership of CAIR by name; below are some excerpts from the proclamation:

Dear Secretary Nelson:

Pursuant to his powers as Governor of the State of Texas, Greg Abbott has issued the following:

A proclamation designating the Muslim Brotherhood and CAIR as Foreign Terrorist and Transnational Criminal Organizations under the Texas Penal and Texas Property Codes.

The original proclamation is attached to this letter of transmittal.

WHEREAS, the Council on American-Islamic Relations (“CAIR”) is an Islamist organization that, according to the Federal Bureau of Investigations (“FBI”), was founded as a “front group” for “ Hamas and its support network” in the United States; and

WHEREAS, the Program on Extremism at George Washington University, America’s leading academic research center on extremism, reports that CAIR is an example of conscious efforts by “the US-based Hamas network to regenerate itself” and continue acting “under new guises” in the United States based on Hamas’s “need to camouflage the identity of the new organization”; and

WHEREAS, Nihad Awad, the Executive Director of CAIR, has boasted that American Muslims are “ready to move to the next phase,” and that within the next 15 years the Muslim community “will have 50,000—an army—of these people” who “will design [Islam’s] image, protect the truth and the news, ... many of these people will run for public office, and they will become lawmakers” to advance Sharia law in America; and

WHEREAS, CAIR was named an “unindicted co-conspirator” in one of the largest successful prosecutions of terrorism financing in United States history, where internal documents plainly identified CAIR as a subsidiary of the Muslim Brotherhood and a federal court eventually found “ample evidence to establish” that CAIR was associated “with Hamas,” United States v. Holy Land Found. for Relief & Dev., No. 3:04-cv-240, 2009 WL 10680203, at *7–8 (N.D. Tex. July 1, 2009); and

WHEREAS, CAIR and its members have repeatedly employed, affiliated with, and supported individuals promoting terrorism-related activities, including:

- Ghassan Elashi, a founding board member of the Texas branch for CAIR and Treasurer of the Holy Land Foundation for Relief and Development, who was sentenced to a total of 65 years in prison for financing terrorism in 2009;
- Abdurahman Alamoudi, a speaker at a CAIR-sponsored anti-Israel rally in Washington, D.C., in October 2000, who proudly proclaimed himself to be a “supporter[] of Hamas” and “a supporter of Hizballah” and who was later convicted as a terrorist for funding Al Qaeda;
- Randall Todd Royer, a communications specialist and civil rights coordinator for CAIR, who was sentenced to 20 years in prison on April 9, 2004, for conspiring to aid Al Qaeda and the Taliban;
- Bassem Khafagi, a community relations director for CAIR, who pleaded guilty to federal bank and visa fraud in 2003 after funneling money to terrorist causes and publishing material advocating suicide attacks against the United States;
- Rabih Haddad, a CAIR fundraiser, who was arrested and deported for his work as Executive Director of the Global Relief Foundation, which was closed by the United States Department of Treasury in October 2002 for financing Al Qaeda;
- Muthanna al-Hanooti, a Director for CAIR in Michigan, who was convicted and sentenced to prison in 2011 for violating United States sanctions against Iraq by accepting “two million barrels of Iraqi oil” in exchange for helping Saddam Hussein’s government;
- Sami Al-Arian, a convicted terrorist and Palestinian Islamic Jihad financier, whom CAIR publicly honored with its “Promoting Justice Award” in 2014 and whom it featured in a 2020 lecture in which he stressed his desire “to promote” CAIR and “support [it] financially” as “the first defense” in America; and
- Nihad Awad, CAIR’s current Executive Director, who on November 24, 2023, publicly praised and supported Hamas’s October 7, 2023, attack against Israel, saying he “was happy to see” the assault which involved the kidnapping and murder of American citizens; and

WHEREAS, the FBI suspended formal contacts with CAIR in 2008 and the Biden Administration “removed CAIR’s name” from certain online documents in 2023 “to make clear it was distancing itself from the organization”; and

WHEREAS, I, Greg Abbott, Governor of Texas, signed House Bill 45 from the 85th Texas Legislature, Regular Session, into law on June 14, 2017, to prohibit the enforcement of foreign laws in Texas, including Sharia law; and

WHEREAS, I, Greg Abbott, Governor of Texas, signed House Bill 4211 from the 89th Texas Legislature, Regular Session, into law on June 20, 2025, to ban residential property developments from creating exclusionary compounds, including Muslim-only compounds in the State of Texas; and

WHEREAS, I, Greg Abbott, Governor of Texas, signed Senate Bill 17 from the 89th Texas Legislature, Regular Session, into law on June 20, 2025, to prohibit foreign adversaries, including Transnational Criminal Organizations and their affiliated members, from purchasing or acquiring land in the State of Texas; and

WHEREAS, Texas Penal Code § 71.01(e) provides that a Foreign Terrorist Organization “means three or more persons operating as an organization at least partially outside the United States who engage in criminal activity and threaten the security of this state or its residents ...”; and

WHEREAS, Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code § 125.065 authorizes suit against a Foreign Terrorist Organization to enjoin its operations and “impos[e] other reasonable requirements to prevent the ... organization from engaging in future gang activities”; and

WHEREAS, Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code § 125.066 provides that violation of such an injunctive order is subject to pain of contempt, punishable by monetary fines and imprisonment; and

WHEREAS, Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code § 125.064(b) further authorizes suit against “[a]ny person who habitually associates with others to engage in gang activity as a member of,” or “who owns or is responsible for maintaining a place that is habitually used for engaging in gang activity” by, a Foreign Terrorist Organization, and provides that such a person may be subject to the aforementioned penalties; and

WHEREAS, Texas Property Code § 5.253 prohibits certain hostile foreign actors from purchasing or acquiring an interest in land in Texas; and

WHEREAS, Texas Property Code § 5.254(a) authorizes the Governor to “designate ... a transnational criminal organization or other entity” as subject to § 5.253’s prohibition on foreign nationals or foreign controlled entities purchasing or acquiring an interest in land in Texas; and

WHEREAS, Texas Property Code § 5.251(7) provides that Transnational Criminal Organization means “two or more persons: (A) who are citizens of or domiciled in a designated country; (B) with an identifiable leadership who operate internationally; and (C) who continuously or regularly associate to engage in corruption, violence, or the commission of other criminal activities”; and

WHEREAS, Texas Property Code § 5.253(2)(D) provides that a prohibited entity includes “a company or organization that is ... designated by the governor”; and

WHEREAS, the Governor has consulted with the Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety and the Homeland Security Council as directed by Texas Property Code § 5.254;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, GREG ABBOTT, Governor of Texas, under the authority vested in me by the Constitution and Statutes of the State of Texas, do hereby:

- (1) Designate both the Muslim Brotherhood and its successor organization CAIR as Foreign Terrorist Organizations under Texas Penal Code § 71.01(e), and thereby subject those organizations, and any persons promoting or aiding their criminal activities, to the heightened penalties authorized by Chapter 125 of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code; and
- (2) Designate both the Muslim Brotherhood and its successor organization CAIR as Transnational Criminal Organizations and proscribed entities under Texas Property Code § 5.254(a)(2)(A), and thereby subject those organizations, and their affiliates and members, to Chapter 5 of the Texas Property Code, which prohibits them from purchasing or acquiring land in Texas.

I HEREBY DIRECT that a copy of this proclamation be filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name and have officially caused the Seal of State to be affixed at my office in the City of Austin, Texas, this the 18th day of November, 2025.

Attorney General Ken Paxton Takes Legal Action in Lawsuit Involving the Terrorist Organization CAIR

Attorney General Ken Paxton has taken legal action to defend Texas's lawful designation of the Muslim Brotherhood and the Council on American-Islamic Relations ("CAIR") as foreign terrorist organizations under Texas law.

In a Proclamation on November 18, 2025, Governor Greg Abbott declared the Muslim Brotherhood and CAIR "foreign terrorist organizations" and "transnational criminal organizations." The Dallas Fort Worth and Austin CAIR chapters then sued the State, claiming that the Proclamation "chilled" their First Amendment right to free speech. Attorney General Paxton's office has now filed a response, noting in part that the local CAIR councils rely entirely on speculative claims and political disagreement with the State's national security determinations and laws, leaving their argument baseless.

"Radical Islamist terrorist groups are anti-American, and the infiltration of these dangerous individuals into Texas must be stopped," said Attorney General Paxton. "My office will continue to defend the Governor's lawful, accurate declaration that CAIR is an FTO, as well as Texas's right to protect itself from organizations with documented ties to foreign extremist movements."

CAIR has been designated as a foreign terrorist organization not only by Texas, but also by the State of Florida and the United Arab Emirates and has been labeled by an FBI special agent as a "front group for Hamas." Attorney General Paxton will continue to work to identify and combat foreign terrorist and transnational criminal organizations that threaten public safety, American values, and national security.

February 05, 2026 | Press Release

Attorney General Ken Paxton Sues the Muslim Brotherhood and CAIR to Stop the Terrorist Groups from Operating in Texas

Attorney General Ken Paxton filed a lawsuit against the Muslim Brotherhood, the Council on American-Islamic Relations (“CAIR”), and CAIR’s Austin, Houston, and DFW chapters to ban the terrorist organizations from operating in Texas and to stop their violent ideology from spreading across the state.

The Muslim Brotherhood is a radical terrorist organization that exists to usurp governmental power and establish dominion through sharia law. For three decades, it has covertly operated in the United States under the name “CAIR”—the Council on American-Islamic Relations—as its American chapter. The terrorist ties are unquestionable. For example, CAIR-Texas’s founding board member was convicted in 2008 of funneling $12.4 million to Hamas through the Holy Land Foundation, and CAIR was named an unindicted co-conspirator in that case. As the lawsuit notes, CAIR is undeniably the American face of an international terrorist organization.

The Muslim Brotherhood and its American chapter, CAIR, are in violation of a number of state laws, including Texas’s ban on any entity engaging in terrorism, Texas’s prohibition of transnational criminal organizations owning property, and public nuisance statutes barring radical groups from engaging in gang activities.

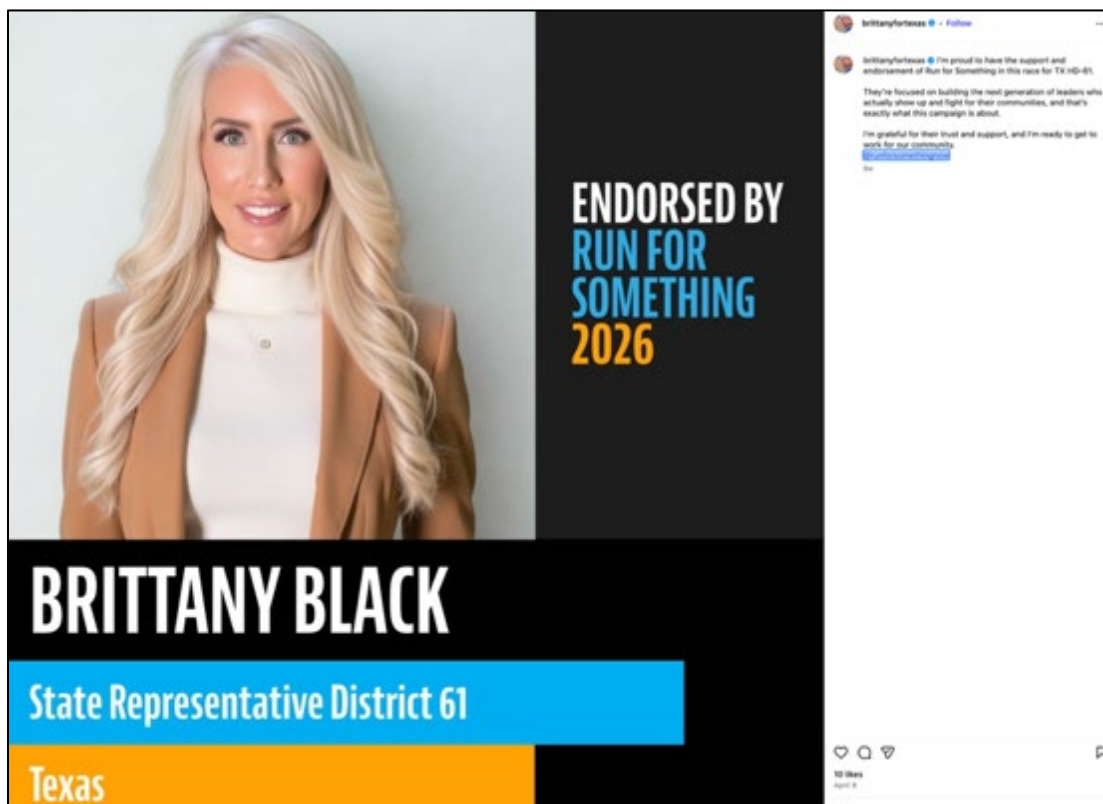

“Sharia law and the jihadists who follow sharia law have no business being in Texas,” said Attorney General Paxton. “I am in full support of Governor Abbott’s lawful declaration that CAIR and the Muslim Brotherhood are foreign terrorist organizations, and it’s imperative that they are stopped from operating in Texas. Radical Islamic terrorists are antithetical to law and order, endanger the people of Texas, and are an existential threat to our values.”

Attorney General Paxton’s lawsuit seeks to end the operations of the Muslim Brotherhood and its American chapter, CAIR, in Texas, including prohibiting the organizations and their affiliates from owning property in the state or soliciting or recruiting members.

The Soros candidate, aligned with the radical left. Black is “proud” to have both the “support and endorsement of Run for Something.” Run for Something is a far-left nationwide organization run by a NYC liberal that aims at recruiting and supporting “progressive candidates” and has been favorably described as “building an army of Zohran Mamdanis.” Run for Something funnels George Soros’s money into local races, as Soros’s Open Society Foundation gave a whopping $50 million to the group. Run for Something “alumni” include Nithya Raman, who is now running for Los Angeles mayor, and Texas’s very own James Talarico.

◆ Run For Something is run by Amanda Litman of Brooklyn:

Amanda Litman is the co-founder and president of Run for Something, which recruits and supports young, diverse progressives running for down-ballot office. Since launching on Inauguration Day 2017, RFS has built the largest progressive candidate pipeline in the country, electing more than 1,650 leaders across nearly all 50 states — mostly women and people of color. She is also president of RFS Civics, a 501(c)(3) focused on ending the gerontocracy in American politics.

She is the author of two books: When We're in Charge: The Next Generation's Guide to Leadership (Zando/Crooked Media Reads, 2025), named a best business book by the Financial Times and endorsed by Adam Grant, Ilana Glazer, Jon Favreau, and Anne Helen Petersen; and Run for Something: A Real-Talk Guide to Fixing the System Yourself (Atria, 2017), with a foreword by Hillary Rodham Clinton.

Before launching Run for Something, Litman served as National Email Director for Hillary Clinton's 2016 presidential campaign, where she oversaw a digital fundraising operation that raised $330 million from more than 3 million donors. She previously served as digital director for Charlie Crist's 2014 Florida gubernatorial campaign and deputy email director for Organizing for Action. She holds a B.A. in American Studies from Northwestern University.

Politico named her one of 50 Ideas driving American politics (2018). Bloomberg named her one of the people to watch (2019). Fortune included her on their 40 Under 40 list (2020). She was named to Time's Next 100 in 2022, was a 2022 Dial Fellow at the Emerson Collective, and is a 2025/2026 Obama Foundation USA Leader.

She lives in Brooklyn with her husband, two daughters, and their rowdy rescue dog.

- ◆ Run for Something has received $50 million in Soros money to push their radical agenda:

“Ensuring that all communities have the tools they need to maximize both individual and collective engagement in our society creates a more vibrant American democracy for everyone. This historic investment will help ensure that the voices of women and our young people are heard, valued, and included in this critical work,” said Leah Daughtry, a co-convenor of Power Rising, an organization that seeks to advance racial, gender, and social justice on a nonpartisan basis.

“Run for Something Action Fund is so grateful to Open Society Policy Center for its sustained investment in our nonpartisan work recruiting and supporting thousands of young diverse leaders running for state and local office,” said Amanda Litman, co-executive director of Run for Something. “The millennial and Gen Z leaders we recruit, who are a majority women and a majority people of color, are doing the hard work of engaging their communities and rebuilding our democracy from the ground up. Their leadership has never been more important as they fight to protect and expand abortion access, stop book bans, and engage young voters in authentic ways. We'll have their back; we're so glad OSPC has ours.”

“The Open Society Foundations’ generous commitment of $50 million ignites an unprecedented pathway for youth and women's activism. This is more than funding; it’s a resounding vote of confidence in our young and women changemakers’ untapped potential and visionary power,” said Dakota Hall, the executive director of the Alliance for Youth Action. “As we embrace this transformative moment, we’re not just part of history but actively forging it. This investment is a call to action, ushering in an era where silenced voices take the lead, and our collective organizing shapes a future with limitless possibilities.”

Run for Something Alumni Are Running for Higher Office

More than 20 Democrats under the age of 40 are running for Congress — and nearly half of them are RFS alumni

“This is exactly what Run for Something was built to do—identify, recruit, and support young people to run for local office so they can become our next generation of leaders,” said Amanda Litman, co-founder and President of Run for Something. “Our alumni are proving that when you invest in emerging leaders early, they don’t just stay in office—they rise.”

In the last two weeks alone, at least five candidates who have previously earned RFS’ endorsement announced runs. That includes: Texas State Rep. James Talarico, who entered the Democratic primary to challenge GOP incumbent Sen. John Cornyn. Talarico, known for his thoughtful leadership and bipartisan work in the Texas House, has long been a rising star in Texas politics.

From city halls to state legislatures, these leaders have proven that local service is the most powerful training ground. What began as a direct response to the chaos of Trump’s first term has evolved into a full-blown pipeline of next-generation leadership. Today, Run for Something’s total pipeline includes over 230,000 future leaders who are running to govern, to lead, and to win. And since Trump was elected in November, over 67,000 people have raised their hands to explore a run—more people than signed up during all four years of Trump’s first term.

Black cites a “health care situation” and went “through a complicated pregnancy” during which she “wasn't able to find health care in the state...because of the laws.” At the end of her story, she states “We want families, we want just a normal, healthy child, and even when we go through struggles like I did, we can't even get health care in this state.” Black says this was the “tipping point” that caused her to run for office.

- ◆ Black joined Jeff Crilley, who told her to talk about the “health care situation” she had to deal with. Black talks about how she went “through a complicated pregnancy” during which she “wasn't able to find health care in the state...because of the laws.” She provides little detail about how an abortion was necessary.

CRILLEY: Well, you were telling me a story before we started rolling about a health care situation...

BLACK: right, so the tipping point for me for actually deciding to get into the state legislature. I went last year without health insurance, actually still don't have health insurance, and even as I work full time and a business owner, this can affect anybody. So I'm not your typical person who doesn't have health insurance, and I went through a complicated pregnancy where my medical struggles, I wasn't able to find health care in the state, somebody who would treat me, and that's because of the laws. The laws of this state are so strict that even someone like myself, who was losing a child, losing, you know, my, it would have been my first born, I couldn't even get treatment in the state, and then after that happened, I thought about so many other women who were going through that struggle or couldn't leave the state for healthcare, couldn't afford the care that I eventually got, and what they're going through, and then talk to other women too, who had to go into a coma before they could get treatment, and there's just so many stories like that, and no one's listening to us. No one cares about these struggles. They only care about this restricted abortion ban, and they don't think about the complications it causes. Just normal women, and who are trying to get pregnant and live— We want families, we want just a normal, healthy child, and even when we go through struggles like I did, we can't even get health care in this state.

- ◆ In her interview with "Mothers Against Greg Abbott," she explained why she was running for office by stating she lost a baby last year without healthcare. Towards the end of her answer she mentions the "what made that difficult decision difficult for me last year is what made me feel the need":

[timestamp 0:28] I fell in love with McKinney, my husband and I, because we love the community, and now I feel like we need to fight to save its future. There's a little story I have about someone in this community that's a business owner. She also works full time, and she went all last year without health care. Actually, she got pregnant without health care, and she lost a child without health care. And I think that's one of the scariest moments someone can face here in Texas, right now, plot twist, that was actually me. So, why I'm running is because right now I don't think there's any accountability or transparency, and I don't think we should be able to, we should be living in a place where you're scared to have a family, or you, you don't have access to health care, and these are simple things. We live in one of the highest income districts in North Texas, in Texas, and yet we're struggling with housing, healthcare, and just simple, basic human things. And that was kind of the.. that's where I drew my line and thought there's nobody better that's going to be able to represent this district better than me. My values align perfectly. We need fresh leadership, and that's my experiences, and what made that difficult decision difficult for me last year is what made me feel the need and compelled to come in and try to help my community.

- ◆ Both the Wood County and Broken Bow, OK properties were purchase in 2025.
- ◆ In her interview with “Mothers Against Greg Abbott,” Black tells a “little story” about how she didn’t have health insurance last year, implying that she was struggling to afford it:

[timestamp 0:28] I fell in love with McKinney, my husband and I, because we love the community, and now I feel like we need to fight to save its future. There's a little story I have about someone in this community that's a business owner. She also works full time, and she went all last year without health care. Actually, she got pregnant without health care, and she lost a child without health care. And I think that's one of the scariest moments someone can face here in Texas, right now, plot twist, that was actually me. So, why I'm running is because right now I don't think there's any accountability or transparency, and I don't think we should be able to, we should be living in a place where you're scared to have a family, or you, you don't have access to health care, and these are simple things. We live in one of the highest income districts in North Texas, in Texas, and yet we're struggling with housing, healthcare, and just simple, basic human things. And that was kind of the.. that's where I drew my line and thought there's nobody better that's going to be able to represent this district better than me. My values align perfectly. We need fresh leadership, and that's my experiences, and what made that difficult decision difficult for me last year is what made me feel the need and compelled to come in and try to help my community.

Black literally just got here. A Dallas Morning News article states she moved to Texas in 2023. Black graduated from DePaul University in Chicago in June 2024. Black lived in The Colony, Denton County when she first moved in 2023. Black registered to vote in Denton County in August in 2023, but she did not vote at all in Denton County. After purchasing her McKinney home in April 2024, Black registered to vote in Collin County in May 2024. This also means that Black did not vote in the 2024 primary election.

- ◆ Dallas Morning News states that Black moved in 2023: “Champaign County, Ill., where Black lived before she moved to Texas in 2023.”
- ◆ According to Texas Secretary of State voting records, Black registered to vote in Texas in 2024:

In a February 2026 interview with Mothers Against Greg Abbott, Brittany Black was asked what her favorite word is. Black laughed as she said “accountability.” Black has a lengthy record that includes domestic violence, drunk driving, fleeing police, possession of controlled substance, criminal damage to property and many traffic violations.

◆ Black (segment begins 10:00): “My favorite word. Accountability...

I think it encompasses so many things that we need right now, and also how I feel in my life. You know, every day I make myself accountable for everything that needs to get done, and you know, other people, if necessary, I carry that, that weight in my family, just like I will carry that weight in office, and it's something that I think we're lacking so much, not only sometimes in our political leadership, but also sometimes in our community members, so I think that's one thing that I'm really trying to bridge the gap and let us know that it's people over politics, and that we need to come together more than ever, because it's not left versus right, and we are all on the same team, the working class team, and if we come together as a community and are accountable for each other and ourselves, then we can definitely overcome the challenges that we've been having,

Records show in April 2006, Black refused to pull over causing police officers to chase her at 120 mph as she swerved through traffic – resulting in 2 felony charges and a guilty plea to possession of a controlled substance (a class 4 felony). When she eventually crashed into a ditch, Black admitted to having cocaine in the car. Black was also found with two cell phones and a radar detector.

Black was charged with aggravated fleeing police, possession of controlled substance, speeding 40+ over the speed limit, and driving with a suspended license.

Does her guilty plea to a felony make her ineligible for office under Texas law?

◆ The incident led to these charges in Johnson County, Illinois.

PLEA OF GUILTY

I understand that I am charged with committing a criminal offense(s). The nature of the offense(s) and the possible penalties have been explained to me and I have received a copy of the charges(s). I have been advised of my right to remain silent and my right to an attorney. I understand that if I cannot afford an attorney one would be appointed to represent me. I understand that I have the right to confront the witnesses against me and the right to subpoena witnesses. I understand that I have a right to a prompt and public jury trial.

☒ I am represented by an attorney and have had sufficient time to consult with my attorney prior to entering this Plea of Guilty.

☐ I wish to waive my right to an attorney and proceed without an attorney in this matter.

I understand that if I enter a plea of guilty I am giving up many of these rights. I am specifically giving up my right to a jury trial and to confront the witnesses against me. I further understand that the Court can sentence me up to the maximum penalty provided for the offense(s) with which I am charged without hearing witnesses or having a trial if I plead guilty.

Knowing and understanding all of these rights and consequences, I hereby plead guilty to the following charge(s): POSSESSION OF A CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE, DWLS

- ◆ Johnson County Sheriff records offer more details about the incident.
- ◆ The responding officer (R/O) reached speeds up to 120 mph chasing Black. Black sped up and slowed down again, eventually ending in a “wrecked car in the ditch”:

Date: 04/16/06
Case# 06-04-173-R
Defendant: Brittany N. Black

On 04/16/06 at 6:17 PM R/O was sitting on the side of I57 just past mile post 41 N/B running radar. R/O clocked a N/B Black colored car at 86 MPH. R/O turned on red lights and went after the car. R/O was driving 110 MPH to catch the car as the car approached I24 and then the vehicle slowed and started up the E/B ramp on I24. After getting on I24 R/O kept the red lights going and R/O saw the driver passing other vehicles in both lanes. After passing mile post 2 the traffic cleared and R/O was following the black car at 120 MPH as we went by mile post 4 E/B. The unit slowed as it got to the mile post 5 crossover but then sped up and took off again. R/O followed the unit at approximately 110 MPH until the car left I24 and went W/B Tunnel Hill Rd. DNR Officer Scott Wright was set up at Tunnel Hill Rd and Rt. 37. R/O knew that if R/O followed the unit until Rt. 37 and Tunnel Hill Rd there would most likely be an accident. R/O told 5F25 that he was slowing up. R/O thought the driver might slow up too and not hurt themselves or someone else. R/O approached the Rail Road Bydock and R/O saw Officer Wright running towards the wrecked car in the ditch. R/O got out to help Officer Wright put handcuffs on the lady and Deputy Jordan processed the car for Tow-in.

R/O and Vienna City Officer Bullock transported Ms. Black to the Massac Co. Jail. R/O wrote Ms. Black citations for Agg. Fleeing and Attempting to Elude a Police Officer, driving while license suspended and speeding 120 MPH in a 65 MPH zone. Deputy Jordan found a white plastic tube in Ms. Black's purse. R/O will send the tube to the lab for processing and if it comes back positive for a controlled substance R/O will request a warrant for that at a later time.

Supplement to Robert Harner's report

On the above date at approximately 6:15 PM, I, Deputy Jeff Jordan #917, heard radio traffic that Chief Deputy Robert Harner had with Johnson Co. Dispatch. He'd just clocked a small black car on I-57 in Johnson County and the unit had got on I-24 EB and was at speeds of over 100 MPH and he was in pursuit.

R/O started toward R/O Harner's location from I-24 WB MP 18. R/O heard R/O Harner state that the unit had taken exit 7 EB and was now WB on Tunnel Hill Rd. D.N.R. Officer Scott Wright advised that he was on Rte 37 and that he would station himself at the intersection. R/O was advised that the unit had run off the road at Rte 37 and Tunnel Hill Rd. intersection.

R/O arrived and asked R/O Harner who the driver was and he stated he hadn't got the driver's DL. I went to R/O Harner's car and asked the W/F, in custody, her name. She stated, "Brittany Black." I asked why she had not just stopped. She stated that she had no license, that she was suspended. I asked the defendant if she had any ID and she stated that it was in her car. R/O went down the ditch to the car, a black Chrysler Sebring, and I observed a green wallet in the passenger side floor. I got the wallet and I

- ♦ Black was found with a sealed plastic bag with a straw and white powder residue. Black admitted it was cocaine, but claimed she hadn't used cocaine in 9 months.

R/O arrived and asked R/O Harner who the driver was and he stated he hadn't got the driver's DL. I went to R/O Harner's car and asked the W/F, in custody, her name. She stated, "Brittany Black." I asked why she had not just stopped. She stated that she had no license, that she was suspended. I asked the defendant if she had any ID and she stated that it was in her car. R/O went down the ditch to the car, a black Chrysler Sebring, and I observed a green wallet in the passenger side floor. I got the wallet and I noticed, in a pocket of the wallet, behind the change compartment, there was a small straw with white residue on it. R/O asked the defendant if she had been consuming any alcohol or any illegal drugs. The defendant stated, "You mean the straw in the billfold?" I stated, "Yes," and the defendant stated, "I'm proud to say I haven't used coke for nine months (meaning cocaine).

R/O showed the straw and its location R/O Harner and R/O Bullock. The defendant then told me her ID was on her key chain. R/O also noticed a Cobra radar detector on the dash of the defendant's car. It was plugged in and it was making a loud beeping sound. As R/O's waited for a tow, R/O took possession of two black cell phones and one black I-pod and put them in the defendant's white purse and will give them to her when she comes to court. R/O also took possession of the radar detector and a green wallet for safe keeping only.

When R/O spoke with Brittany about the straw, she was the one who stated to R/O that it was cocaine. Brittany told R/O that she would agree to any test to show that she hasn't been using. R/O told R/O Harner and Bullock that Brittany wanted to be tested. As R/O was doing an inventory on the car prior to towing, R/O found, in the trunk, papers from the Macon Co. Court that on 06-01-05, Brittany was placed on Conditional Discharge for Driving While Driver's License Suspended (See attached). R/O is asking S/A to charge Brittany with Possession of Controlled Substance, being that of Cocaine.

Black claims her experience as a survivor of domestic violence is one of the reasons why she is so opposed to pro-life legislation like HB 9, which restricts abortion pill access. However, in 2006, Black herself was arrested and charged with domestic battery for allegedly assaulting her ex-boyfriend and his mother. Police reports state that Black was “hiding in the bushes” outside her boyfriend’s home and assaulted him by slapping him in the face. According to the report, Black also slapped her ex’s mother in the face and pulled her hair, then refused to leave. Even the witness Black brought with her to the scene stated that Black was “being the aggressive one” and acting “foolish.” The prosecutor dismissed the charges after they couldn’t subpoena victims/witnesses.

- ◆ In Macon County Illinois in 2006, Black faced one count of domestic battery for slapping Michael B. Connelly, who is a household member, and one count of battery for slapping Robin A. Connelly.

- ◆ In campaign interviews, Black is stating she is a survivor of domestic assault, while refraining to mention that she was an alleged perpetrator of it.

and I've volunteered at domestic violence shelters, I am a survivor, and I've done a lot of things like that, as I guess my way of, like, giving back or contributing to the community. [timestamp 4:50]

one of them was the bounty hunter bill, I think it was Senate Bill nine or House Bill eight or something, where a family of a sexual assault person or rapist can sue the actual victim for up to six years, $100,000 if they seek health care after being sexually assaulted... then it also says that if they leave the state to get health care, they can follow them, and you know that's why they call it the bounty hunter bill. So, when I saw something like that, and being a survivor, that was where I, I had no other choice (but to run for office). [timestamp 6:20]

In this episode of Beyond the Campaign, host Michelle sits down with Brittany Black, a candidate for Texas House District 61, to discuss why she's running for office and the issues driving her campaign.

Brittany shares how her background in software engineering and her personal experience as a survivor shaped her decision to pursue public service. She breaks down the current challenges facing Texas public schools, the impact of recent state legislation, and why stronger community engagement and voter participation are critical in local elections.

The conversation also explores her advocacy for women's rights, education reform, and accountability within the Texas House of Representatives.

- ♦ The police report states that a witness (name redacted) claimed that a brother and sister (Jonathan and Christina, both under the age of 21) shouted “hey the cops are don’t the street if you go that way you better have your IDs” to which Black shouted “I don’t need your help,” to which Jonathan shouted back “you don’t have to be a bitch” and that cause Black to run into the street and confront them. Black and Christina began fighting and then Jonathan came and beat Black and her friend. According to witnesses Black’s friend was trying to deescalate that situation and apologizing for Black’s behavior.

Description:

This is a supplemental report.  Reporting Officer: Erik Bloom   On Tuesday, June 11, I was assigned as an evening shift patrol officer for the South district in the City of Champaign. I was dressed in the Champaign Police Department (CPD) Class A patrol uniform and I operated a marked (#42) car.  WITNESS STATEMENT:  [REDACTED] stated that he was walking alone Westbound on the 400 block of East John Street, at approximately 0050 hours, when he saw two females later identified as Brittany B and Christina, arguing in the middle of the street at near the intersection of Fourth Street and John Street.   [REDACTED] said both females were, “Talking shit.” [REDACTED] was uncertain what exactly the females were saying. [REDACTED] said, the next thing he knew, both females were on the ground fighting. [REDACTED] then saw a female identified as [REDACTED] - approach Brittany B and Christina, and try to break up the fight. [REDACTED] said that at no time did he see [REDACTED] try to fight either girl. [REDACTED] told me that a male identified as Jonathan ran up to [REDACTED] - grabbed her hair and began, “throwing haymakers”, at [REDACTED] - face. [REDACTED] said, while Jonathan was hitting [REDACTED] he was screaming, “You fucking cunt.” [REDACTED] said he ran up to Jonathan and said, “What the fuck are you doing.” Jonathan said, “She’s trying to beat up my sister.” [REDACTED] said the police then arrived on scene. [REDACTED] said that he could not believe that [REDACTED] - face was not severely bruised based upon the amount of force Jonathan hit her with. [REDACTED] did not provide any further information.  VICTIM STATEMENT - [REDACTED] -   [REDACTED] stated that she and Brittany B were walking away from Joe’s Brewery on Westbound on the 400 block of East John Street when Jonathan yelled from across the street, “Hey the cops are down the street if you go that way you better have your i.d.s.”   [REDACTED] said that she believed that Jonathan was only attempting to help. Brittany B, screamed at Jonathan, “I don’t need your help.” [REDACTED] then heard Jonathan scream, “You don’t have to be a bitch.” Brittany B then ran into the middle of the street and grabbed Christina. [REDACTED] said, she stepped in between Brittany B and Christina attempting to break the two away from each other.   [REDACTED] stated that Brittany B walked away back onto the sidewalk. [REDACTED] then apologized to Christina and Jonathan for Brittany B’s behavior. Jonathan then began to yell that [REDACTED] was a bitch. Brittany B ran back up and began to fight with Christina. [REDACTED] - said she attempted to break up the fight for a second time, when Jonathan grabbed her by the back of her head and began to punch her with a closed fist repeatedly. [REDACTED] said that she turned her head to prevent her face from being hit. [REDACTED] said, the police arrived on scene while she was getting punched. [REDACTED] had no visible injuries on her face. [REDACTED] said, that the back of her head was swollen. [REDACTED] refused medical attention and was released on scene. End of report.

Description:

This is a supplement to the original report. On 06/11/08 Officers were dispatched to the area of Fourth and John to investigate the report of a disorderly subject. METCAD later advised the incident was possibly a fight. Upon my arrival, UIPD Officers had two subjects (later identified as Christina (A) and Jonathon (A)) detained in handcuffs. Two other females were standing nearby. I briefly spoke with 7(1)(c) - Victim. 7(1)(c) told me she was walking eastbound on John near Fourth with her friend Brittany B. (A, V). She said two subjects, Jonathon and Christina, were walking toward them as they crossed the street. 7(1)(c) told me as they passed by Jonathon and Christina, they said something that Brittany B. did not like. She said Brittany B. and Jonathon and Christina began yelling and squaring off with each other in the crosswalk. 7(1)(c) told me she stepped in the middle and tried to keep everyone separated. She said she eventually convinced Brittany B. to walk away eastbound on the sidewalk. 7(1)(c) said she remained at the intersection and tried to calm the situation by explaining to Jonathon and Christina that Brittany B. was very stubborn and to ignore her. She told me Jonathon then yelled something similar to "Tell her she doesn't have to be a bitch" loud enough for Brittany B. to hear it. 7(1)(c) said Brittany B. was already approximately 30 feet away from the intersection when she heard Jonathon call her a "bitch." She told me Brittany B. then turned around and charged back toward Jonathon and Christina. 7(1)(c) said she attempted to intercept Brittany B. but was unable to stop her from confronting Jonathon and Christina again. 7(1)(c) told me she continued trying to keep everyone separated as they yelled at each other. She said Christina came around her and struck Brittany B. in the head, knocking her to the ground. 7(1)(c) told me Christina was on top of Brittany B. battering her. She said she tried to get Christina away by pulling her hair. 7(1)(c) told me Jonathon then grabbed her by the hair and began repeatedly punching her in the head. She said police arrived and separated everyone. 7(1)(c) complained of head and jaw pain but refused medical assistance. She did not have any visible injuries on her face. I related 7(1)(c)'s version of events to Officer Young. After conferring with other responding Officers, the decision was made to arrest Brittany B., Christina, and Jonathon. Officer Bloom and I secured Brittany B. into handcuffs and placed her in my squad car. At approximately 0130 hours, I advised Brittany B. of her Miranda warning and asked if she wished to speak with me about this incident. She said she did. Brittany B. told me she was walking eastbound on John Street with 7(1)(c) when they encountered Jonathon and Christina at Fourth Street. She said Jonathon told them they had better watch out because the police were just ahead. Brittany B. told me she acknowledged them and continued walking. She said 7(1)(c) stopped and said something to Jonathon and Christina. She told me Jonathon then began calling her a "bitch." Brittany B. said she confronted Jonathon about this and told him he should not call girls that name and that she did not appreciate it. She told me Christina became confrontational causing Jonathon to hold her back. Brittany B. said she turned and walked away, leaving 7(1)(c) at the intersection. Brittany B. told me Jonathon and Christina began yelling they were from Chicago and were going to beat their ass. She said she was nearly an entire block away when she observed Jonathon and Christina "pummeling" 7(1)(c). Brittany B. told me 7(1)(c) was on ly trying to prevent them from coming after her. She said she walked back to the intersection to help 7(1)(c). She told me she yelled at Jonathon and Christina to "walk away" and "shut their mouths" at least 25 times and told them they would do the same. Brittany B. said Christina then battered 7(1)(c) while trying to get at her. She told me Christina then punched her in the head, knocking her down. Brittany B. said Christina repeatedly kicked and punched her while she was on the ground. She told me Jonathon battered 7(1)(c) while this was occurring. Brittany B. said Christina stopped momentarily, allowing her to get to her feet. She told me Christina then began battering her again and continued doing so until police arrived. Brittany B. maintained that she did nothing wrong and that the battery was unprovoked. Brittany B. complained of head pain. She had a small amount of blood near a piercing in her right eyebrow. I transported Brittany B. to CCSO and released her into their custody. I have nothing further to report at this time.

Description:

Officers responded to a fight call at Fourth and John. UIUC Officers arrived on scene first and had two subjects in handcuffs: Christina and Johnathan. UIUC Sgt. J. Brown (#288) was with Christina and told me that upon his arrival, he observed a standing Christina kicking a female, Brittany B., in the head while she was down in the street. I escorted Christina to my squad car. Christina was sobbing a little and having trouble maintaining her balance. I smelled a strong odor of an alcoholic beverage on her breath. I asked Christina if she needed medical attention and she said she did not think so. I told Christina since she was not free to leave at this time, I needed to read her the Miranda warning in order to discuss what just happened. I read Christina the Miranda warning at 0100 and she stated she understood her rights. I asked Christina what happened earlier before the police arrived. Christina said she had been in Joe's (a bar) with her brother, Johnathan, and some friends. Christina said Johnathan had just moved down from Chicago to live with her. Christina recalled leaving Joe's with Johnathan and walking down John street towards Locust (west). Christina said there were four or five girls walking behind them and they were saying mean/nasty things towards her. Christina stated she tried to ignore them but eventually turned around to see what they wanted. Christina said that is when at least four of the girls tried to jump her. Christina said Johnathan tried to help as she was getting attacked and several of the girls must have fled when they noticed police cars arriving. Christina stated that she was the one who got "beat up" by these girls she "didn't even know or see at Joe's". Christina had some abrasions on her elbows and left knee that she said were from the fight. I asked Christina how old she was and she said 19 or 20. I asked her again if it was 19 or 20 and she said 20. I asked Christina if she had been drinking alcohol in Joe's and she said yes. I asked Christina how she obtained the alcohol since she was not 21 and she said, "Well, they just kinda served it to me." Officer Jones (#757) spoke with Brittany B. Refer to her supplement. Officer Bloom (#777) spoke with [REDACTED] and an independent witness, [REDACTED]. Refer to his supplement. Ultimately, Christina, Johnathan and Brittany B. were arrested. I transported Christina and Johnathan to CCSO. While en route, Johnathan repeatedly stated he only had one thing to say: "Attorney". Johnathan also made the following unsolicited remark several times: "What was I supposed to do? Ya I hit that girl but only after she hit me." Christina and Johnathan were charged with aggravated battery and Brittany B. was charged with disorderly conduct.

Champaign Illinois Police Department, 2008-00006238

In July 2008, a month and half after her disorderly conduct arrest, police records show that Brittany Black was arrested for “criminal damage to property” in Champaign, Illinois.

- ♦ Black allegedly broke into kicked in and damaged the front door of someone else’s apartment, doing so while yelling and screaming. Based on the police report, it appears Black was damaging the property of her friend who sustained injuries from the fight Black started with her disorderly conduct. Black initially lied to the police about breaking the door but then admitted that she “was really angry” and did do it. Black was mad that the victim had informed Black’s mother about a loan that Black took out from the bank to potentially support her drug habit. The arrest did not result in any court cases that have been identified.
- ♦ Black was arrested for "Criminal Damage to Property" on or about 07/28/2008

- ◆ The police report states that a woman called the police after her neighbor phoned her to tell her that Black was “screaming and kicking” her apartment door. The victim and the officer both approached the apartment and the door was open and the frame “destroyed.” The neighbor heard Black scream about how the victim had told Black’s mother she had gotten a loan from a bank. The witness reported Black kicked in the door and then left. The officer then when to Black’s residence and questioned Black. Black initially lied about being at the victim’s apartment. After the officer told Black there was an eyewitness, Black recanted her story and said, “okay, I did it, I was really angry, and as soon as I did it, I realized it was stupid”. Black was then arrested for “criminal damage to property”. The officer stated that Black did not appear to be under the influence of alcohol or drugs nor seem to have any psychological issues at the time of the arrest. Lastly the officer stated that the Champaign Police had an encounter with black and the victim a month prior where Black was arrested for “disorderly conduct.”

Reporting Officer: Erik Bloom &#x0D; &#x0D; On Monday, July 28, 2008 I was assigned as an evening shift patrol officer for the south district in the City of Champaign. I was dressed in the Champaign Police Department (CPD) Class A patrol uniform and I operated a marked (#42) car.&#x0D; &#x0D; At approximately 2030 hours, Officers were dispatched to 7(1)(b) - Home reference a possible burglary in progress. While en route to the above address, METCAD advised that this was second hand to the reporting person. METCAD advised that a female identified as Brittany B, had just kicked in the reporting person's door. The reporting person was later identified as 7(1)(c) &#x0D; &#x0D; Upon arrival, I spoke with 7(1)(c) she advised me that her neighbor identified as 7(1) had called via cellular phone, to inform her that Brittany B, was standing in the hallway of the apartment complex screaming and kicking 7(1)(c) - front door. &#x0D; &#x0D; 7(1)(c) and I walked into the apartment complex together. I immediately saw that the front door to apartment 7(1) was open and that the door frame had been destroyed. Officer Leibach photographed the damaged door (See Officer Leibach's supplemental for further information.)&#x0D; &#x0D; Next, I spoke with 7(1) the resident of apartment 7(1) 7(1) told me that she knows Brittany B, from previous contacts. 7(1) said she heard screaming and a banging in the hallway. 7(1) exited her apartment and saw Brittany B, kicking the door to 7(1) repeatedly. 7(1) said she heard Brittany B, say, "I don't believe you told my mom I got a loan." 7(1) said that Brittany B, kicked the door until it opened. Brittany B, then left the area. 7(1) provided no further information.&#x0D; &#x0D; 7(1)(c) explained to me that she had called Brittany B's, mother, reference Brittany B's possible drug problem and a loan Brittany B had obtained from a bank. 7(1)(c) told me that Brittany B is angry that she told Brittany B's mother about the loan. 7(1)(c) provided no further information.&#x0D; &#x0D; I then went to Brittany B's apartment complex at 7(1)(b) - I spoke with Brittany B in the lobby. I explained to Brittany B, why I was speaking to her. Brittany initially lied to me saying that she had not been at 7(1)(c) - apartment complex at anytime on 07/28/08. I told Brittany B, that I had a witness 7(1) that saw her damage the door. Brittany B, then said, "O kay, I did it, I was really angry, and as soon as did it I realized it was stupid." I then placed Brittany B under arrest for criminal damage to property. Brittany B, told me that she was angry because 7(1)(c) told her mom about a loan she had obtained. &#x0D; &#x0D; Brittany B was transported to CCSO and left in CCSO's care. Brittany B did not appear to be under the influence of alcohol or drugs, nor does she appear to have any psychological problems. &#x0D; &#x0D; It should be noted that the Champaign Police have had previous contacts with 7(1)(c) - and Brittany B. Most recently Brittany B was arrested for disorderly conduct (708-06238). 7(1)(c) - Specific Medical Information based upon my contact with her. End of report.
Description:

Champaign Illinois Police Department, 2008-0000854

Black's mother, Toni Griffin, and her mental health counselor, Amy Peck-Carmen, wrote letters to the Champaign County court in 2009, pleading for leniency for Black after her 2008 arrest for driving while license suspended. Both letters claimed that Black was in an abusive relationship to excuse her actions. The counselor admits Black is "no perfect citizen" and has an "inherent impulse with making destructive decisions."

Interestingly, the counselor is convinced that Black is reformed, however she will go on to commit voluntary property destruction, a DUI and more rash speeding violations in the future. Voters should not be so gullible.

CLERK OF THE CIRCUIT COURT
CHAMPAIGN COUNTY, ILLINOIS L

I have observed Brittany in our University of Illinois Counseling Center Discovery group counseling sessions as well as individual sessions with myself. I have never advised a more mature and guided student. She has made remarkable changes since starting group approximately 8 months ago. I believe there to be a substantial driving force within her that has helped her to overcome great adversity in her life time after time. The obstacles and tribulations that she, especially under the age of 21, has encountered, and subsequently grown from and become a stronger person, are such that I have never seen prior. Brittany is of course no perfect citizen, as obvious to the court, but is definitely repentant of her previous actions and is making remarkable strides to counteract her previous behavior.

While in group, we have had many discussions relative to her past and the horrible conflicts with which she has undergone. She has been beaten down by a previous relationship that almost cost her her life, lost everything she had ever worked for at the hands of someone else, and then has struggled and fought back to for the last year and a half to regain not only her courage and independence, but her careers academically and socially as well. She has worked on her inherent impulse with making destructive decisions and her personal acceptance of care for herself and dependence. I have never had the pleasure of seeing anyone, let alone a student, with such determination and focus. She does not allow challenges in her life distract her any longer, and is such a positive influence and role model for students and adults alike.

To take such a predominant societal member who has made such progressive strides and achievements towards change and the betterment of herself as well as the community, and has such a positive impact on a vast range of individuals and put them into incarceration for months I believe to be not only digressive, but also detrimental. Our community, its members, and its future are dependent upon people such as Brittany, and to take her away from these great successes that she has turned from great strife, and the individuals that can learn from them, I do not believe to be fair. I absolutely believe that punishment is in order, but in turn, may the punishment not only fit the crime, but be just in its cause. It is more beneficial to the community, and its members alike, for Brittany to be allowed an alternative to incarceration so that she can further continue her dynamic involvement within the community, academic and professional careers, and personal strives. Thank you for your time and consideration, and I beg the court to take my recommendations to heart for a truly just and fair decision for all.

Sincerely,

Amy Peck-Carmen

First, I'd like to begin with my personal thoughts and recognition of her from the viewpoint as her mother. Brittany is currently a senior at the University of Illinois planning to graduate at the end of the summer with a major in communication, a focus in business marketing and pre-law concentration. Understandably so, being accepted to such a prestigious college, graduating within three years of enrollment, continuously working throughout her entire collegiate career, and then

These past four years were not met without challenges however. I think it is important to share with you that during the first two and a half years of college, as well as last year of high school, Brittany was in an abusive relationship that almost ended tragically for herself. It has been a hard road back for her to trust again and understand that the relationship she had was not normal, nor was it her fault. No one should have ever had to endure such a horrible situation, especially under the age of twenty-one. Thankfully, with professional help, she is recovering. All of this, while attending school and holding various jobs.

Brittany has not had a traffic violation since this last one a year and a half ago. Also, she no has not had a car in her possession since August, 2008. I can testify in court that I took the car from her (as the co-signer) and subsequently sold it. She has been taking the bus in Champaign ever since. I believe the car enabled her to continue to drive illegally while she used it for transporting her former handicapped/paralyzed boyfriend, for school and for work.

Brittany has had two part time jobs while attending school this past year. Both of these were combined with her twenty-four hour per semester university workload. This summer she is not only attending her final three classes to complete her degrees, working two part-time jobs at Illini Media, but also has been accepted into two summer internship programs that have already expressed interest in possible permanent relationships and career advancement opportunities.

I beg the Court to not only let her complete her school commitments, internships, and sustain her current job, but give her the opportunity to demonstrate that she has become a responsible adult and has learned from her mistakes as well. Placing Brittany in jail, in my opinion, will cause irreparable damage. While I absolutely understand that she must be punished for breaking the law, I implore you to find a solution that is acceptable to the City of Champaign and the well-being of my daughter. I love her and want the best for her.

Sincerely,

Toni Griffin

Black sued Michael Connelly, the same ex-boyfriend she allegedly battered, claiming he owed her money after he became paralyzed and wheelchair bound after a January 2007 accident. The lawsuit was filed in the Fall of 2007 and the court ruled in Black's favor in 2008. Despite the lawsuit, records suggest Black was still dating Connelly. In 2009, when Black's mother pleaded for leniency in a letter to the court, she wrote that Black's former boyfriend was "handicapped/paralyzed" and the many violations she received in 2008 was due to driving him around.

- ◆ In 2006, Black was arrested for domestic battery of Michael Connelly and his mother Macon County Circuit Court, [06-CM-641].
- ◆ In 2007 into 2008, Black and her mother sued Connelly and his father for debts related to credit card purchases, mostly for Connelly's new home he lived in with Black after becoming paralyzed. The Amended judgment ruled in favor of Black but also clarified that Connelly was injured in January 2007:

CIRCUIT COURT OF ILLINOIS
SIXTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT, MACON COUNTY

FILED

APR 28 2008

KATHY A. HOTT
CIRCUIT CLERK

BRITTANY BLACK and TONI GRIFFIN,

Plaintiff,

vs.

MICHAEL CONNELLY and STEVE CONNELLY,

Defendant.

Case No. 2007-SC-2228

AMENDED JUDGMENT

This cause called for a court trial the Court makes the following findings and orders:

1. That the Plaintiff, Brittany Black, was a college student in her late teens at the University of Illinois at Champaign.
2. That the Plaintiff Toni Griffin, is Brittany Black's mother.
3. That Michael Connelly was in his early twenties and owned a tree cutting service.
4. That Steve Connelly is the father of Michael Connelly.
5. That in 2006 Brittany Black and Michael Connelly were in a romantic dating relationship and sometimes lived together at Michael Connelly's house at 3324 Fulton in Decatur, Illinois. That although Brittany Black lived in Champaign she worked at restaurants in Decatur and commuted frequently between Champaign and Decatur.
6. That January 9, 2007 was a fateful day when Michael Connelly was injured in an accident and was in a rehabilitation hospital in Chicago for about two months. He remains in a wheelchair.
7. That initially Brittany Black stayed with Michael Connelly after his accident.
8. That after the rehabilitation in Chicago, Michael Connelly moved into a house owned by his father, Steve Connelly, at 58 Countryclub Road in Decatur, which was more user friendly to Michael Connelly.
9. That the main dispute is between Brittany Black and Michael Connelly relating to certain debts incurred by Brittany Black relating to the second home Michael Connelly is now living in at 58 Countryclub Road in Decatur.

10. That Brittany Black testified she never had a credit card before Michael Connelly moved into the home at 58 Countryclub Road. That home improvements were made in the approximate amount of $5,000.00 and the debt was placed on the two credit cards. That Brittany Black testified Michael Connelly told her he would repay her for the expenses. She also testified under questioning by the Court that two of the $500.00 checks written to her were part of an installment agreement to pay off the $5,000.00.

11. That Michael Connelly testified that nothing was said about reimbursing expenses as he thought they were going to get married as they had talked about having a child by artificial insemination due to his condition.

12. That in the summer of 2007 Brittany Black broke up with Michael Connelly although they got back together for a short period in September 2007.

13. That there was no testimony that the parties were formally engaged, had exchanged rights, or set a date for a wedding.

14. That disputed questions of fact should be decided in favor of the Plaintiff Brittany Black and against the Defendant Michael Connelly.

15. That Michael Connelly is indebted to Toni Griffin for $133.00 for steel bars she purchased for him at his discretion.

16. That Steve Connelly is indebted to Tony Griffin in the amount of $335.00 for cellular phone bills for Michael Connelly that he agreed to pay so his son could have a cellular phone while in the hospital.

17. That Steve Connelly is indebted to Tony Griffin in the amount of $200.00 for certain construction work performed by her for him.

18. That Michael Connelly is indebted to Brittany Black in the amount of $5,128.00 for items she put on her credit card for him and which he agreed to reimburse her for the home improvements to his father's home.

19. That the Statute of Frauds does not apply to the transaction between Brittany Black and Michael Connelly as this was not a guarantee contract

WHEREFORE, it is the order of Court as follows:

A. Judgment is entered in favor of the Plaintiff, Brittany Black and against the Defendant, Michael Connelly in the amount of $5,128.00 plus court costs.

B. Judgment is entered in favor of Toni Griffin and against the Defendant Steve Connelly in the amount of $535.00 plus the court costs.

C. Judgment is entered in favor of Toni Griffin and against the Defendant, Michael Connelly in the amount of $133.00 plus court costs.

Black dated Michael Connelly after he pled guilty to child sex abuse of a teenage girl under 17/older than 13. While the only documented evidence of domestic abuse between Black and Connelly has Black as the abuser, Connelly was charged with domestic battery in 2009 of a different woman. Those charges were dismissed. Given Black's dysfunctional behavior and Connelly's other charges, as well as the 2009 claims from Black's mother and school counselor was in a dangerous relationship, Black's claims that she is a survivor of domestic violence may very well be true. As Black was also charged with domestic battery, voters ought to know the full story if Black chooses to campaign on it.

- ♦ Black's substance abuse counselor claimed Black was "beaten down by a previous relationship."

While in group, we have had many discussions relative to her past and the horrible conflicts with which she has undergone. She has been beaten down by a previous relationship that almost cost her her life, lost everything she had ever worked for at the hands of someone else, and then has struggled and fought back to for the last year and a half to regain not only her courage and independence, but her careers academically and socially as well. She has worked on her inherent impulse with making destructive decisions and her personal acceptance of care for herself and dependence. I have never had the pleasure of seeing anyone, let alone a student, with such determination and focus. She does not allow challenges in her life distract her any longer, and is such a positive influence and role model for students and adults alike.

Honestly, Black is lucky to be alive—and that she didn't kill anyone. In December 2012, in the middle of the night, Black was arrested for Driving Under the Influence in Macon County, Illinois. Black was pulled over for speeding and not changing lanes properly; she disobeyed police and was not wearing her seat belt. She failed the field sobriety test and blew a .21 on a breathalyzer test—nearly three times the legal limit. She also had an open container of Seagram's Whiskey in her vehicle.

Brittany N. Black CRIMINAL NO. 12-DT-00578

ORDER OF DISCHARGE FROM SUPERVISION

This cause comes on for hearing on the Report of Discharge from Supervision, and the Court being fully advised in the premises

ORDERS:

☒ That the defendant is discharged from supervision, and the judgment for payment of fines, fees, and costs is satisfied. Cause dismissed.

☐ That supervision is dismissed, but the defendant may be subject to civil contempt for default in payment of fines, fees, or costs.

Black is campaigning about how she “volunteered and mentored in underprivileged schools.” Do they still call it volunteering if it’s court ordered? Black did do community service, including at Urbana Middle School, but her time there was used to satisfy court mandated community service after she was convicted of a DUI—an order she did not complete in time.

- ◆ Appearing on a podcast interview, Black bragged about her credentials when it came to education:

My grandmother was a school teacher, my dad was a school teacher, and then I volunteered and mentored in underprivileged schools, so you know, I can see where it becomes cru— crucially important, and then I can see, like, when the school I worked in, where the class that I had was basically, if they didn't pass that class, they had to redo the entire school year over again, and I would say 90 or more percent of those kids just needed someone to listen to them and just needed the extra time. So, if that's all it takes for a failing student to become not failing student and for people to succeed, then I don't understand why we're just not investing in something like that. In this episode of Beyond the Campaign, host Michelle sits down with Brittany Black, a candidate for Texas House District 61, to discuss why she's running for office and the issues driving her campaign.

Brittany shares how her background in software engineering and her personal experience as a survivor shaped her decision to pursue public service. She breaks down the current challenges facing Texas public schools, the impact of recent state legislation, and why stronger community engagement and voter participation are critical in local elections.

	)	Hon. R.C. Bollinger,
BRITTANY N. BLACK,	)	Sentencing Judge
Defendant.	)

FIRST PETITION CHARGING VIOLATION OF SUPERVISION

The undersigned assistant state's attorney of Macon County, Illinois, reports to the Court that the Defendant pleaded guilty to the crime of Driving Under the Influence of Alcohol and was admitted to court supervision on March 14, 2013 for a period of 18 months, and that the Defendant has violated the conditions of court supervision, in that:

1. Defendant failed to provide verification of having completed 20 hours Substance Abuse Treatment within the first 9 months as directed; and
2. Defendant failed to provide verification of having completed 100 hours of community service within the first 9 months as directed.

I therefore request that the Court conduct a hearing and if the Court finds that the Defendant has violated the conditions of court supervision, that the Court enter an order either continuing the Defendant on the existing sentence with or without modified or enlarged conditions, or revoking the court supervision sentence and entering a judgment of conviction, or imposing any other appropriate sentence that was available at the time of the original sentencing.

Cook County Illinois Circuit Court, Case No. 11119618501

Black wants to control tax dollars, but she has a history of not paying her bills, even after a court order. In 2010, a debt collection agency had to go to small claims court in Chicago and have Black's wages garnished from her employer, Encyclopedia Britannica, to pay back a claimed debt of $6,651.42. The case was ultimately dismissed without prejudice after Black moved to vacate the judgment alleging she wasn't properly served.

- ◆ The case 20101205002 was filed in November 2010 in Cook County small claims. The case wasn't disposed until March 2012. The docket shows that Black had her wages garnished to pay back her debts.

- ◆ The Dallas Morning News reported on the situation, and how Black said it was a mistake:

Collin County Dems abuzz over candidate who first filed as Republican

Brittany Black, a candidate in the Democratic primary for Texas House District 61, previously filed to run for Congress as a Republican. Some Democratic voters in the district are questioning her

On Nov. 26, Brittany Black filed Federal Election Commission paperwork to run in the congressional district that covers most of Collin County as a Republican. The following week, Black filed new FEC paperwork that marked her party affiliation as "unknown." A few days after, she filed to run in the Democratic primary for Texas House District 61 and subsequently withdrew her candidacy for the congressional race.

... Black, 38, said that filing as a Republican was a procedural mistake she made as a first-time candidate.

"That was not meant to be filed," Black said. "I was never going to run as a Republican."

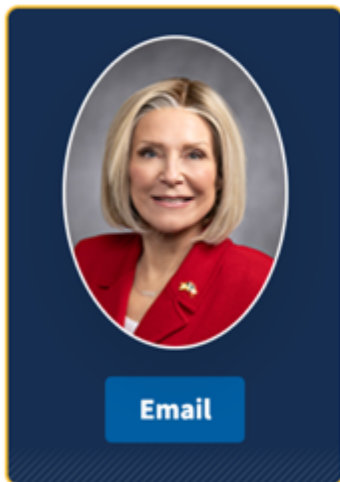

Black, a software engineer, said she decided to run for the Texas Legislature instead of Congress because she realized she was more motivated by issues that the state government handles, such as education.

- ◆ As Rep. Richardson owns a plumbing business, Black is likely referring to HB 3214, which became law in 2025. The bill reduced the experience required to advance from journeyman to master plumber – thereby lowering the barrier to entry and increasing competition in Richardson’s industry. This is likely why Black keeps her attack vague given that Richardson’s legislation addresses a skilled labor shortage and is pro-consumer not a protectionist move by an established business.

Black is excited about the demographic changes in Collin County because it will help make the county more competitive for Democrats.

- ◆ In an interview with Jeff Crilley (timestamp 8:20), Black celebrates that white people are only 53% of Collin County now because it will make the county less Republican:

CRILLEY: Well, you were telling me something before the show that it could be a very, very tight race, because although you know Collin County is kind of seen as Republican, it's much closer than that..

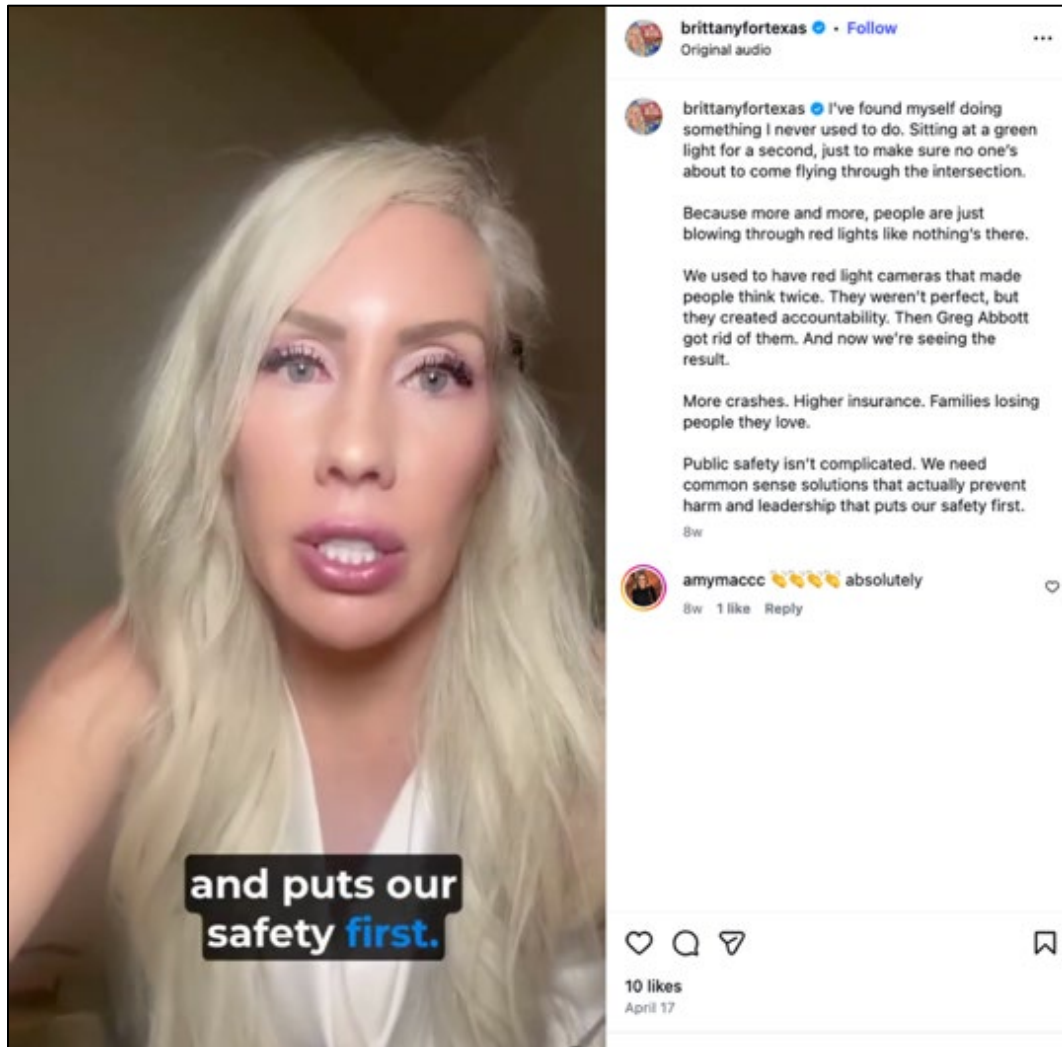

BLACK: Right. So the demographics have definitely been shifting, and that's a large in part due to growth, so the it's not a — it's barely a minority minor district, so I think that the demographics are around, I think 53-47 at this point

Black wants to bring back red light cameras.

- ◆ Black posted a video to Instagram calling for red light cameras to come back because “they created accountability.” In her caption, Black claims there are “More crashes. Higher insurance. Families losing people they love.”

<https://www.instagram.com/p/DXPfkryijf6/> — [Downloaded Video]

- ◆ Changing demographics through illegal immigration has led to more car accidents and a rise in insurance costs:
 - The Insurance Research Council (IRC) estimates that ~15.4% of U.S. drivers were uninsured in 2023 (up from ~12% pre-pandemic), meaning roughly 1 in 7 drivers. This has risen steadily since 2020. Uninsured drivers impose costs on insured ones through higher premiums (via uninsured motorist coverage) and claims. Nationally, this has been estimated in the billions annually (e.g., older figures around $13 billion in related claims/paid premiums).
 - Studies (e.g., in the Journal of Insurance Regulation and econometric analyses) find that a higher share of unauthorized immigrants correlates with elevated uninsured motorist rates. One analysis linked a 1% increase in unauthorized population to nearly a 2% rise in uninsured motorists.
 - The Colorado Fiscal Institute estimated that unlicensed/uninsured immigrant drivers contribute tens of millions in added premiums locally (e.g., ~$20M/year in Connecticut examples, or $29M+ in Colorado projections).
- ◆ Red Light Cameras were banned in part because they actually increased rear end collisions.

In a September report, Abbott's office outlined the main arguments for eliminating red-light cameras. The report cites a Case Western Reserve University study that found that the cameras are successful in reducing T-bone angle accidents, but that they significantly raise the chances of a rear-end collision due to sudden braking. In the study, which looked at the impact of red-light cameras in Houston and Dallas, the cameras resulted in a 28 percent increase in non-angle accidents.

Black, after dismissing school choice and vouchers, claimed she is running on “freedom in our education system” and that she “want us to be able to send our future children and our current children to whatever school that they want to go to.” Black has firmly stated that she is opposed to school vouchers.

- ◆ At the end of her interview with Jeff Crilley, Black talks directly to the camera with her plea to voters:

Okay, so I think everyone can really agree that this is not the same Texas that a lot of us would love, and that we want to fight for. So, when we think about freedom in Texas, that's what we really should be striving for: freedom in our education system, freedom in how we live, freedom in making our own choices for our own bodies and in our lives, and I don't think that's what we're living with today, and I don't think that we are better off than we were, let's say, 5 - 10 years ago.

So, when you think about that, I want you to think about, I am fighting for what I think our true vision of Texas is. I want us to be able to send our future children and our current children to whatever school that they want to go to, that's real school choice, is having schools in our neighborhoods, in our communities that we can choose and send our children to, freedom to not lose our homes just because we're getting priced out of them, and because taxes are so high, and it's not coming back in our community, freedom to decide what we can do with our own bodies and our health care, and not having the government control what we can do with our doctors, that should be our decision. That is what the Texas that I was born and I grew up in, and that's the Texas that I envision that I'm trying to fight hard to get back.

- ◆ Earlier in the same interview, Black attacked school choice and education savings accounts.

I'm definitely passionate about fully funding public schools. I'm a product of public schools, and my grandmother was a school teacher. My father actually taught school for a while. I volunteered and mentored at a school, and those are our children of the future. Every time our the vouchers are taking the funds out of our public schools and putting them to private schools, our kids and our future generations lose. So that's something I'm really passionate about. We need to raise the allotment. We need to actually give teachers a working salary that they can have a living wage, and we need to appreciate these public schools that actually take children of all of us. So, the private schools only cater to certain demographics of children, whereas the public schools welcome everybody, and also special needs children's can get everything they need, so that's really important for public schools.

- ◆ In a separate written interview with Lonestar Left, Black is unequivocal about her opposition to school choice.

Q: Do you oppose school vouchers and efforts to privatize public education?

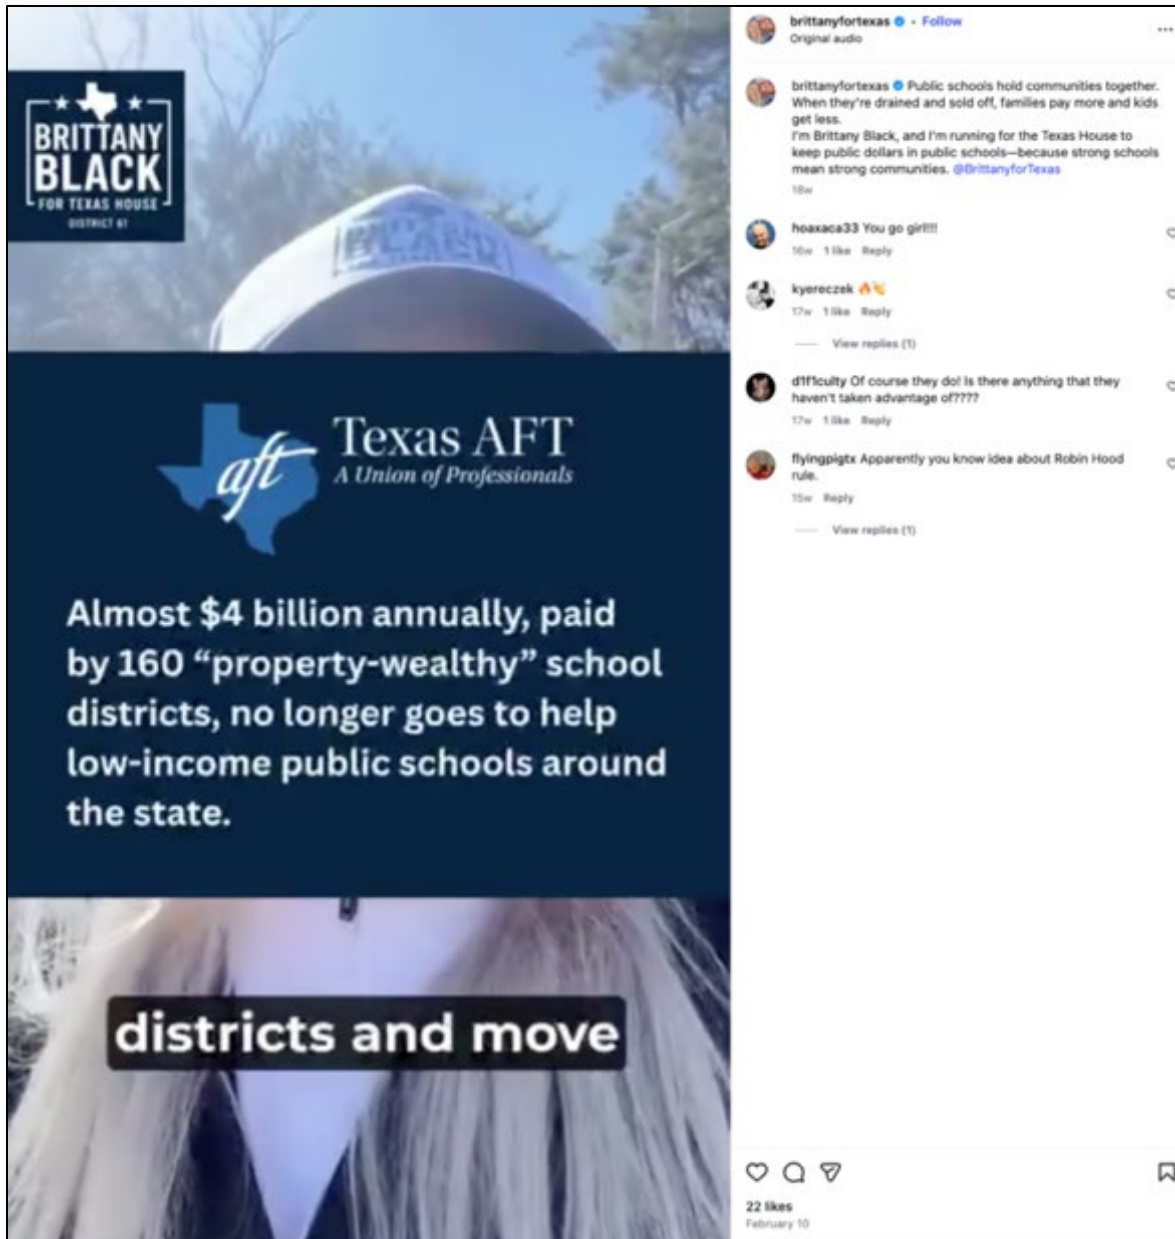

Absolutely. School vouchers are a direct attack on public education.

Our current representative (and likely opponent) voted to close 3 elementary neighborhood schools while profiting from construction contracts. Voucher schemes do the same thing at scale—draining resources from public schools, harming rural and low-income communities without private school alternatives, and eliminating accountability.

I'm one of the first in my family to earn college degrees because I had access to quality public education. Every child deserves that foundation. Rather than vouchers that primarily benefit wealthy families, we should fully fund public schools and pay teachers professional wages.

Black attacks the Robin Hood recapture program which takes funds from “property wealthy” school districts to help other poorer districts. She mischaracterizes the policy as a “loophole.”

Black supports universal free school meals from K-12, regardless of income.

- ◆ In a written interview with Lone Star Left, Black was asked directly about free school meals and was enthusiastically supportive in her answer.

Q: Should Texas guarantee free school meals to all K-12 students, regardless of income?

Yes. No child should go hungry.

Universal free meals work—studies have shown kids perform better academically, and attendance improves. Hunger is a learning disability. A child who comes to school hungry can't focus on learning.

Universal meals eliminate stigma, simplify administration, reduce costs through economies of scale, and ensure every child has the nutrition they need to succeed. In the wealthiest state in the country, feeding schoolchildren shouldn't be controversial.

<https://www.lonestarleft.com/p/meet-the-candidates-brittany-black>

Black wants to “end tax subsidies and abatements for large corporations” that play a large role in bringing businesses to Texas in a competitive environment among states.

◆ In a written interview with Lone Star Left, Black states:

Q: Should Texas end tax subsidies and abatements for large corporations?

Yes, with reforms prioritizing accountability and community benefit. Texas hands out billions in corporate subsidies with little accountability.

Any tax subsidy should require measurable job creation, clawback provisions, and full transparency. I’m not opposed to strategic investments, but I oppose corporate welfare that enriches executives while schools go underfunded and property taxes spike for homeowners.

<https://www.lonestarleft.com/p/meet-the-candidates-brittany-black>

Black supports “community-owned renewable [energy] projects” and redirecting state subsidies away from fossil fuels.

Q: Would you support redirecting state subsidies from fossil fuels to fund community-owned solar, wind, and battery projects in low-income and rural areas?

Yes. Energy independence and economic development shouldn't be mutually exclusive. Community-owned renewable projects create local jobs that can't be outsourced, reduce energy costs, increase grid resilience, and position Texas as a clean energy leader. Rural and low-income communities have borne environmental costs without economic benefits—community ownership flips that script.

February 2021 taught us that our grid has serious vulnerabilities, and now there is the addition of data centers. Distributed renewable energy with battery storage makes us more resilient and economically competitive.

Deep thoughts with Brittany... Black: “We've forgotten that we're just all humans at the end of the day. Where did humanity go? Like, I don't even understand how we just can't be humans, how we can't have disagreements and just look at the other side and understand that we can disagree and just still be humans and still talk to each other like normal people.”

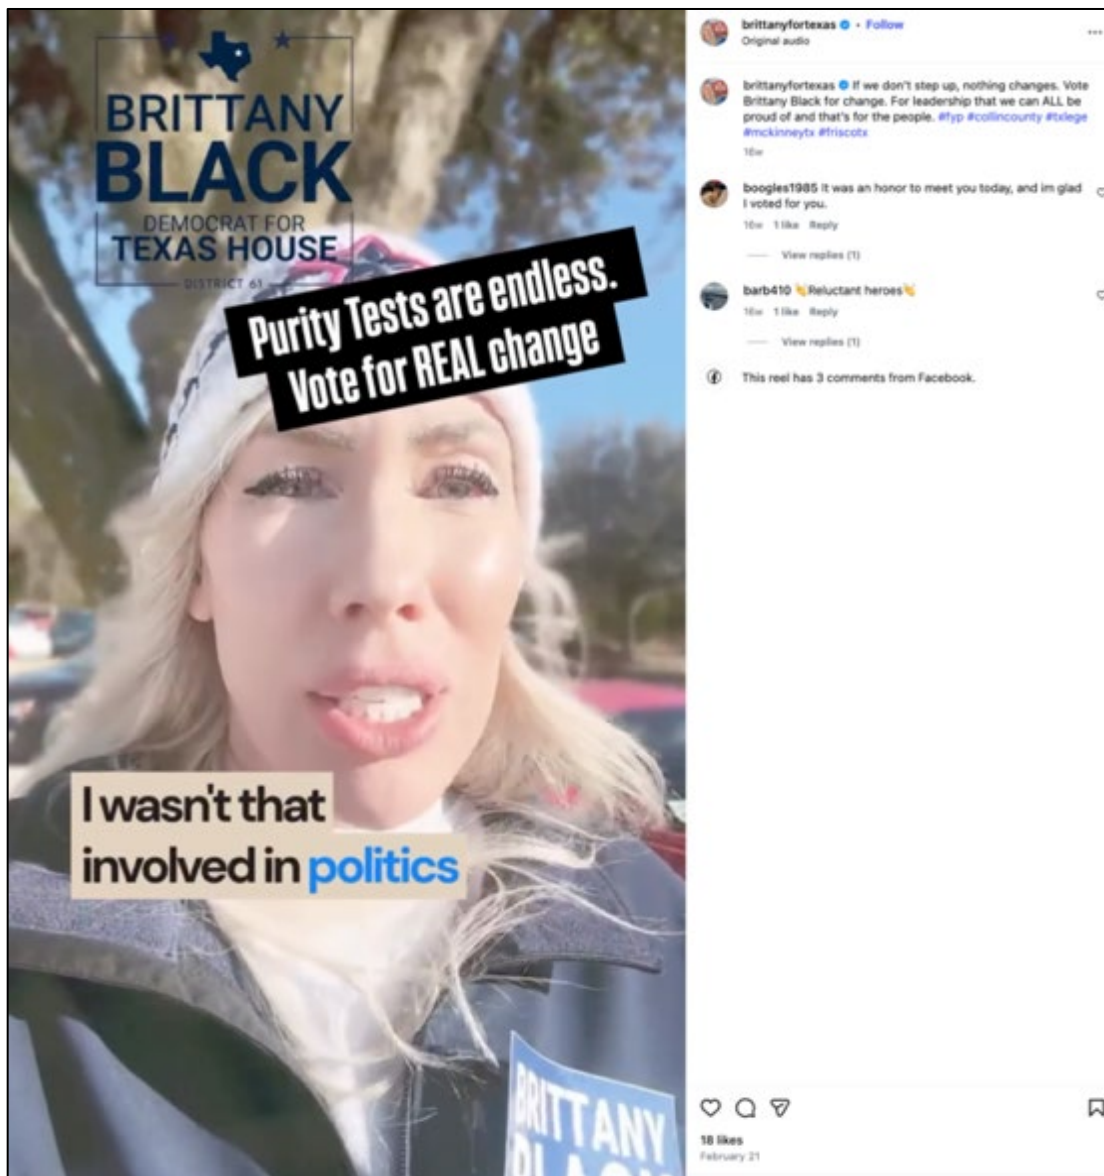

- ◆ In a video reel, Black shows an excerpt from a speech during which she said:

A person on the ballot is not going to get this sh done. That's not what we need anymore. We need somebody who has a plan, we need somebody to inspire people, we need somebody who gets what the other side is going to get. We need people over politics.  - SB 8 (bathroom bill / Texas Women's Privacy Act) — Required multi-occupancy restrooms, locker rooms, etc., in government buildings, schools, and public facilities to be designated by biological sex, with penalties.

A Call to Action for Texas Sheriffs and District Attorneys: Mitigating the Harm of New Anti-Trans Laws

Texas Senate Bill 8 is nothing more than a politically motivated attack on the dignity, safety, and humanity of transgender people.

SB 8 does not make Texans safer. It does not protect women. It does not strengthen public institutions. Instead, it weaponizes fear to justify discrimination, and it creates conditions where transgender people, including trans youth and survivors of violence, can be denied basic privacy, safety, and lifesaving support.

We know when lawmakers target one community, they erode the civil rights and protections of all Texans. That is why we are calling on every Sheriff, every District Attorney, and every elected official across this state to use the full measure of their authority to protect members of the transgender community. We are calling on them to:

- Use Prosecutorial Discretion to Decline Cases Targeting Trans People
- Issue Guidance Against Harassment
- Train staff on Respectful Interaction With Trans Residents
- Protect Trans Youth and Survivors in Crisis Settings
- Create a Civil Rights Enforcement or Hate Crimes Unit
- Use Their Platform to Oppose Discrimination
- Set Jail Policies that do not target Trans Members of the community
- Prioritize Diversion, Dismissals, and Non-Carceral Approaches

- HB 229 — Mandated biological definitions of male/female in state records/laws and related measures seen as erasing trans/nonbinary identities. SB 1257 — Imposed restrictions effectively limiting coverage/insurance for gender-affirming care. Both bills were condemned in the same open letter:

An Open Letter to My Fellow Texans

From Mo Jenkins, At-Large Officer, Texas Stonewall Democrats

Monday, May 12, 2025

Dear Texans,

As a Black transgender woman who has built a career helping others navigate the lawmaking process, I carry both the weight of these policies and the understanding of how they're built. I've sat through many tough debates in the Texas Capitol. However, the passage of Senate Bill 1257 and House Bill 229 hit differently. These poorly written, misguided bills are deeply personal.

They weren't just about politics. They were about people like me. That dual reality—living in the crosshairs of legislation while also working within the institution that crafts it—is disorienting, painful, and frankly exhausting.

What's even more devastating is the language used in these debates: the implication that trans people are dangerous, or a burden. I've heard my identity reduced to a punchline and my humanity treated like a liability. And yet—I still show up. Because that's what public servants do.

I didn't get into politics to become a spokesperson for the trans community. I came here to solve problems. I came here because I was once a homeless teenager; who lost my mother at 13 due to a lack of access to adequate healthcare, because public education and financial aid were the only lifelines that kept me from slipping through the cracks. I came into this work ready to take on housing, healthcare, education, and economic justice—because I've lived them. These are the matters that are at stake.

Instead of being able to focus on these pertinent issues, I am constantly pulled back to defend my right to simply exist. Before I can speak on policy, I'm forced to justify my humanity.

Let me be clear: trans people are not fringe distractions. We are not abstract concepts or ideological battles to be won. We are your neighbors, your coworkers, your friends. We are teachers, nurses, police officers, artists, small business owners, and yes—legislative staffers. We shape this state in ways both visible and unseen. We write the analysis. We understand the rules. We help pass the bills.

And while many of us are grieving right now—make no mistake—we are not giving up.

To my fellow Democrats: if you want to win, if you want to lead, stop treating trans people like a messaging problem. The issue isn't that we're too visible. It's that too many of you are still too afraid to stand beside us and tell the truth. We are not the reason you lose elections. You lose when you allow your opponents to define the narrative. You lose when you center fear over courage, and comfort over conviction.

Black posts condescending video promoting the LGBT agenda. Black states "I think it's super strange that in 2026 we're still asking whether some people deserve equal rights and basic dignity. LGBTQ+ Texans are our neighbors...and they deserve... to be free to live their lives without being targeted by our government." If you think kids should be protected from transgenderism, you're just trying to score "cheap political points" by targeting a "vulnerable" community.

Black made an Instagram post about the death of Afghan “asylum seeker” Mohammad Nazeer Paktiawal who died after being arrested by ICE. Black implies that Paktiawal was just a great dad who helped fight the Taliban and he died to in a unsanitary “detention center.” She fails to mention that Paktiawal was indicted for committing SNAP benefits fraud and while awaiting trial was also arrested for theft and leaves out other details to gin up resentment towards ICE.

- ◆ Paktiawal was also immediately taken to Parkland Hospital when he complained of chest pain, he died the following day at the hospital. Lastly, just because Paktiawal helped U.S. Forces in Afghanistan doesn’t mean he is entitled to live in America. The terrorist who shot at National Guard members in Washington D.C. in 2025 was an Afghani who helped the CIA in Afghanistan.
- ◆ Black’s post is hyperbolic made to make federal law enforcement look bad and this foreign thief look good:

- ◆ The real story was explained in a government press release:

MARCH 15, 2026 • DALLAS, TX • DETAINEE DEATH NOTIFICATIONS

Criminal illegal alien from Afghanistan with previous arrests for fraud and theft passes away at Texas hospital

The criminal detainee was in custody for less than 1 day

DALLAS — Mohammad Nazeer Paktiawal, 41, a criminal illegal alien from Afghanistan, passed away March 14 at the Parkland Hospital in Dallas, Texas. A physician at the hospital declared Paktiawal deceased at 9:10 a.m. Central Daylight Time. He had been in ICE custody for one day. His passing is currently under active investigation.

Paktiawal has a known criminal history including an arrest by local authorities for SNAP fraud, a felony, on Sept. 16, 2025. He was arrested a second time for theft on Nov. 1, 2025.

ICE arrested Paktiawal March 13 during a targeted enforcement action and placed him into immigration proceedings. At the time of arrest and processing, he did not report any prior medical history.

In the late evening of March 13, ICE contacted Emergency Medical Services when Paktiawal began complaining of shortness of breath and chest pains while in an ICE Dallas Field Office processing hold room. He was immediately transported to Parkland Hospital and received breathing treatment. The ER doctor recommended that he remain in the hospital for observation.

Early March 14, Paktiawal was eating breakfast when medical staff noted that his tongue had become swollen, prompting a medical response. After multiple lifesaving efforts were attempted, he was declared deceased at 9:10 a.m.

ICE notified his next of kin and the Consulate of Afghanistan in Toronto, Canada, of Paktiawal's death on March 14.

Paktiawal entered the United States at Washington Dulles International Airport, Maryland Aug. 21, 2021 and was paroled into the U.S. by an immigration officer. The duration of his parole expired Aug. 20, 2025.

Consistent with ICE policy, ERO notified the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, the DHS Office of Inspector General, and the ICE Office of Professional Responsibility via the Integrity Coordination Center. ERO will coordinate appropriate consular notifications in accordance with international and domestic laws and will make efforts to notify Paktiawal's next of kin or other designated contact.

ICE makes official notifications to Congress, nongovernmental organization stakeholders and the media upon official reports of in-custody alien deaths and posts news releases with relevant details on ICE's public website. You may access this information in ICE.gov's Newsroom. Congressional requirements described in the DHS Appropriations Act of 2018 require ICE to publicize all reports regarding in-custody deaths within 90 days. You may access these reports on ICE.gov's Detainee Death Reporting page.

ICE is committed to ensuring that all those in custody reside in safe, secure and humane environments. Comprehensive medical care is provided from the moment individuals arrive and throughout the entirety of their stay. All people in ICE custody receive medical, dental and mental health intake screenings within 12 hours of arriving at each detention facility; a full health assessment within 14 days of entering ICE custody or arrival at a facility; access to medical appointments; and 24-hour emergency care. At no time during detention is a detained alien denied emergency care.

Confused messaging. On December 12, 2025, Black posted a video on Instagram supporting rising home values as “protecting homeowners long term investment,” arguing it’s a reason why we need good public schools. On the very same day, the next video she released complained about rising housing costs making life unaffordable. So which is it? Do you want home prices to go up or down Brittany? Also, if good public schools raise property values, but Republicans have destroyed Collin County public schools, then why are property values rising?

- ◆ Know Your Meme covered the phenomenon of “Women Don’t Understand POV”

About

Women Don't Understand POV is a controversial internet axiom suggesting that women don't comprehend the meaning of the phrase "POV," short for "point of view," due to a trend of TikToks, photos and other short-form videos that women claim are from their "POV," though they film themselves in the third person. Of note, there are widespread examples in which people of all genders misuse the term in this way. The misuse of "POV" has led some online to craft outlandish sociological theories to explain why women seem to not comprehend the term, with one viral example leading to intense discourse and debate in July 2024. These claims have notably been pushed back against online by some who claim they are misogynistic.

Origin

On social media platforms in the late 2010s and early 2020s, multiple short-form video trends emerged in which users acted out scenes where the camera was intended to be the POV of the viewer. For example, in the POV Funerals trend, the camera is placed such that the viewer has the perspective of lying in a coffin.

However, some users on social media misused the term "POV" making these videos, filming themselves in the third person and acting out a scene mislabeled as being from the point of view of the viewer. For example, in the POV: You're Getting Arrested trend, creators of both genders filmed themselves pretending to get arrested but called it a "POV" of getting arrested.

Many commenters have remarked that women often misuse the term "POV" for skits or stories about their lives. For example, in October 2023, conservative influencer Ashley St. Clair posted a video mocking then-Presidential candidate Ron DeSantis for a rumor that he wore boots to artificially inflate his height. She captioned the video, "POV: you're ron desantis getting reading to leave the house," but then filmed herself acting as DeSantis putting on high heels (seen below).

In an attempt to appear relatable, Black states in February 2026 that she looks at her property tax bills and year after year it gets higher: “every year I open my property tax bill and every year it gets higher.” The problem is Black bought her home in 2024, 2025 was the first full year of her owning her home.

Black didn't even vote in the 2025 constitutional amendment election. During the election, voters approved property tax cuts for homeowners and businesses; funding for water, higher education, and dementia research; tax credit/exemptions for veteran families, border security, animal feed and victims of house fires; as well as constitutional protections against capital gains and death taxes.

- ◆ Black talks tough on property taxes, implying that she will lower them and encouraging people to protest their appraisals. Appearing on Michael Reeves YouTube Channel, Black said:

[I'm a] problem solver fixes broken systems. I see that working families are working twice as hard and they're not getting any further. We have property taxes going up. We have people that cannot know where their their taxes are going, but they're still going up.

...So, if we don't agree with the appraisal given to us or we think that we deserve maybe a little break because of certain things in our house, I just did this last year, we can protest. That's our right. Of course, we should exercise our rights.

- ◆ There were 17 constitutional amendment propositions in 2025; all passed, albeit by different percentages. Voters approved property tax cuts for homeowners and businesses; funding for water, higher education, and dementia research; tax credit/exemptions for veteran families, border security, animal feed and victims of house fires; as well as constitutional protections against capital gains and death taxes.
- ◆ Prop 13 raised the homestead exemption from $100k to $140k.

Proposition 13 – SJR 2

“The constitutional amendment to increase the amount of the exemption of residence homesteads from ad valorem taxation by a school district from $100,000 to $140,000.”

After another large increase in 2023, this amendment would again raise the resident homestead exemption for school districts. This has become a regular practice for the Legislature as property values and tax bills rise. For reference, in 2015 the homestead exemption was only $15,000, with voters that year approving an increase to $25,000.

Because of the way our schools are funded, schools do not lose money. This arrangement would swap local revenue for state revenue. As mentioned in Every Texan’s testimony on SB 4, the flat-dollar homestead exemption—in this case, $140,000 off the taxable value of every homeowner’s residence—is the most equitable way to cut taxes for homeowners. It’s the same amount for everyone, regardless of their home’s value. Such a proposal, however, does nothing for renters, and with the big increases in the homestead exemption in recent years, it is important to carefully consider preserving revenue.

I'm a former federal contractor and currently running for the Texas State House, so having the right legal counsel is critical given the level of exposure and scrutiny involved. I've known Alex Ion for years and had a strong experience working with him through Ion Law. He understands how to handle sensitive matters and provides clear, practical guidance on contracts and business issues. It was reassuring knowing I was working with someone who represents high-profile clients and operates comfortably in environments where reputation matters. I'd recommend Ion Law to anyone in a leadership role or running a business who needs reliable legal representation.

Black claims that she “builds businesses” and has experience working for NASA and Department of Defense.

A recent updated resume makes no mention of government contracts with NASA, DOD or any government entity except for Iowa’s Department of Health & Human Resources, work Black received as a contract employee of an IT vendor, not through her own business. The only “business” identified with Black is BNR Ventures LLC, which is the entity she uses to own a second home/rental property in Wood County.

So you know, I worked really hard to do that and to also build the businesses that I currently have, and now I feel like it's time that I give that back, and that I share that experience and that knowledge with my community, because we are definitely a young tech forward, you know, community, and that is what we need here, and what we need in state government is someone who understands technology, understands planning and infrastructure.

In a zoom call interview, Black boldly proclaimed:
"there's nobody better that's going to be able to represent this district better than me. My values align perfectly."

Black wants to push more "mixed income housing" into your neighborhood.

- ◆ Black states in an interview with Mothers against Greg Abbott – Mothers For Democracy:

when there's mixed income housing and mixed income in our community, it only benefits the community, and it helps with our taxes as well. So, our tax burden isn't as harsh as, and on a certain income level, as everybody else. [timestamp 7:35]

Violent crime plagues large apartment complexes in Dallas – but researchers say City Hall can help

- ◆ Many studies show crime increases with government mandated affordable/mixed housing. Broken Windows theory is often invoked: visible disorder and tolerance of minor incivilities signal vulnerability and invite more serious crime
 - Section 8 / Housing Voucher Studies and Crime Spillovers: Some analyses of voucher programs find links to increased arrests or localized issues when vouchers move recipients into new areas without strong landlord screening or management. A notable example is research using Houston voucher lottery data showing voucher receipt associated with increases in violent crime arrests
 - Suburban and Middle-Class Area Impacts: Studies on affordable/LIHTC developments in higher-income suburbs sometimes show neutral-to-negative effects on property values or racial/income diversity, with potential crime concerns. One analysis done by Stanford University of projects found price drops (~2.5%) and reduced diversity near developments in higher-income neighborhoods (vs. benefits in poor areas). Critics cite cases where "affordable" mandates in new subdivisions lead to complaints about management failures, tenant behavior clashes, and declining appeal.
- ◆ A Manhattan Institute study shows that there are several negative impacts on housing market

AUGUST 2021

The Exclusionary Effects of Inclusionary Zoning: Economic Theory and Empirical Research

Connor Harris

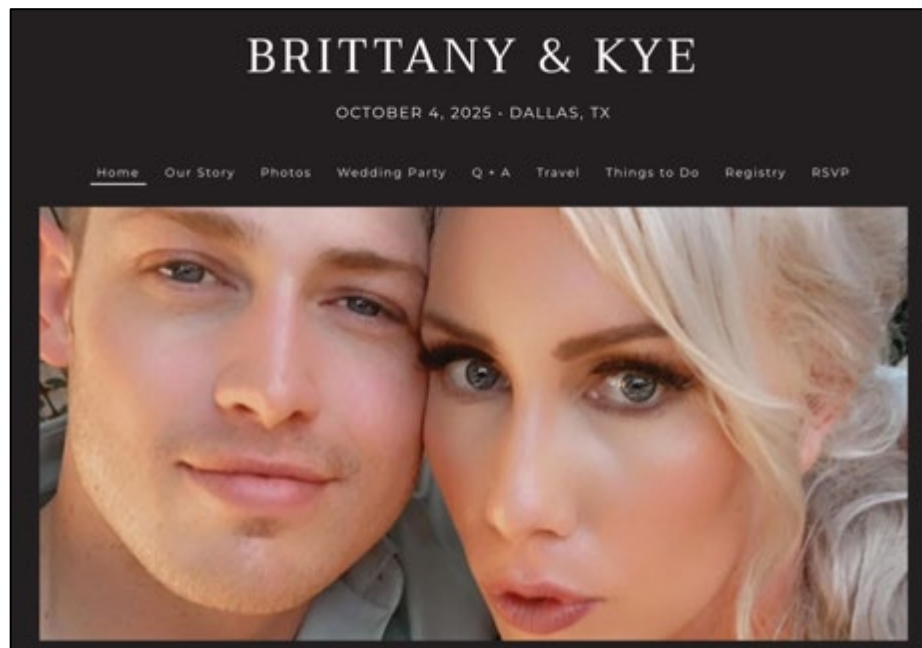

FELLOW
Manhattan Institute

Executive Summary

Many cities with high housing costs have adopted “inclusionary zoning” (IZ) ordinances that either incentivize or force developers of large housing projects to rent a portion of the units for below-market rates. A priori economic reasoning suggests that such policies reduce housing supply and make market-rate housing more expensive and lower-quality. Empirical studies focusing mostly on suburban regions partially bear out such worries: though the evidence is conflicted, many studies show that IZ in such areas has noticeable distorting effects on the housing market. Several case studies of large cities that have adopted IZ programs, furthermore, suggest that at least certain kinds of policies in these programs can cause dramatic reductions in housing construction. And IZ programs consistently produce too few units to be more than a minor part of housing affordability programs. This report concludes by suggesting ways that IZ programs—if unavoidable—can be designed to mitigate harmful market distortions.

Black met her now husband, Kye Reczek when he was working as a mailman in Illinois delivering mail to her house. Both were living in Illinois at the time. They married in October 2025 in Dallas. Reczek is Black's campaign treasurer.

- ◆ Their wedding registry website had “their story”:

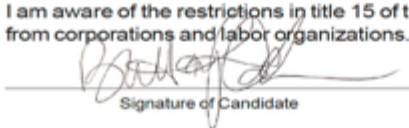

HOW WE MET - THANKS TO THE USPS

If you know Brittany, you know she does not empty her mailbox of junk mail. Kye was Brittany's mailman in Champaign. When he tried to deliver her mail one day with the mailbox being full, he emptied the contents and brought them to her door. That meeting lead to Brittany leaving a note in her mailbox asking if he wanted to meet for tacos. He responded with a note that he was in a relationship. However, about 8 months later, he left Brittany's original letter, back in her mailbox with a note, that he would like to meet. And... the rest is history and here we are!!

Embarrassing and insensitive Venmo transactions. Black's public Venmo activity between her now husband and some of her friends include payments labeled: "strippers and blow;" "your 3 day old panties;" "Merry Kwanza;" "2-time poke and choke" and "midget money." Reczek also paid Black for "Thank you for buying lunch for everyone. But you didn't have to scream the N-word after we ate it..." and another transaction for "Mexicans." Another transaction appears to mock the handicapped.

WHY BRITTANY IS RUNNING

A Leader for District 61

Brittany is running for Texas House District 61 because too many families are paying more and getting less, and too many decisions are being made without listening to the people who live here. She believes we deserve leadership that reflects our values, understands real-world problems, and delivers results that strengthen our communities for the next generation.

Schools are closing, costs keep rising, and decisions are made without transparency. Brittany is a senior software engineer and business owner where she fixes broken systems for a living. Her work has spanned projects supporting national defense and critical infrastructure for the Department of Defense, NASA, and the State Department. Brittany is running to strengthen public schools, make life more affordable, and protect Texans with honest, accountable leadership.

When the extremes win, we all lose.

Fuel a Campaign That Puts People First

This campaign is powered by neighbors – not corporate donors or special interests. If you believe in strong public schools, real affordability, and honest leadership in District 61, I'd be honored to earn your support today!

We're building early momentum – Every dollar helps us reach more voters and flip this seat.

OUR PRIORITIES

A Fighter for District 61 Values

Brittany is focused on listening to the people of District 61 and delivering results that reflect our shared values: strong schools, affordability, safety, transparency, and a future built to last.

Stop the Squeeze on Families

Brittany will fight for real affordability: lower everyday costs, responsible property tax reform, and a state budget that respects taxpayers. Brittany supports practical solutions that lower healthcare costs, protect coverage, and expand access to mental health services.

Public Dollars. Public Schools.

When schools are under-funded, local taxes rise and communities lose. Brittany will fight to keep public education dollars in public schools, protect local control, and invest in the future of our kids, our teachers, and our communities.

People Before Politics

Brittany believes government should work for the people who live and work here — and that starts with listening. She'll be accessible, responsive, and grounded in the values of District 61, fighting corruption and delivering practical results for families.

Public Safety & Strong Communities

Safe communities start with trust, resources, and smart leadership. Brittany supports police and first responders while also advocating for better resources for victims, mental health services, and prevention. Public safety means safer streets, safer schools, and ensuring Texans in District 61 feel supported.

Infrastructure That Works

Brittany supports practical, community-focused investments in roads, water, and infrastructure that keep families safe and our local economy moving. With a background in systems and long-term planning, Brittany will prioritize infrastructure solutions that reduce congestion, create local jobs, and make everyday life more affordable for families in our community.

Accessible, Affordable Health Care

Families shouldn't have to choose between their health and their finances. Brittany believes health care should be accessible, affordable, and reliable — especially for working families, seniors, and small business owners. She supports strengthening local health care access and protecting patients from surprise costs.

Please list below 3 key messages of your campaign. What are the main points you want voters to remember about your goals for your time in office? ▼

- Families are being squeezed by rising costs, higher property taxes, and neighborhoods that aren't getting the services they pay for. I will fight for policies that lower everyday costs, protect homeowners and renters, and ensure our tax dollars actually benefit our community. As a senior software engineer and business owner, I know how to build efficient systems and eliminate waste — and I'll bring that same focus on affordability and accountability to Austin.
- District 61 is growing fast, but Austin isn't keeping up. We need reliable power, safer roads, and real planning to prevent preventable outages and congestion. I'll work to strengthen community safety, modernize the grid, and ensure families can count on stable, functioning infrastructure. My background in national security and technology taught me how to solve complex problems — and I'll bring that expertise to protecting our community's well-being.
- Texans deserve a government that tells the truth, uses tax dollars responsibly, and works for the people — not insiders or special interests. I will champion full transparency in budgeting, contracting, and agency performance so families can finally see where their money goes. I come from a family of farmers and military members who believed public service means putting community first — and that's exactly how I will lead.

What areas of public policy are you personally passionate about? ▼

I am passionate about affordability, safety, transparent government, strong public schools, reliable infrastructure, and fair opportunities for small businesses. As a woman business owner and senior engineer, I've seen how rising costs, unreliable power, and opaque decision-making hurt families and entrepreneurs alike. I believe in investing in public schools, protecting neighborhoods, making life more affordable, and ensuring government is open, honest, and accountable. My focus is on practical, people-first solutions that lift up every family in District 61.

Three people. Three completely different perspectives. One topic that affects nearly every homeowner in Collin County.

And honestly... this may be one of the most important conversations happening this summer.

On July 10th at 6:30 PM, Brittany Black is bringing together an impressive panel of guests for:

FOLLOW THE MONEY:
 Property Taxes, Development & What's REALLY Driving Your Bill

John & Judy Gay Library

Joining her will be:

- Anthony Satarino
Executive Director of the Celina Economic Development Corporation with nearly two decades of experience in economic development, growth strategy, and community planning. He works directly with the realities of rapid North Texas growth and the financial decisions that shape our cities. (Celina Economic Development Corporation)
- Sumbel Zeb
One of the first publicly elected members of the Collin Central Appraisal District Board of Directors. She has been serving on the board during one of the most explosive periods of growth in Collin County and has a unique perspective on the appraisal system that impacts homeowners across the county. (zebforcollin.com)
- Michael Reeves
Founder of The Andy App, a McKinney-based company focused entirely on helping Texas homeowners understand and challenge property tax assessments. His mission is to make a confusing process easier for everyday Texans to understand. (Community Impact)

Whether you love growth, hate growth, are frustrated with your tax bill, curious about development, or simply want to understand where your money is actually going, this is your opportunity to hear directly from people who work in these systems every day.

So let me ask you something...

If North Texas keeps adding thousands of new residents, new businesses, new homes, and new developments every year...

Why do so many people feel like they're paying more and getting less?

I'm genuinely curious.

What question would YOU want answered?

Drop it below, and if enough people ask the same thing, maybe we can make sure it gets brought up at the Town Hall.

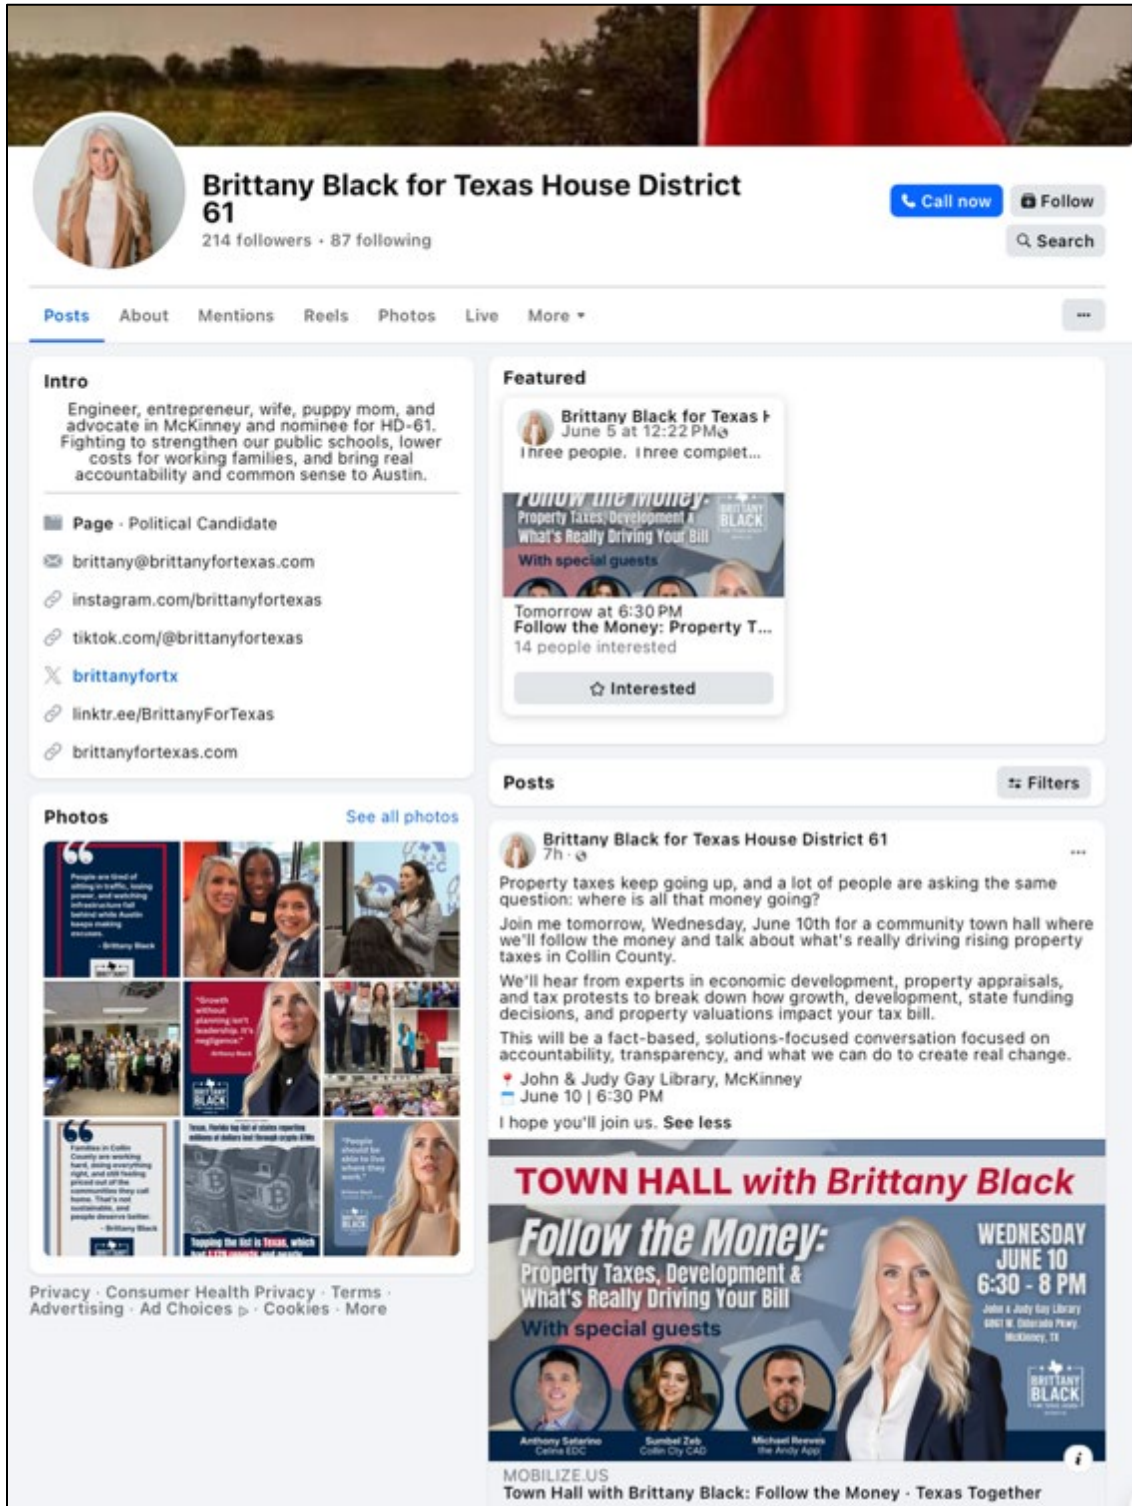

Because I have a feeling this conversation is going to challenge a lot of assumptions.

Property taxes keep going up, and a lot of people are asking the same question: where is all that money going?
Join me tomorrow, Wednesday, June 10th for a community town hall where we'll follow the money and talk about what's really driving rising property taxes in Collin County.
We'll hear from experts in economic development, property appraisals, and tax protests to break down how growth, development, state funding decisions, and property valuations impact your tax bill.
This will be a fact-based, solutions-focused conversation focused on accountability, transparency, and what we can do to create real change.

Candidates taking the Oath of The Politician's Creed are working to set a higher standard of representation for their constituents. The TPC Oath is the yardstick by which that representation can be measured. Without well-defined expectations, accountability to the people becomes slippery.

I'm a former federal contractor and currently running for the Texas State House, so having the right legal counsel is critical given the level of exposure and scrutiny involved. I've known Alex Ion for years and had a strong experience working with him through Ion Law. He understands how to handle sensitive matters and provides clear, practical guidance on contracts and business issues. It was reassuring knowing I was working with someone who represents high-profile clients and operates comfortably in environments where reputation matters. I'd recommend Ion Law to anyone in a leadership role or running a business who needs reliable legal representation.

ABSOLUTELY TERRIBLE!! Stay away! They tell you He will guarantee his work but he will do a terrible job and then never respond again! Run away with your money! They tore up my yard, did a terrible job and now water sits on this concrete and poisons my dog. He said they would come back to fix it but of course he now has disappeared and ghosted me. He needs to be reported to BBB!!

Dr Karavan rushed through the appointment and made me feel like a patient in an assembly line. I've honestly never felt like that. It was awful. Everyone else was great, and the nurse even apologized for her and answered my questions for her but that was terrible, and not professional. I don't know about going back honestly.

Terrible. Our server took no less than 20 minutes to get to us, and rolled her eyes when she saw she had a table. Then walked up to us and said "order". Never came back, never got a refill, husband never got his food. Absolutely ridiculous. I understand this is part of the all inclusive but I'd rather pay and have a better experience than this.

FEDERAL ELECTION COMMISSION
WASHINGTON, D.C.

MS-K

December 12, 2025

BETH FRONCZAK, TREASURER
BRITTANY BLACK FOR CONGRESS
P.O. BOX 42
WESTON, TX 75097

IDENTIFICATION NUMBER: C00928580

REFERENCE: TERMINATION REPORT, RECEIVED 12/08/2025

Dear Treasurer:

Your committee's filing has been accepted as a termination. Your committee is no longer required to file reports on a periodic basis. If your committee has any remaining debts or residual funds, you are still responsible for settling all outstanding obligations and/or disposing of any residual funds. (11 CFR § 102.3(a)(1)) In addition, 52 U.S.C. § 30102(d) and Sections 102.9(c) and 104.14(b)(3) of the Commission's Regulations require that you maintain your records and copies of reports for inspection for at least three (3) years. You may also be required to respond to Commission requests for information regarding your committee's federal election activity and previously filed reports.

If your committee again becomes active in federal elections, it will be required to re-register with the Commission in accordance with the Federal Election Campaign Act and applicable Regulations. Your committee will be treated as a new entity by the Commission and should register as a new committee on FEC FORM 1, pursuant to 52 U.S.C. §§ 30102(g) and 30103(a).

If you have any questions concerning your status and requirements, please contact the Reports Analysis Division on the toll-free number, (800) 424-9530 (at the prompt press 5 to reach the Reports Analysis Division). My local number is (202) 694-1440.

Sincerely,

Patrick Harkins

Total 2025 Taxes Due

1,430.38

The Amount shown above is for current tax year only. Taxes for 2025 become delinquent after January 31, 2026.

Property taxes in Texas are assessed as of January 1st each year and cover a period of one year from that date. Tax statutes make no provisions for proration; therefore a change of address during the year would have no effect on tax liability established on January 1st of the calendar year. These tax statutes also make no provision for proration in case the property is disposed of during the calendar year. Also, if you owned personal property described on the tax statement on January 1st, you are personally liable for the taxes.
