RESEARCH FINDINGS _____ 15

Markowitz is campaigning on “reducing class sizes” yet she opposes school choice/education savings accounts which will do just that when parents utilize them. _____ 16

Markowitz claims on her campaign website that “Republicans funnel taxpayer money to fund charter schools through the use of vouchers.” Charter schools are public schools, no “voucher” required. _____ 17

During the 2026 Democrat primary runoff, Markowitz claimed she was told she was ineligible to vote and had to vote via a provisional ballot. She then posted a ridiculous selfie and took a jab at the non-existent Texas Elections Commission (assumably she meant the Texas Ethics Commission) even though its Fort Bend County who operated the elections, and it was a clerical error from a local Fort Bend election official uploading the wrong file. There was no hardware problem with voting machines. Interestingly, Markowitz is wearing a campaign t-shirt in her selfie photo, which would be a violation of electioneering laws if she wore it inside the polling place, although she clarified she was in a Walgreens not a polling place when she took the photo. _____ 18

Markowitz opposes a border wall and believes in amnesty for illegals. _____ 25

Markowitz: “for every dollar the Texas state government spends on public services for undocumented immigrants, new research indicates, the state collects $1.21 in revenue. So. You can stop now.” _____ 28

Woke Alert. Markowitz is “honored to be supported by” the Houston LGBTQ Caucus, and vows to stand up for “LGBTQ+ Texans” and “fight back against efforts to erase or harm our communities.” The Houston LGBTQ Caucus has a long history opposing common sense legislation that protects kids from transgender ideology, like laws to protect girls/women sports and private spaces and even rules about keeping homeless encampments away from school zones. _____ 30

Markowitz wants your kids to access LGBT propaganda while using public school internet networks. Markowitz complained that Katy ISD was blocking the leftwing LGBT “resource” The Trevor Project. _____ 34

Maybe if Markowitz spent less time in politics, she would have more time to fulfill her responsibilities as a teacher. Markowitz has 16 “awful” scores on Rate My Professor, with students complaining about her unresponsiveness, cancelling classes, poor communication, all while being a harsh grader. One student warned “This is the worst professor I have ever taken;” another complained about her “One sided, liberal POV.” One student simply wrote “Noooooooooooo.” _____ 36

Markowitz—a la “Dr.” Jill Biden—refers to herself as “Dr. Eliz Markowitz” in her campaign literature, not just academic settings, but has a doctorate in education. _____ 39

Throws Katy under the bus. On a podcast, a fellow liberal woman mocked Katy for its affluence and success, saying “very affluent, very well to-do, very dare-I-say like if you don’t have any money you don’t belong in the Katy area, kinda like that.” Markowitz laughs and then says “I wouldn’t say that your ideas about Katy are necessarily wrong. I think that there is still that idea about Katy.” Then Markowitz celebrates how many minorities have moved into Katy and Fort Bend. _____ 41

Supported COVID tyranny in schools. Markowitz supported local school districts forcing schools to be closed or kids to be forced to wear masks. _____ 42

“I would completely support the George Floyd Act”. Markowitz is in favor of passing laws that would make police officers less likely to perform their duty as they would be more vulnerable to litigation. _____ 44

In her 2020 campaign for state representative, Markowitz called for “an end to mass incarceration” and the “school-to-prison pipeline.” _____ 45

Markowitz stated she is not in favor of defunding the police but contradicts herself by stating “I also think that we need to decide how and what the police force should be dealing with, and that may require redirecting certain revenue streams to alternative areas.” _____ 46

Markowitz: “Cities in Texas are taking REAL action to address the legitimate outrage against the unjust deaths of people of color, and how does our Governor respond? By threatening to freeze property taxes.” _____ 47

Support for Medicaid expansion. _____ 49

Markowitz supported Medicare for All. _____ 50

Hypocrisy. According to Markowitz, “We will see the fall of this country” if politicians don’t stop villainizing one another and work towards bipartisanship. Markowitz states this after claiming her campaign was honest and had “integrity, diversity and inclusion in everything that we do.” Hypocritically, Markowitz shares a post calling people who disagree with her “radical left” positions “inhumane people”; and if you question the 2020 election you are a “far right extremist” and the Jan 6 protestors were “domestic terrorists.” _____ 52

In 2019, Markowitz claimed she had “no game plan” if elected but to just “to help the people of my community and the people of Texas.” Yea, how? _____ 56

Markowitz: “we need to take immediate action to diminish the use of fossil fuels.” Markowitz, despite her building wealth through the oil industry, believes climate change will destroy the world and pushes a radical green agenda, stating “if we don't do something, we don't leave a world to inhabit for our children.” Markowitz has no children. _____ 57

Liberal logic. In a bizarre 2020 Facebook post, Markowitz talked about how her Dad decided to retire because of the Covid lockdowns on the oil industry. Despite stating the energy industry is “essential to our economic growth” in Texas, Markowitz stated that “We must be measured in our response to reopening.” So, her dad retires early because the industry is in shock due to lockdowns and Markowitz's response is don't open up? Markowitz has also stated separately that we need to “diminish the use of fossil fuels.” _____ 58

Markowitz: “We must continue to support organizations such as CAIR and tackle the scourge of Islamophobia; all individuals should be treated with respect and dignity!” CAIR (Council on American Islamic Relations) is a radical Muslim group constantly complaining about “Islamophobia” and defending figures like Rashida Tlaib and Ilhan Omar. Gov. Abbott declared CAIR a “Foreign Terrorist and Transnational Criminal Organization.” _____ 59

How did Markowitz pay for all her decades of school? _____ 70

Markowitz plans to remove standardized testing because it “is inevitably and inherently racist in its creation and distribution.” _____ 72

Markowitz admits that people call her “Radical Left” and thinks “humanity feels radical to inhumane people.” _____ 73

Markowitz celebrated the 2020 election and dismissed any possibility of election fraud. She blamed Trump for “inciting an insurrection.” _____ 74

Markowitz wants automatic voter registration and to eliminate voter ID laws. _____ 77

Markowitz claimed it was “voter suppression” to not have ballot drop boxes. _____ 78

Markowitz joked that she was “lookin’ for a wife” before gay marriage is overturned. _____ 79

Markowitz called the trans activist Monica Roberts “amazing”, and she was “devastated” to hear that he passed away, stating “Rest in power.” _____ 80

Markowitz defended the 2024 Paris Olympics opening ceremony and implied those who were offended or disgusted were pearl clutching. _____ 81

Markowitz wants biological males in girls’ sports and thinks Texas should not discriminate against “our transgender children.” _____ 82

Markowitz opposed efforts to stop gender transition surgeries on minors. _____ 85

Markowitz thinks “telling black men to respect cops” is like “telling women to dress appropriately so they don’t get raped.” _____ 86

Can men get pregnant, Eliz? Markowitz spoke at the Fort Bend Women’s March in 2021 and spent her time complaining about how pro-life legislation effects the “pregnant person,” the “pregnant population” and the “individual forced to carry a pregnancy.” In 2021, Markowitz claimed she didn’t “ever” want to hear from pro-life people unless they supported draconian Covid restrictions on children, because isolation, masking and vaccination of children save their lives. _____ 87

“Listen...straight white man” don’t you dare use the phrase “DEI hire”—you’re just insecure. _____ 91

Markowitz believes the assassination attempt on Trump shows nothing more than the need for more “common sense” gun laws. _____ 92

Markowitz called for red flag laws and the elimination of 2nd amendment rights for college students. _____ 93

Markowitz’s Facebook account was blocked by the Facebook group Katy ISD Matters for supposedly sharing pornographic images with children which she denies. Markowitz publicly attacked a mom who spoke out about the “young adult novel” Jack of Hearts, which graphically describes sex acts so much so that the news story Markowitz shared couldn’t quote the book. The mother only called for the book to be moved somewhere that requires parental supervision, but Markowitz thinks that’s “censorship” and a “slippery slope.” Markowitz, who has no children, wants to use your tax dollars to give children books about how to perform oral sex and get sodomized. _____ 94

“Book banning” and lack of inclusivity is a big concern for Markowitz despite having no children of her own. She posts about it often on Facebook. _____ 101

Markowitz signed and shared a 2021 online petition to “move” Katy ISD into the “21st century” by demanding the ISD include sexual orientation and gender identity into its non-discrimination statement and remove the “Human Sexuality” filter on the ISD’s internet. She wants your kids to access LGBT websites while at school. _____ 104

Markowitz stated our justice system failed after they acquitted Kyle Rittenhouse of all charges. Rittenhouse defended himself after being attacked by a pedophile and an armed communist protestor during a violent riot. _____ 105

Arrested development. When she was 38 years old, Markowitz claimed her father was tired of listening to her moan, so he brought her to the animal shelter to get her a kitty. _____ 107

Markowitz opposed Prop 3 and Prop 6 in the 2021 constitutional election, which Texans overwhelmingly passed in response to the excesses and cruelties behind some of the Covid lockdown restrictions. Markowitz doesn't think nursing home patients should be allowed to name just one person who can't be denied visitation rights. Markowitz also believes the government should be able to limit religious gatherings at any time. _____ 108

Markowitz marched lockstep with Fauci during Covid, pushing the mainstream narrative and supporting every draconian rule from masking to vaxxing to social distancing. Markowitz posted repeatedly on social media about Covid. _____ 109

Markowitz went around her neighborhood pinning masks and gloves to people's homes. 116

Markowitz: "Please make sure you're following CDC guidelines & wear your mask outside" _____ 117

At the start of Covid, Markowitz made a series of videos explaining stay at home orders and other information. She actively encouraged people to self-quarantine and stay at home. 118

Markowitz mocked Ivermectin use during Covid. Will she admit she was wrong? Studies have proven it to be effective. Would she have voted against HB 25 in 2025 that made it easier for Texans to get Ivermectin? _____ 123

Markowitz said "shut it all down" during the 2020 primary election, posting how Ohio ordered its polls to close before the primary. _____ 125

Advocating for staying at home and social distancing, Markowitz tells everyone to "stay 3-6 feet away from each other at all times" and then pulls her 70-year-old asthmatic father into the frame, in a March 2020 video. _____ 126

In April 2020, Markowitz posted on Facebook showing off how the news was following her campaign and both Markowitz and her supporters are not wearing masks and not social distancing. On the same day she posted about the different types of Covid masks to wear. 127

In March 2021, wearing the t-shirt version of the "Science is real / Black lives matter..." yard signs, Markowitz celebrated getting her first vaccination, saying "Pfizer for the win!" A couple weeks later she posted her vaccine passport, saying she was fully vaxxed with her new booster. _____ 130

On #RareDiseaseDay, Markowitz declared she has Factor II Gene Deficiency. _____ 132

In 2020, Markowitz gave her "biggest piece of advice" to parents during the Covid lockdowns, "do not stress about it." Markowitz goes on to dismiss as "just not true" the concerns of parents about their children not learning or falling behind. In retrospect this is so tone-deaf coming from a non-parent considering the huge decline in reading and arithmetic scores due to the pandemic and lockdowns. _____ 133

Even in August 2021, Markowitz refused to teach her university courses or tutorial sessions in person. _____ 135

Markowitz was fanatical about masking kids in school, even in August 2021. Markowitz claimed that ISDs should defy the Governor’s orders, equating giving kids the choice to wear a mask or not was the equivalent of shooting and killing one kid out of 10,000 kids. _____ 136

Markowitz delivered two speeches to KISD to pressure and guilt-trip the board into imposing draconian measures, pretending that she was the voice for the voiceless teachers and families. She wanted the board to change the dress code to include face masks to get around Abbott’s executive order. She bemoaned that children were “crowded together in classes, elbow to life elbow at lunch.” Markowitz wanted to enforce “social distancing” on children throughout the whole school day even as they ate meals together. Markowitz said the board would be to blame if anyone died from Covid. _____ 138

Markowitz shared her “coming out story” on Facebook. _____ 141

“Dear Fellow White People” says Markowitz. _____ 142

Markowitz blames Beto O’Rourke for her 2020 election loss. _____ 143

Markowitz polices her own side as well, telling feminists described pro-life legislation as #TexasTaliban as promoting “Islamophobia.” _____ 145

Markowitz taught a class called Culture and Health, but it was her professional opinion that she had to introduce race and identity politics to the class. _____ 146

Markowitz cried antisemitism when she got backlash for her “Dear Fellow White People” post. On the other hand, Markowitz has worn a Palestinian flag pin and told Israel its actions were “unacceptable.” _____ 147

Markowitz complains about how hard it is for female candidates to choose their wardrobe. _____ 152

Markowitz is upset with people using their freedom of speech and comparing Covid vaccine tyranny to Nazi Germany. The only acceptable Nazi comparisons are ones that Democrats make, like Markowitz herself calling ICE detention centers “concentration camps.” _____ 153

Markowitz opposes constitutional carry. _____ 156

Both in 2021 and in 2025, Markowitz celebrated Democrat state legislators fleeing the state to break quorum. _____ 157

Markowitz attacks moderate Democrats by saying “maybe they aren’t a Democrat.” ____ 159

Markowitz promoted the “Stop the Asian hate” campaign. _____ 160

Markowitz is upset because a religion she is not a part of has different views than her. Markowitz attacks the Catholic church for refusing to bless same sex marriages. _____ 161

Markowitz wants to #TaxTheChurches _____ 162

Markowitz joked about the 2021 wildfires in California claiming her “space laser” did not cause it. _____ 163

Markowitz was fully on board with the Black Lives Matter movement during the 2020 “summer of love.” Markowitz attended BLM protests, supported Kaepernick “taking a knee,” and told white people to “check their privilege.” _____ 164

According to Markowitz, the rioting and looting at BLM protests were done by “white people.” _____ 174

Markowitz opposes efforts to teach civic patriotism in schools or display “In God We Trust.” Markowitz opposes any effort to combat “critical race theory” in schools. _____ 175

12 months of CRT for the kids... Markowitz: “I would definitely advocate for a year-round school with month-long breaks in between” _____ 177

Markowitz advocated for redistributing the permanent school fund by socioeconomic status. _____ 178

Markowitz loves to talk about how much she is opposed to standardized testing but helps author books for the standardized tests via the Princeton Review. Markowitz was the primary author for a book called “The Princeton Review high school algebra I unlocked”. Markowitz has also been a co-author and contributing author for several other books. She herself profits off standardized testing. _____ 179

Markowitz posted, “Underestimate Me. That’ll be Fun.” Then proceeded to lose her election for Texas House district 28 by over 10 points. _____ 184

Markowitz cites the SPLC to accuse Trump of encouraging kids to bully other kids. _____ 185

Markowitz wants people to say who they support rather than who they don’t support. _ 186

Markowitz talks to voters in a condescending tone. _____ 187

Markowitz is endorsed by pro-abortion groups like Planned Parenthood and NARAL, gun control groups like Moms Demand Action, Green New Deal proponents like Sierra Club, teacher unions, and radical leftwing groups like Run for Something and Swing Left. Markowitz’s values and positions are far to the left of the average Texan. _____ 190

Markowitz is part of Indivisible Katy. The group reposted “86 47” _____ 197

Markowitz is allied with the radical left group Run for Something. Run for something is a far-left nationwide organization run by a NYC liberal that aims at recruiting and supporting “progressive candidates” and has been favorably described as “building an army of Zohran Mamdani.” Run for Something funnels George Soros’s Money into local races, as Soros’s Open Society Foundation gave a whopping $50 million to the group. Run for Something “alumni” include leftwing crazy woman, Nathya Raman, who is now running for Los Angeles mayor, and Texas’s very own James Talarico. _____ 207

In her 2020 campaign, Markowitz received thousands of dollars in in-kind contributions from the Texas Organizing Project. _____ 214

Joe Biden campaigned for Markowitz in 2020. _____ 215

Markowitz took $2,500 from Megan Hull in 2019-2020, activist and daughter of billionaire Blair Hull. Megan Hull “sits on the board of the Hull Family Foundation, which funds a variety of left-of-center advocacy groups including NARAL, the American Civil Liberties Union, Planned Parenthood, and the Council on American-Islamic Relations... In 2006, Megan Hull co-founded the Secretary of State Project, an effort sponsored by members of the Democracy Alliance and [] George Soros.” _____ 217

Markowitz has run and lost so many campaigns she’s confused herself, calling for “district” policies copied from her Katy ISD race on her campaign website for state representative. 219

Uh, weird. On a YouTube page run by Markowitz, there is a “Shorts” video of an older man with a creepy filter of Pennywise the Clown saying “They all float” followed by heavy metal music. _____ 220

CAMPAIGN WEBSITE

Advocating for High-Quality, Sustainable Reforms for All Texans!

I'm a native Texan and Katy ISD graduate, raised in Fort Bend county by a teacher and an oil worker. Over the course of my career, I've seen firsthand how our healthcare and education systems impact individual Texans and the community at large. I've fought hard to make both of our healthcare and education systems more efficient and accessible. I've advocated across the state to end our reliance on high-stakes STAAR testing, which wastes millions in taxpayer dollars and countless hours of instructional time, and I've worked with the Department of Health and Human Services to reduce adverse healthcare events.

I currently work as an instructor, corporate trainer, and author with the Princeton Review, where I train other teachers across the nation and still get to do what I love most -- spending time with students. I also teach Public Health at The University of Houston in the Department of Psychological, Health, and Learning services, where I've worked with students to develop innovative public health programs. I earned my bachelor's in Computer Science and Studio Art from Trinity University; three master's degrees in Business (UT San Antonio), Healthcare Informatics (UT Health Science Center at Houston), and Public Administration (University of Houston); and my doctorate in Curriculum and Instruction-Learning, Design, and Technology from the University of Houston.

I believe that we can achieve an economy that works for all Texans, while also ensuring that all Texans can receive affordable, accessible healthcare and high-quality education. I believe we deserve an education system that fights for and supports its students, teachers, and community. I believe we deserve representatives that actively work to develop solutions, rather than rejecting evidence-based strategies, both in times of crisis and calm. Above all, I believe we deserve a Texas that focuses on improving societal outcomes to ensure that all Texans achieve success in the global society in which we live. Texas deserves better!

Research Findings

Markowitz is campaigning on “reducing class sizes” yet she opposes school choice/education savings accounts which will do just that when parents utilize them.

- ◆ On her campaign website, Markowitz claims she will work to “reduce class sizes.”

EDUCATION

- Invest in both college and trade programs.
- Invest in early education child development programs
- Improve teacher retention through salary increases and advocate for benefits reform.
- Reduce class sizes
- Improve the state of Texas higher education.
- Eliminate the STAAR test, reinvesting the money to be spent on such tests into our public education system.

Markowitz claims on her campaign website that “Republicans funnel taxpayer money to fund charter schools through the use of vouchers.” *Charter schools are public schools, no “voucher” required.

During the last legislative session, we saw the Republicans funnel taxpayer money to fund charter schools through the use of vouchers, which do not have to educate all children and operate with little transparency. As your State Representative, I'll work to strengthen Texas schools and give every child the tools to succeed to ensure that our students are prepared to be productive members of the global society in which we live. That means raising teacher pay to attract and keep the best educators, expanding early childhood and literacy programs, and boosting career and technical education so students graduate ready for college or high-paying jobs. I'll fight to modernize classrooms, reduce over-testing, and make sure every student has a safe, supportive, and high-quality learning environment. Strong schools mean a stronger Texas economy!

Without an educated society, we are destined to see our economy fail. However, as your State Representative, my focus will be on building a stronger Texas economy that works for everyone. I'll push to invest in high-paying job training programs, expand rural broadband so every community can compete, and support small businesses with targeted grants and tax relief. We'll modernize infrastructure, attract innovative industries, and protect our agricultural backbone. By cutting unnecessary red tape and investing in our people, we can create more opportunities, raise wages, and keep Texas the best place to live, work, and build a future.

During the 2026 Democrat primary runoff, Markowitz claimed she was told she was ineligible to vote and had to vote via a provisional ballot. She then posted a ridiculous selfie and took a jab at the non-existent Texas Elections Commission (assumingly she meant the Texas Ethics Commission) even though its Fort Bend County who operated the elections, and it was a clerical error from a local Fort Bend election official uploading the wrong file. There was no hardware problem with voting machines. Interestingly, Markowitz is wearing a campaign t-shirt in her selfie photo, which would be a violation of electioneering laws if she wore it inside the polling place, although she clarified she was in a Walgreens not a polling place when she took the photo.

- ◆ Markowitz posted about it on social media. Her Facebook post which got much more traction than her X post, stated “Color me unimpressed with the Texas Elections Commission.”

Color me unimpressed with the TEC. 🙄

Fort Bend County investigating cause of voting system problem during primary runoff election

During Tuesday's election, a countywide issue with electronic polling books caused delays and interfered with voters' ability to cast a ballot for more than two hours.

Melissa Enaje | May 28, 2026, 4:10 PM

"A thorough review of this incident is currently underway," Wong said, "and I am requesting a complete review of the election administration procedures to strengthen safeguards and to ensure that disruption to county voting operations do not happen in the future."

Wong's communications director, Bobby Eberle, told Houston Public Media on Tuesday the glitch didn't affect voting machines, but rather the software that's used to check in voters and verify their registrations.

"They just uploaded the wrong file accidentally, one of the elections administrator's personnel," Eberle said. "As soon as they did that, they were isolating the problem and working with the vendor to find a solution."

Polling hours were not extended on Election Day as a result of the problem. According to election officials in the county southwest of Houston, voters who were unable to successfully check in could choose to submit a provisional ballot.

Immigration

The state of Texas is great because of the contributions of immigrants. The multitude of cultural and ethnic backgrounds only contribute to the economic prosperity and richness of our state.

As a state that shares its southern border with an ally, it would be in our best interests to enact fair and equitable immigration reform. As Texans we must support a secure border that protects Texans, and Americans, from bad actors. However, we must balance that by treating immigrants humanely, considering the pleas of asylum seekers and refugees with the utmost seriousness. We must support the passage of the DREAM Act, which will allow those here under DACA (Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals) to achieve their citizenship and their American dream.

We cannot allow the current policies of child separation, 'tender age' shelters, and a zero-tolerance approach to immigration to continue. We should not support using taxpayer money to build a border wall, which experts have stated will be ineffective. We must repeal Senate Bill 4, or the "Show Me Your Papers" law, which has simply led to an increase in xenophobic, racist, and bigoted behavior. We must value the power that is associated with the diverse skillsets of our immigrant population.

Early this morning, Texas State @RepHaroldDutton (D, Houston), chair of the Public Education committee, weaponized the authority entrusted to him by reviving harmful anti-trans legislation that had previously failed to move through the legislative process.

Statement on Chair Harold Dutton and SB 29

HOUSTON, TX – Early this morning, Texas State Representative Harold Dutton (D, Houston), chair of the Public Education committee, weaponized the authority entrusted to him by reviving harmful anti-trans legislation that had previously failed to move through the legislative process.

As the Houston Chronicle states, the Public Education committee failed to pass SB 29—the harmful bill that would prohibit trans youth from participating in UIL sports in accordance with their gender identity—on Tuesday of this week. Chair Dutton had previously stated publicly that he had no intention of allowing such legislation to pass through this Committee.

However, Chair Dutton announced from the Texas House floor at 1 a.m. Friday, May 7, 2021 that he scheduled a hearing for 9 a.m. specifically to vote SB 29 out of committee. The bill was voted out of committee 8 - 5, including Chair Dutton's vote in support.

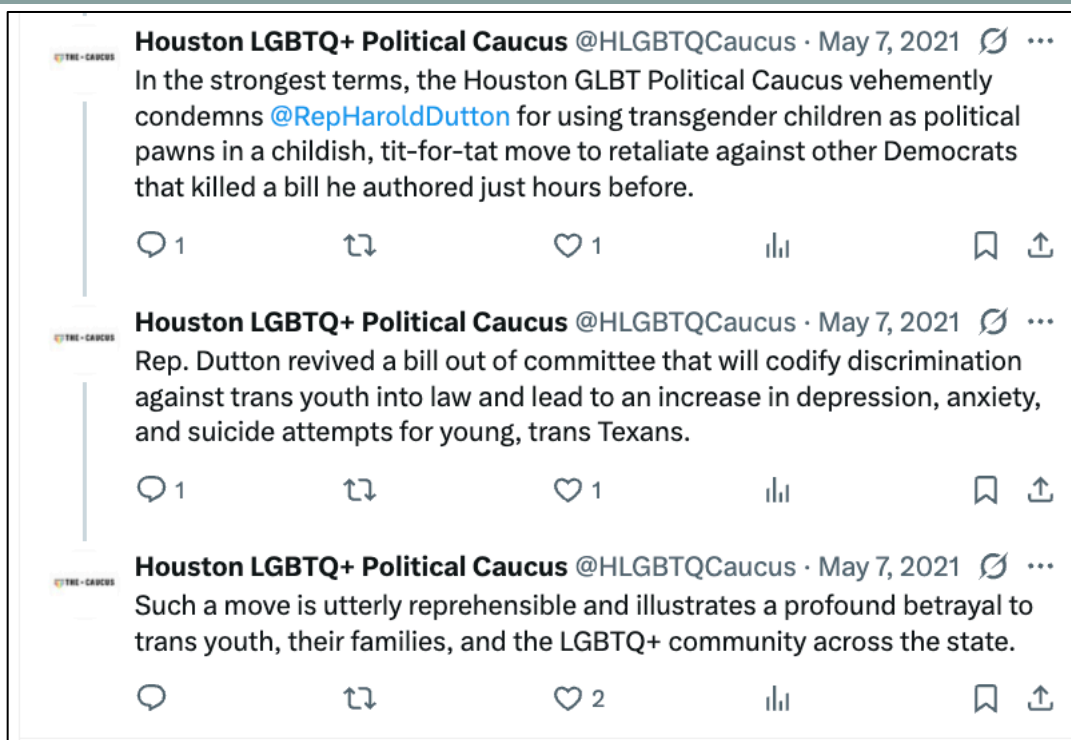

In the strongest terms, the Houston GLBT Political Caucus vehemently condemns Chair Dutton for using transgender children as political pawns in a childish, tit-for-tat move to retaliate against other Democrats that killed a bill he authored just hours before. Rep. Dutton revived a bill out of committee that will codify discrimination against trans youth into law and lead to an increase in depression, anxiety, and suicide attempts for young, trans Texans. Such a move is utterly reprehensible and illustrates a profound betrayal to trans youth, their families, and the LGBTQ+ community across the state.

Although Rep. Dutton screened for the Houston GLBT Political Caucus endorsement in 2020, the membership ultimately did not endorse his campaign in the primary or general elections.

The Houston GLBT Political Caucus is the South's oldest, civil rights organization dedicated solely to the advancement of gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgender equality. Founded in 1975, it is the largest GLBT political organization in the city of Houston and Harris County.

Supported COVID tyranny in schools. Markowitz supported local school districts forcing schools to be closed or kids to be forced to wear masks.

I think in a state like Texas, it's absolutely imperative that we give local government the chance to lead, because Texas is a very diverse, very large state, geographically speaking, and we can't have a single guideline from the state, because quite frankly, a one size fits all approach would not work in Texas, and so that means we need to empower local leaders to make the best decisions for their school districts and for the their schools in general, and that may differ between schools within a district, but quite frankly, we need to allow those leaders, these local leaders, to set the guidelines and not be handcuffed by the administration and Governor Abbott mandating statewide laws that may not be applicable to the local guidelines and local needs.

The Hobby School of Public Affairs at the University of Houston and Houston Public Media are hosting a series of candidate forums in a conversational format that avoids the typical debate structure. A moderator from Houston Public Media will present topics and questions to the candidates, allow for answers, and moderate discussion around the topics and questions. Strict time limits on answers will not be enforced. Instead, candidates are expected to participate in a mature discussion with their constituents and a willingness to engage in a more disciplined forum.

This forum features candidates for the 28th district of the Texas House of Representatives: the Republican incumbent Gary Gates, and the Democratic challenger Eliz Markowitz.

Republican Gary Gates is the current representative for this district. A businessman and father of 13, Gates won his seat in a special runoff election against Markowitz in January. As a member of the 86th Legislative Session, Gates serves on the Appropriations and Pensions, Investments & Financial Services Committees.

Native Texan and raised in Sugar Land, Democratic challenger Eliz Markowitz has spent her career in education as an instructor, trainer, and author. She received her doctorate in Curriculum and Instruction from the University of Houston, and is running on issues such as healthcare rights, education reform, and criminal justice reform.

Yes, I would completely support the George Floyd Act. I think that when the nation saw a law enforcement officer, someone officers, someone who is sworn to protect and serve, kneel on the neck of an unarmed black man for eight minutes and 46 seconds, draining the life out of him that we saw that we need to have regulations in place, so this does not happen again, and so I would completely and wholeheartedly support the George Floyd legislation, and I would say that all officers need to be trained in de-escalation training. They need to have implicit bias training, so that we can get to the root cause of the systemic racism that is inherent within our criminal justice system, and so that we can tackle all of the issues related to race as it relates to police brutality. I think that eliminating chokeholds is a great step, and I think that when faced with nonviolent individuals, we should not be using violence on nonviolence. It is completely antithetical to everything that we believe in as a society that believes that an individual has the right to liberty and is innocent until proven guilty, and to take the life of someone because of the snap judgment of an uninformed officer is poor at best.

Criminal Justice Reform

We must reform the broken criminal justice system and put an end to mass incarceration. Specifically, we must end the failed "war on drugs," which disproportionately affects minority populations. We must be proactive when handling drug incidents and substance abuse cases by prioritizing prevention and treatment over prison. We must implement drug courts, veterans' courts, and diversionary programs that provide nonviolent offenders with rehabilitation opportunities, rather than mandated incarceration.

We must eliminate for-profit prisons and detention centers in the state of Texas, which have been found to be corrupt, racist, and inhumane in their treatment. By ending both the "war on drugs" and eliminating for-profit prisons and detention centers, we can end the school-to-prison pipeline by investing in jobs and education, rather than in jails and incarceration.

We must invest in educational training for officers in order to end racial profiling that targets individuals on the basis of race, ethnicity, national origin, or religion. Officers must also be required to wear body cameras, taught methods of de-escalation, and trained on the appropriate use of force. All of the above will work to improve police-community relations.

Markowitz stated she is not in favor of defunding the police but contradicts herself by stating “I also think that we need to decide how and what the police force should be dealing with, and that may require redirecting certain revenue streams to alternative areas.”

Yeah, so I'm really glad this question came up, because unlike many of the mailers that have been going out around me, I do not support defunding the police. I think that it is absolutely terrible idea to defund the police, and I think that the tagline that has been associated with all the Democrats for defunding the police is poor at best. I think, as Representative Gates said there are bad apples that we need to remove from the system, and we can do that through increased training. I also think that we need to decide how and what the police force should be dealing with, and that may require redirecting certain revenue streams to alternative areas, so if we're discussing a domestic dispute, we may not need to send a police officer out to that domestic dispute, but instead we would send counseling services out to take care of that, and mental health services, and just a myriad of other ways to handle things that don't require law enforcement officers, and so I think that we need to have a police force that is willing to protect the lives of the citizens of not just HD 28 in Fort Bend County and the state of Texas, but we also need to have alternative approaches to handle issues such as mental health issues and issues that may come up with regards to child custody and other issues that don't necessarily require a law enforcement officer coming to the house and having the the stigma associated with having the police come to handle a situation.

Healthcare

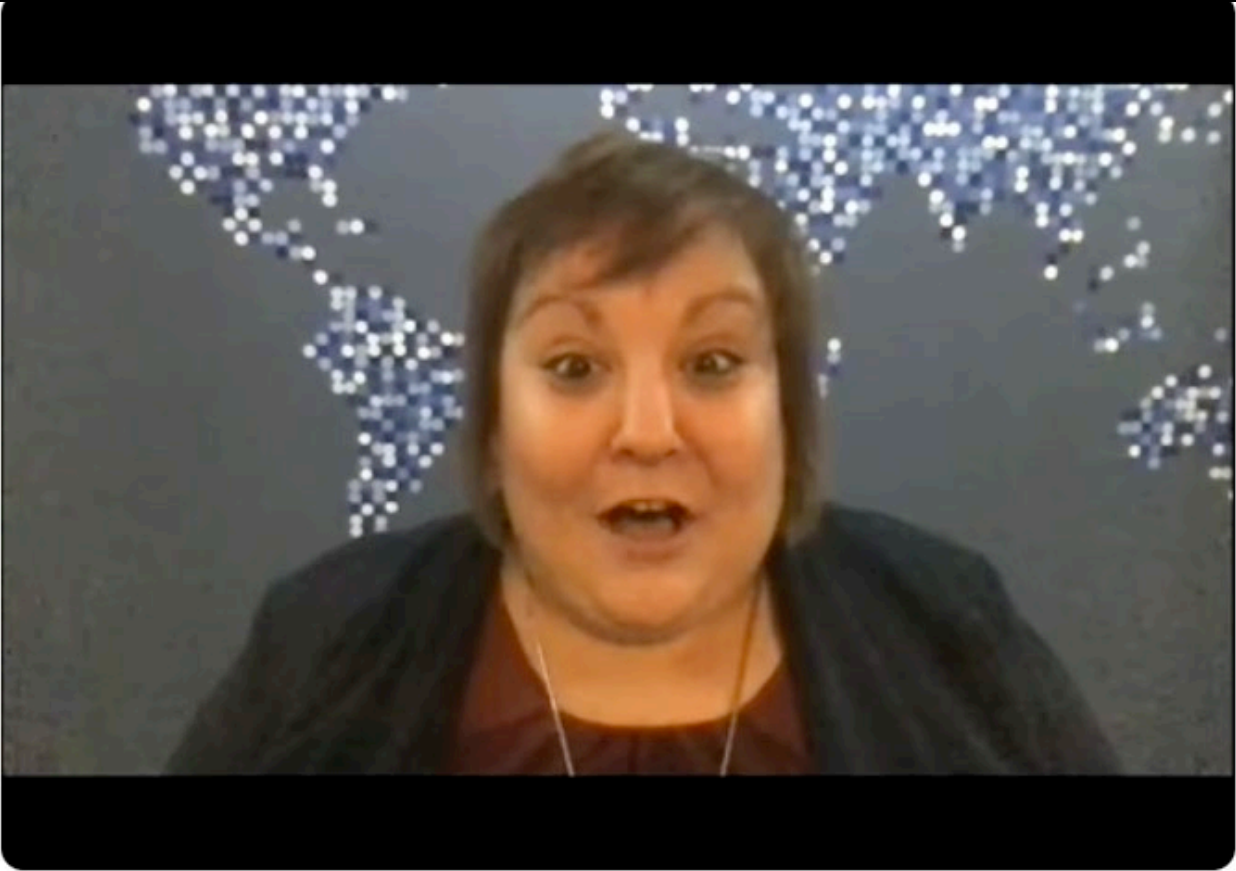

Every Texan should have access to high-quality, affordable health care. As a state, we must ensure that we provide comprehensive health care options to our all Texans, including the most vulnerable, our children, veterans, and seniors. No individual should be denied access because of a pre-existing condition or inability to pay an exorbitant hospital bill.

Texas has the highest uninsured rate in the nation, with more than 1 in 6 Texans lacking health coverage. By refusing Medicaid expansion, our representatives are leaving billions of federal dollars on the table every year—money that could be used to keep our rural hospitals open, lower the cost of care, and provide everyday Texans with affordable coverage. Expanding Medicaid isn't just about healthcare—it's about strengthening our economy, protecting our communities, and ensuring that every Texan can see a doctor when they need one. As your State Representative, I'll fight to bring our tax dollars back home and invest them where they belong: in the health of Texans.

Texas is one of the most diverse states in the nation and Fort Bend County one of the most diverse counties in the country. Despite this, too many communities face unequal access to care. Black mothers are more likely to die during childbirth, Hispanic families are more likely to be uninsured, and rural Texans often drive hours just to see a doctor. Reducing these disparities isn't just the right thing to do—it's smart policy. By expanding community health clinics, investing in bilingual and culturally competent care, and tackling barriers like cost and transportation, we can make sure every Texan has a fair chance at living a productive, healthy life.

◆ Markowitz (segment begins 50:58)

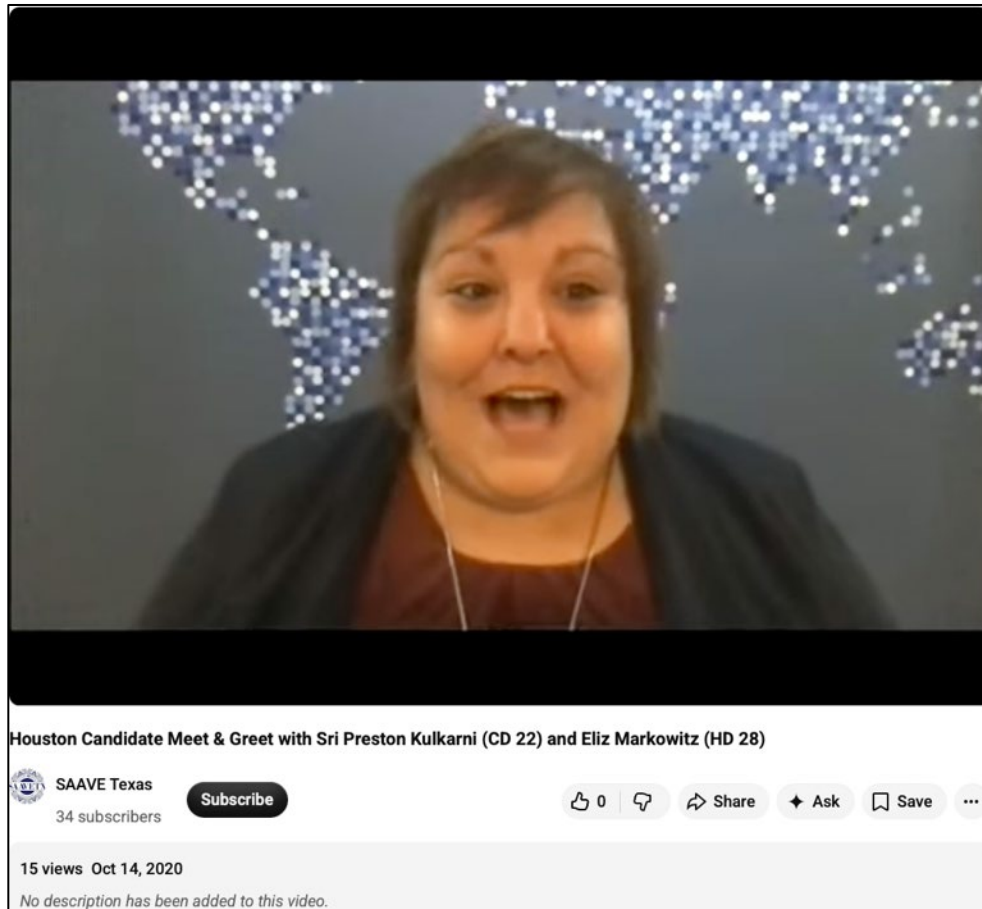

So, first and foremost, we need to take the $10 billion in Medicaid expansion off the table that has been there for years, and unfortunately, the Republican legislature has simply decided to disperse these funds. These funds have already come out of our taxpayer dollars, so there's absolutely no reason for us not to utilize them to cover more uninsured individuals, I also think that we need to have a progressive public option, which is phased in over a short period of time, so that we can cover all individuals without leaving anybody behind. This public option could be a

Medicare for all type deal, that's in addition to a private option as well, available for people who currently have union health care that's covered by their employers and or private health care covered through their employers, but we need to stop the cycle of expecting health care to be linked to employment solely. Healthcare is a human right, and everybody should be able to access access to affordable health care, whether that's preventative, emergent vision, mental, pharmaceutical, orthopedic, any type of health care we need.

Hypocrisy. According to Markowitz, “We will see the fall of this country” if politicians don’t stop villainizing one another and work towards bipartisanship. Markowitz states this after claiming her campaign was honest and had “integrity, diversity and inclusion in everything that we do.” Hypocritically, Markowitz shares a post calling people who disagree with her “radical left” positions “inhumane people”; and if you question the 2020 election you are a “far right extremist” and the Jan 6 protestors were “domestic terrorists.”

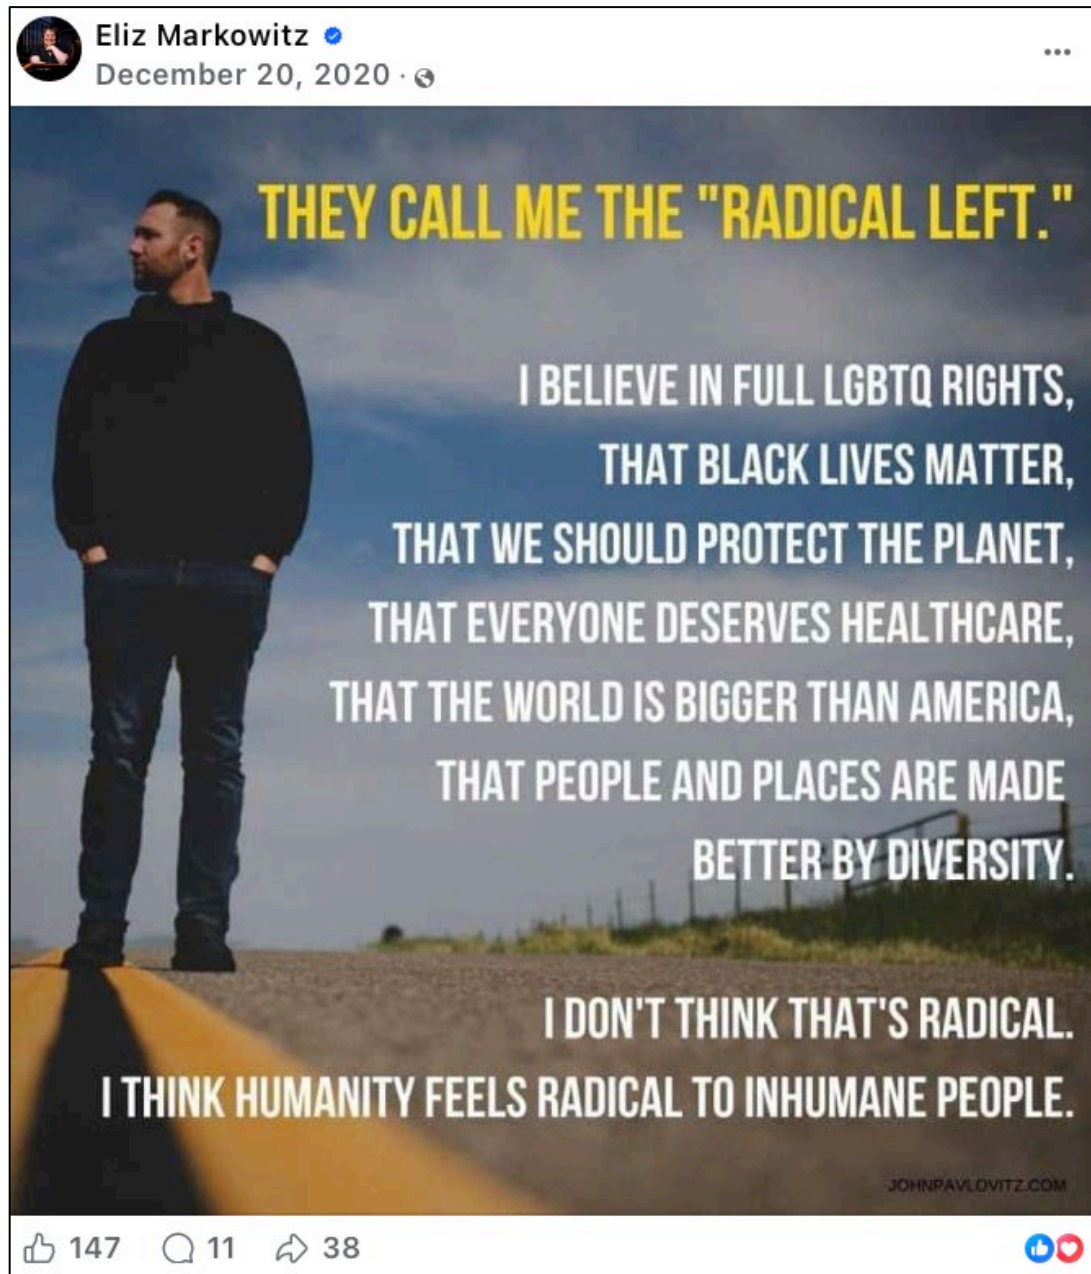

- ◆ Markowitz states in the Houston candidate meet and greet with Sri Preston Kulkarni (CD 22) and Eliz Markowitz (HD 28)

Things have gotten so out of hand, but one of the things that our campaign has run on is being honest, having integrity, diversity, and inclusion in everything that we do, and I've also stated multiple times that one of the first things that I would do if elected to office would be to build a bipartisan coalition. It wasn't too long ago that Democrats and Republicans were able to work together to answer the most pressing issues of the day without villainizing one another and pigeonholing them into these extreme corners that is currently occurring, and if we continue down this path, we're simply not going to be able to progress this society, and we will see the fall of this country

In 2019, Markowitz claimed she had “no game plan” if elected but to just “to help the people of my community and the people of Texas.” Yea, how?

◆ Markowitz states in the “Two Broads Talking Politics” podcast:

I think that people are tired of the games, and they're tired of the inauthenticity of many politicians, politicians who are entering politics for power, or because they want to make special connections with different vendors, so on and so forth, and truly the only reason that I am running for this office is to help the people of my community and the people of Texas. I have no game plan aside from that, and that is the platform that I've been running on, and I think that that's something that resonates with people in the climate that we're in today. When we see that politicians in general are doing multiple backdoor deals and doing whatever it takes to further themselves rather than the people they represent..

Two Broads Talking Politics, “Dr. Eliz Markowitz”, 12/04/2019, Timestamp 13:47-13:57, [downloaded video]

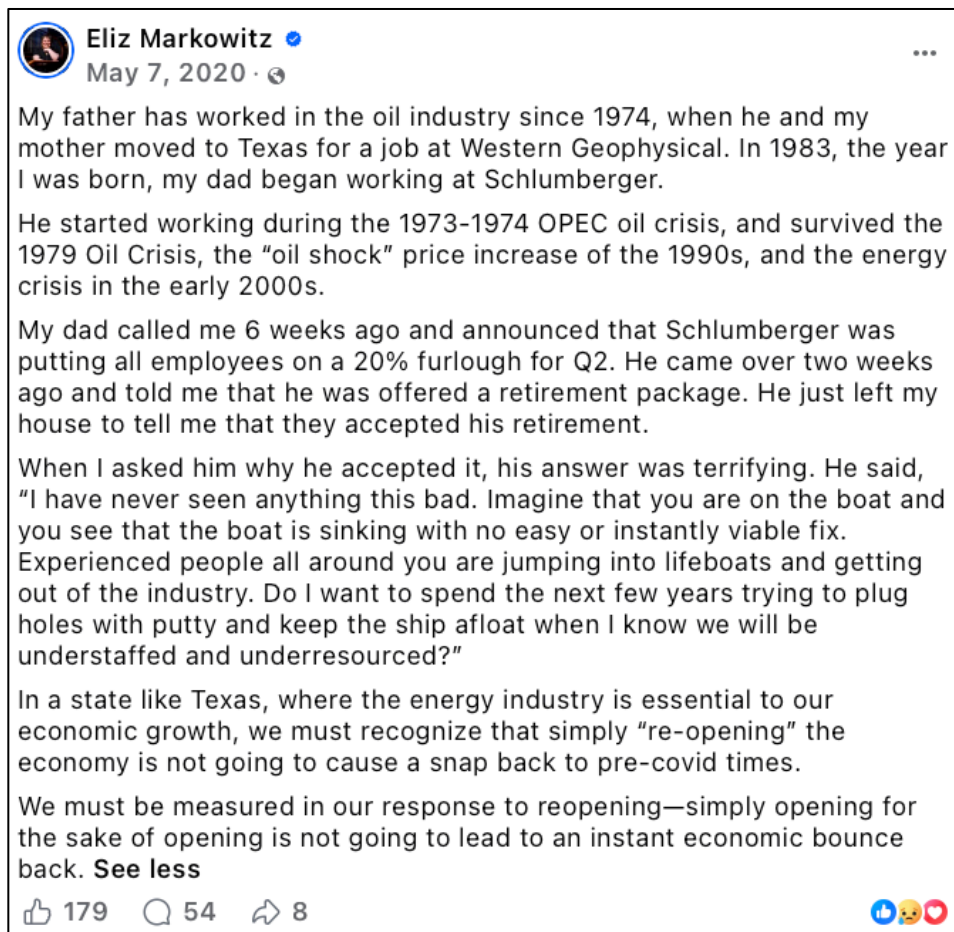

Markowitz: “we need to take immediate action to diminish the use of fossil fuels.” Markowitz, despite her building wealth through the oil industry, believes climate change will destroy the world and pushes a radical green agenda, stating “if we don't do something, we don't leave a world to inhabit for our children.” Markowitz has no children.

◆ Markowitz states in the “Two Broads Talking Politics” podcast:

Yeah. So, my dad does work in the oil industry. It's not anything that I hide, but that doesn't mean that I'm blind to the effects of climate change. Climate change is one of the most pressing issues that we are facing right now, because to be perfectly honest, if we don't do something, we don't leave a world to inhabit for our children, and so we need to take immediate action to diminish the use of fossil fuels, invest in alternative energy, and ensure that we are taking care, instilling, installing environmental regulations to take care of the only world that we have, because again, if we don't, we will be in trouble, and there is no way back from a world that is broken

Two Broads Talking Politics, “Dr. Eliz Markowitz”, 12/04/2019, Timestamp 08:21-09:03, [downloaded video]

Liberal logic. In a bizarre 2020 Facebook post, Markowitz talked about how her Dad decided to retire because of the Covid lockdowns on the oil industry. Despite stating the energy industry is “essential to our economic growth” in Texas, Markowitz stated that “We must be measured in our response to reopening.” So, her dad retires early because the industry is in shock due to lockdowns and Markowitz’s response is don’t open up? Markowitz has also stated separately that we need to “diminish the use of fossil fuels.”

Markowitz: “We must continue to support organizations such as CAIR and tackle the scourge of Islamophobia; all individuals should be treated with respect and dignity!”
CAIR (Council on American Islamic Relations) is a radical Muslim group constantly complaining about “Islamophobia” and defending figures like Rashida Tlaib and Ilhan Omar. Gov. Abbott declared CAIR a “Foreign Terrorist and Transnational Criminal Organization.”

Ilhan Omar Says Trump 'Fuels Hate Against Muslims' At CAIR Banquet

March 25, 2019 / 11:39 AM CDT / CBS Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS (WCCO) – Rep. Ilhan Omar continued her criticism of President Donald Trump and Israel while speaking at a banquet over the weekend in California. The Minnesota Democrat was invited to address the Council on American-Islamic Relations in Los Angeles.

During a speech, she said that the week following the massacre in New Zealand has been difficult for Muslims around the world. In the attack, dozens of people were shot and killed in mosques during morning prayers.

She said that Trump, who was mentioned in the suspected gunman's online manifesto, "fuels hate against Muslims." Additionally, she encouraged Muslims to stand up to discrimination, reports say.

Omar also addressed her criticism of Israel, according to reports. Without naming the country, she said her repeated criticisms stem from concerns over human rights violations.

CAIR-Chicago Congratulates Rashida Tlaib, First Muslim Woman to Win a Congressional Seat

(CHICAGO, IL, 8/08/2018) – The Chicago office of the Council on American-Islamic Relations (CAIR-Chicago) congratulates Rashida Tlaib on being the first Muslim woman elected to the United States Congress. Tlaib, who formerly held a seat in the Michigan House of Representatives, will represent the constituents of the 13th Congressional District, fighting at the federal level for access to quality education, healthcare, and a clean environment; and against the rising atmosphere of hate, bigotry, divisiveness and the scapegoating of minorities. She is a strong advocate for the Arab and Muslim American communities and her win does more than provide tough, smart representation for her constituency, it opens doors for Muslim Americans to run for office around the country.

"Rashida Tlaib's historic victory comes at a time when we are facing increasingly loud voices telling us that we do not belong," Ahmed Rehab, Executive Director of CAIR-Chicago, said. "Rashida not only proved that untrue, but she proved that you do not have to compromise on who you are to earn the confidence of your fellow Americans, that the merit of your ideas are what ultimately count – as they should."

Tlaib is one of over 90 Muslims running for office in the 2018 election year. Of those was Abdul El-Sayed, who ran and came in second in the primary for Michigan Governor.

"Abdul may have lost his primary but his courageous trailblazing run was a win in that he inspired a record-breaking voter turnout, energized Michiganders who had given up on politics, brought attention to healthcare and education- and he is just getting started," Rehab stated. "He ran as a brown, Arab, Muslim male, possibly the least accepted profile in US politics, and still managed to go far, winning the love and respect of many constituents and dealing a heavy blow to that last of glass ceilings."

- ◆ In November 2025, Gov. Abbott signed a proclamation declaring CAIR, along with the Muslim Brotherhood as a “Foreign Terrorist and Transnational Criminal Organization.” Abbott lists many reasons for the designation and claims Texas law gives him the authority to make such a designation. Abbott cites leadership of CAIR by name; below are some excerpts from the proclamation:

Dear Secretary Nelson:

Pursuant to his powers as Governor of the State of Texas, Greg Abbott has issued the following:

A proclamation designating the Muslim Brotherhood and CAIR as Foreign Terrorist and Transnational Criminal Organizations under the Texas Penal and Texas Property Codes.

The original proclamation is attached to this letter of transmittal.

WHEREAS, the Council on American-Islamic Relations (“CAIR”) is an Islamist organization that, according to the Federal Bureau of Investigations (“FBI”), was founded as a “front group” for “ Hamas and its support network” in the United States; and

WHEREAS, the Program on Extremism at George Washington University, America’s leading academic research center on extremism, reports that CAIR is an example of conscious efforts by “the US-based Hamas network to regenerate itself” and continue acting “under new guises” in the United States based on Hamas’s “need to camouflage the identity of the new organization”; and

WHEREAS, Nihad Awad, the Executive Director of CAIR, has boasted that American Muslims are “ready to move to the next phase,” and that within the next 15 years the Muslim community “will have 50,000—an army—of these people” who “will design [Islam’s] image, protect the truth and the news, ... many of these people will run for public office, and they will become lawmakers” to advance Sharia law in America; and

WHEREAS, CAIR was named an “unindicted co-conspirator” in one of the largest successful prosecutions of terrorism financing in United States history, where internal documents plainly identified CAIR as a subsidiary of the Muslim Brotherhood and a federal court eventually found “ample evidence to establish” that CAIR was associated “with Hamas,” United States v. Holy Land Found. for Relief & Dev., No. 3:04-cv-240, 2009 WL 10680203, at *7–8 (N.D. Tex. July 1, 2009); and

WHEREAS, CAIR and its members have repeatedly employed, affiliated with, and supported individuals promoting terrorism-related activities, including:

- Ghassan Elashi, a founding board member of the Texas branch for CAIR and Treasurer of the Holy Land Foundation for Relief and Development, who was sentenced to a total of 65 years in prison for financing terrorism in 2009;
- Abdurahman Alamoudi, a speaker at a CAIR-sponsored anti-Israel rally in Washington, D.C., in October 2000, who proudly proclaimed himself to be a “supporter[] of Hamas” and “a supporter of Hizballah” and who was later convicted as a terrorist for funding Al Qaeda;
- Randall Todd Royer, a communications specialist and civil rights coordinator for CAIR, who was sentenced to 20 years in prison on April 9, 2004, for conspiring to aid Al Qaeda and the Taliban;
- Bassem Khafagi, a community relations director for CAIR, who pleaded guilty to federal bank and visa fraud in 2003 after funneling money to terrorist causes and publishing material advocating suicide attacks against the United States;
- Rabih Haddad, a CAIR fundraiser, who was arrested and deported for his work as Executive Director of the Global Relief Foundation, which was closed by the United States Department of Treasury in October 2002 for financing Al Qaeda;
- Muthanna al-Hanooti, a Director for CAIR in Michigan, who was convicted and sentenced to prison in 2011 for violating United States sanctions against Iraq by accepting “two million barrels of Iraqi oil” in exchange for helping Saddam Hussein’s government;
- Sami Al-Arian, a convicted terrorist and Palestinian Islamic Jihad financier, whom CAIR publicly honored with its “Promoting Justice Award” in 2014 and whom it featured in a 2020 lecture in which he stressed his desire “to promote” CAIR and “support [it] financially” as “the first defense” in America; and
- Nihad Awad, CAIR’s current Executive Director, who on November 24, 2023, publicly praised and supported Hamas’s October 7, 2023, attack against Israel, saying he “was happy to see” the assault which involved the kidnapping and murder of American citizens; and

WHEREAS, the FBI suspended formal contacts with CAIR in 2008 and the Biden Administration “removed CAIR’s name” from certain online documents in 2023 “to make clear it was distancing itself from the organization”; and

WHEREAS, I, Greg Abbott, Governor of Texas, signed House Bill 45 from the 85th Texas Legislature, Regular Session, into law on June 14, 2017, to prohibit the enforcement of foreign laws in Texas, including Sharia law; and

WHEREAS, I, Greg Abbott, Governor of Texas, signed House Bill 4211 from the 89th Texas Legislature, Regular Session, into law on June 20, 2025, to ban residential property developments from creating exclusionary compounds, including Muslim-only compounds in the State of Texas; and

WHEREAS, I, Greg Abbott, Governor of Texas, signed Senate Bill 17 from the 89th Texas Legislature, Regular Session, into law on June 20, 2025, to prohibit foreign adversaries, including Transnational Criminal Organizations and their affiliated members, from purchasing or acquiring land in the State of Texas; and

WHEREAS, Texas Penal Code § 71.01(e) provides that a Foreign Terrorist Organization “means three or more persons operating as an organization at least partially outside the United States who engage in criminal activity and threaten the security of this state or its residents ...”; and

WHEREAS, Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code § 125.065 authorizes suit against a Foreign Terrorist Organization to enjoin its operations and “impos[e] other reasonable requirements to prevent the ... organization from engaging in future gang activities”; and

WHEREAS, Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code § 125.066 provides that violation of such an injunctive order is subject to pain of contempt, punishable by monetary fines and imprisonment; and

WHEREAS, Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code § 125.064(b) further authorizes suit against “[a]ny person who habitually associates with others to engage in gang activity as a member of,” or “who owns or is responsible for maintaining a place that is habitually used for engaging in gang activity” by, a Foreign Terrorist Organization, and provides that such a person may be subject to the aforementioned penalties; and

WHEREAS, Texas Property Code § 5.253 prohibits certain hostile foreign actors from purchasing or acquiring an interest in land in Texas; and

WHEREAS, Texas Property Code § 5.254(a) authorizes the Governor to “designate ... a transnational criminal organization or other entity” as subject to § 5.253’s prohibition on foreign nationals or foreign controlled entities purchasing or acquiring an interest in land in Texas; and

WHEREAS, Texas Property Code § 5.251(7) provides that Transnational Criminal Organization means “two or more persons: (A) who are citizens of or domiciled in a designated country; (B) with an identifiable leadership who operate internationally; and (C) who continuously or regularly associate to engage in corruption, violence, or the commission of other criminal activities”; and

WHEREAS, Texas Property Code § 5.253(2)(D) provides that a prohibited entity includes “a company or organization that is ... designated by the governor”; and

WHEREAS, the Governor has consulted with the Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety and the Homeland Security Council as directed by Texas Property Code § 5.254;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, GREG ABBOTT, Governor of Texas, under the authority vested in me by the Constitution and Statutes of the State of Texas, do hereby:

- (1) Designate both the Muslim Brotherhood and its successor organization CAIR as Foreign Terrorist Organizations under Texas Penal Code § 71.01(e), and thereby subject those organizations, and any persons promoting or aiding their criminal activities, to the heightened penalties authorized by Chapter 125 of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code; and
- (2) Designate both the Muslim Brotherhood and its successor organization CAIR as Transnational Criminal Organizations and proscribed entities under Texas Property Code § 5.254(a)(2)(A), and thereby subject those organizations, and their affiliates and members, to Chapter 5 of the Texas Property Code, which prohibits them from purchasing or acquiring land in Texas.

I HEREBY DIRECT that a copy of this proclamation be filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name and have officially caused the Seal of State to be affixed at my office in the City of Austin, Texas, this the 18th day of November, 2025.

Attorney General Ken Paxton Takes Legal Action in Lawsuit Involving the Terrorist Organiza- tion CAIR

Attorney General Ken Paxton has taken legal action to defend Texas's lawful designation of the Muslim Brotherhood and the Council on American-Islamic Relations ("CAIR") as foreign terrorist organizations under Texas law.

In a Proclamation on November 18, 2025, Governor Greg Abbott declared the Muslim Brotherhood and CAIR "foreign terrorist organizations" and "transnational criminal organizations." The Dallas Fort Worth and Austin CAIR chapters then sued the State, claiming that the Proclamation "chilled" their First Amendment right to free speech. Attorney General Paxton's office has now filed a response, noting in part that the local CAIR councils rely entirely on speculative claims and political disagreement with the State's national security determinations and laws, leaving their argument baseless.

"Radical Islamist terrorist groups are anti-American, and the infiltration of these dangerous individuals into Texas must be stopped," said Attorney General Paxton. "My office will continue to defend the Governor's lawful, accurate declaration that CAIR is an FTO, as well as Texas's right to protect itself from organizations with documented ties to foreign extremist movements."

CAIR has been designated as a foreign terrorist organization not only by Texas, but also by the State of Florida and the United Arab Emirates and has been labeled by an FBI special agent as a "front group for Hamas." Attorney General Paxton will continue to work to identify and combat foreign terrorist and transnational criminal organizations that threaten public safety, American values, and national security.

Attorney General Ken Paxton Sues the Muslim Brotherhood and CAIR to Stop the Terrorist Groups from Operating in Texas

Attorney General Ken Paxton filed a lawsuit against the Muslim Brotherhood, the Council on American-Islamic Relations (“CAIR”), and CAIR’s Austin, Houston, and DFW chapters to ban the terrorist organizations from operating in Texas and to stop their violent ideology from spreading across the state.

The Muslim Brotherhood is a radical terrorist organization that exists to usurp governmental power and establish dominion through sharia law. For three decades, it has covertly operated in the United States under the name “CAIR”—the Council on American-Islamic Relations—as its American chapter. The terrorist ties are unquestionable. For example, CAIR-Texas’s founding board member was convicted in 2008 of funneling $12.4 million to Hamas through the Holy Land Foundation, and CAIR was named an unindicted co-conspirator in that case. As the lawsuit notes, CAIR is undeniably the American face of an international terrorist organization.

The Muslim Brotherhood and its American chapter, CAIR, are in violation of a number of state laws, including Texas’s ban on any entity engaging in terrorism, Texas’s prohibition of transnational criminal organizations owning property, and public nuisance statutes barring radical groups from engaging in gang activities.

“Sharia law and the jihadists who follow sharia law have no business being in Texas,” said Attorney General Paxton. “I am in full support of Governor Abbott’s lawful declaration that CAIR and the Muslim Brotherhood are foreign terrorist organizations, and it’s imperative that they are stopped from operating in Texas. Radical Islamic terrorists are antithetical to law and order, endanger the people of Texas, and are an existential threat to our values.”

Attorney General Paxton’s lawsuit seeks to end the operations of the Muslim Brotherhood and its American chapter, CAIR, in Texas, including prohibiting the organizations and their affiliates from owning property in the state or soliciting or recruiting members.

My father has worked in the oil industry since 1974, when he and my mother moved to Texas for a job at Western Geophysical. In 1983, the year I was born, my dad began working at Schlumberger.

He started working during the 1973-1974 OPEC oil crisis, and survived the 1979 Oil Crisis, the “oil shock” price increase of the 1990s, and the energy crisis in the early 2000s.

My dad called me 6 weeks ago and announced that Schlumberger was putting all employees on a 20% furlough for Q2. He came over two weeks ago and told me that he was offered a retirement package. He just left my house to tell me that they accepted his retirement.

When I asked him why he accepted it, his answer was terrifying. He said, “I have never seen anything this bad. Imagine that you are on the boat and you see that the boat is sinking with no easy or instantly viable fix. Experienced people all around you are jumping into lifeboats and getting out of the industry. Do I want to spend the next few years trying to plug holes with putty and keep the ship afloat when I know we will be understaffed and underresourced?”

In a state like Texas, where the energy industry is essential to our economic growth, we must recognize that simply “re-opening” the economy is not going to cause a snap back to pre-covid times.

We must be measured in our response to reopening—simply opening for the sake of opening is not going to lead to an instant economic bounce back. See less

Markowitz plans to remove standardized testing because it “is inevitably and inherently racist in its creation and distribution.”

◆ Markowitz states in the “Two Broads Talking Politics” podcast:

So I truly believe that the core or the root of all of our issues is standardized testing, and particularly the star test. I spent the time that I was working on my doctorate studying standardized tests and doing analysis on how effective they are and whether they actually do work in an assessment environment, and the fact of the matter is that standardized tests have no bearing on the aptitude, ability, or achievement of a school teacher or institution. So, and they've also been proven to be invalid, unreliable metrics of any of the aforementioned. So, here we are, plunging hundreds of millions of dollars into simply the creation of the star test, let alone the lost learning time, the penalization that teachers face if they don't achieve a certain score, the funding that is linked to standardized testing, which is inevitably and inherently racist in its creation and distribution, and so we have this test that is essentially determining the educational outcomes for all students. So, I've said publicly that the first piece of legislation that I would file would be to eliminate the STAAR test from the curriculum. I think we also need to get back to teaching teachers how to teach, instead of teaching to a test, which is also linked to our standardized testing, we need to stop linking school funding to standardized test scores, because again, these tests are created in the mindset of a high-class Caucasian individual taking these tests, and Texas is not that state. We are a diverse cornucopia of different ethnicities and nationalities, and so a single standardized test is not going to meet the needs of our students.

Voting Rights

We believe that voting is a fundamental right, and all Texans must be guaranteed the right to vote and be assured that their vote counts. Texans must adopt laws to eliminate barriers to voting and ensure that all citizens have the right to cast their votes. We must adopt regulations for automatic voter registration, same-day voter registration, and online voter registration. Furthermore, we must repeal the restrictive Texas photo Voter ID law, which requires voters to show a government-issued photo ID and has been found to penalize minority populations. The state must also pass legislation that penalizes those found guilty of voter intimidation tactics, which includes questioning an individual's voter qualifications, falsely presenting oneself as an elections official, spreading false information regarding voter requirements, or harassing voters of color, those with disabilities, or non-English speakers.

REP TINDERHOLT FILES TEXAS MILLSTONE ACT TO END THE MUTILATION AND BRAINWASHING OF CHILDREN AND YOUNG ADULTS

AUSTIN, TX- Rep. Tony Tinderholt filed HB 4754 to prohibit doctors from providing gender transition procedures for anyone under 26. Physicians found guilty of violating the act would be guilty of a state jail felony and subject to license revocation.

“When I took office, I never could have guessed that Texas’ youth would need protection from legal, sexual mutilation. Yet here we are. Young people across our state are being taken advantage of by clinics and physicians engaged in these barbaric gender modification procedures. Innocent Texas children are having their futures destroyed. It’s time to put a stop to it,” said Tinderholt.

“It’s the responsibility of Texas lawmakers to step up and defend the next generation from these evil procedures. The overwhelming scientific consensus is that the human brain isn’t fully developed until near the age of 25, and I think our laws should reflect that. The Texas Millstone Act will protect Texans by holding physicians accountable and criminalizing those who facilitate social or physical transitioning of young people. Our duty to protect our children is a sacred one, and anyone guilty of such an evil act as chemically or surgically mutilating a child for profit should be held legally and financially accountable.”

The Texas Millstone Act is named in reference to Matthew 18:6: “But whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in Me to stumble, it would be better for him to have a heavy millstone hung around his neck, and to be drowned in the depth of the sea.”

Was super stoked to speak at the inaugural Fort Bend County Women's March! Look at all these amazing individuals fighting for human rights!

My speech from today:

When we gathered across the nation for the first women's March, less than five years ago, we met to show the strength of opposition to administrations and policies that threatened our rights.

When we meet today, reproductive rights and bodily autonomy are no longer simply being threatened. War has been declared and battles are ensuing that will not simply determine women's rights in Texas, but in the United States as a whole.

One month ago, Governor Abbott signed into law legislation that prohibits individuals from receiving abortion health services after 6 weeks, while also empowering any individual who takes issue with an abortion to sue the health care provider for $10,000. The implications of such legislation are vast.

As if that were not enough, this past week Abbott signed into law legislation that outlaws the use of medication-based abortion after seven weeks of pregnancy and banned abortion-inducing pills to be mailed in Texas after 7 weeks of pregnancy.

The health and psychological consequences for individuals who are forced to carry a pregnancy, whether or not the fetus is viable, are vast. While pregnancy is often equated with joy, that fails to take into account the very real difficulties and dangers that occur; after all, the very condition of pregnancy is associated with health risks and endangers the life of a pregnant person. While not a comprehensive list, conditions such as anemia, gestational diabetes, hypertension, hyperemesis gravidarum, depression, and anxiety are common amongst those who are pregnant. So, in essence, individuals will be forced to endure both physical and mental health issues, while also grappling with extrinsic factors such as current and future employment, finances, familial and romantic relationships, personal feelings toward pregnancy, and, of course, child care. It's no secret that empirical data supports the idea that unwanted pregnancy increases an individual's risk of suffering from mental illness, and I imagine that we will see a surge in mental health care needs among the pregnant population following the enactment of Texas' SB8.

To add insult to injury, the Republican-led Texas legislature recently released proposed maps for the Texas Congressional, House, Senate, and SBOE. Unsurprisingly, these maps are highly gerrymandered among both partisan and racial lines, suppressing the voices of minorities and those of a lower SES, in a blatant attempt to control the legislative narrative that will guide the direction of Texas for the next 10 years.

The House Redistricting Committee will be having a public hearing on the House map this upcoming Monday, October 4 at 9am in the Capitol Extension Auditorium, E1.004. You can testify virtually about the consequences of blatant suppression or submit written testimony. Whatever you do, please do something to ensure that your voice is heard.

Let us be perfectly clear, we will not be silenced and we will not willingly give up our fundamental rights as human beings. In a country that is founded on the claim that "all men are created equal," but has repeatedly failed to ensure the reality of those words, it would be a mistake to believe that this will be an swift battle that results in justice.

Do not feel that hope is lost. We shall not fade quietly into the annals of history as people who were helplessly controlled by the whims of authoritarian men. We shall not crumble, we shall not fall, but we shall rise up to ensure that the future of our state and country is equitable for all.

"Markowitz says that while pregnancy is a joyful event for some, it can bring physical risks, such as gestational diabetes or hypertension, as well psychological issues, including depression and anxiety. Giving birth as well poses risks, to both mother and child.

"In essence, individuals will be forced to endure both physical and mental health issues, while also grappling with extrinsic factors such as current and future employment, finances, familial and romantic relationships, personal feelings toward pregnancy, and, of course, child care," wrote Markowitz in a message to DW. "I think the psychological consequences for individuals who are forced to carry their pregnancy, whether or not the fetus is viable, are vast." See less

I don't ever again want to hear the pro-life argument from those who have enabled the illness and deaths of born children. If you aren't vocally advocating for protecting children from COVID, you are complicit in condemning them to illness and death. Be better.

"In a sign that the delta variant is affecting more children on a daily basis, an 11-month-old girl from the Houston area had to be airlifted to Temple because no pediatric hospitals in Houston would accept her as a transfer patient.

Gun Reform

Individuals should not worry whether or not they will return home safely or end up as a victim of gun violence. We can reduce the scourge of gun violence, while still allowing responsible gun owners the right to bear arms.

Texas should immediately institute universal background checks when an individual goes to purchase a gun, and close the gun-show loophole, in order to ensure that such weapons are not acquired by violent criminals, abusers, or terrorists. We must institute red-flag laws that will allow action to be taken to remove weapons from the hands of individuals who have exhibited behavior that could be dangerous to themselves or others.

Our state should eliminate campus carry, abandon the idea of arming educators, and invest more money in providing mental health services to our students in order to reduce the possibility of another school shooting. Furthermore, we must address gun violence as a public health crisis and invest in understanding the causes of, and stemming, further gun violence.

Markowitz’s Facebook account was blocked by the Facebook group Katy ISD Matters for supposedly sharing pornographic images with children which she denies. Markowitz publicly attacked a mom who spoke out about the “young adult novel” Jack of Hearts, which graphically describes sex acts so much so that the news story Markowitz shared couldn’t quote the book. The mother only called for the book to be moved somewhere that requires parental supervision, but Markowitz thinks that’s “censorship” and a “slippery slope.” Markowitz, who has no children, wants to use your tax dollars to give children books about how to perform oral sex and get sodomized.

'We cannot unread this type of content' | Some Katy ISD parents want what they call 'porn' pulled from libraries

“They have the worst porn you’ve ever seen. They shouldn’t be sexualizing our kids,” one parent said Monday night at a school board meeting.

Parents said that while they understand that today's teens have access to more adult content than any generation in the past, they also believe they shouldn't have access to it in a public school's library.

One parent read an excerpt from "Jack of Hearts," a book found in the library at Jordan High School. The words are too graphic to quote in this story. They graphically detail sexual acts.

My first time getting it in the butt was kind of weird. I think it's going to be weird for everyone's first time, though.

Meet Jack Rothman. He's seventeen and loves partying, makeup and boys - sometimes all at the same time. His sex life makes him the hot topic for the high school gossip machine. But who cares? Like Jack always says, 'it could be worse'.

He doesn't actually expect that to come true.

But after Jack starts writing an online sex advice column, the mysterious love letters he's been getting take a turn for the creepy. Jack's secret admirer knows everything: where he's hanging out, who he's sleeping with, who his mum is dating. They claim they love Jack, but not his unashamedly queer lifestyle. They need him to curb his sexuality, or they'll force him.

As the pressure mounts, Jack must unmask his stalker before their obsession becomes genuinely dangerous...

- Here's how one conservative commentator discussed the book:

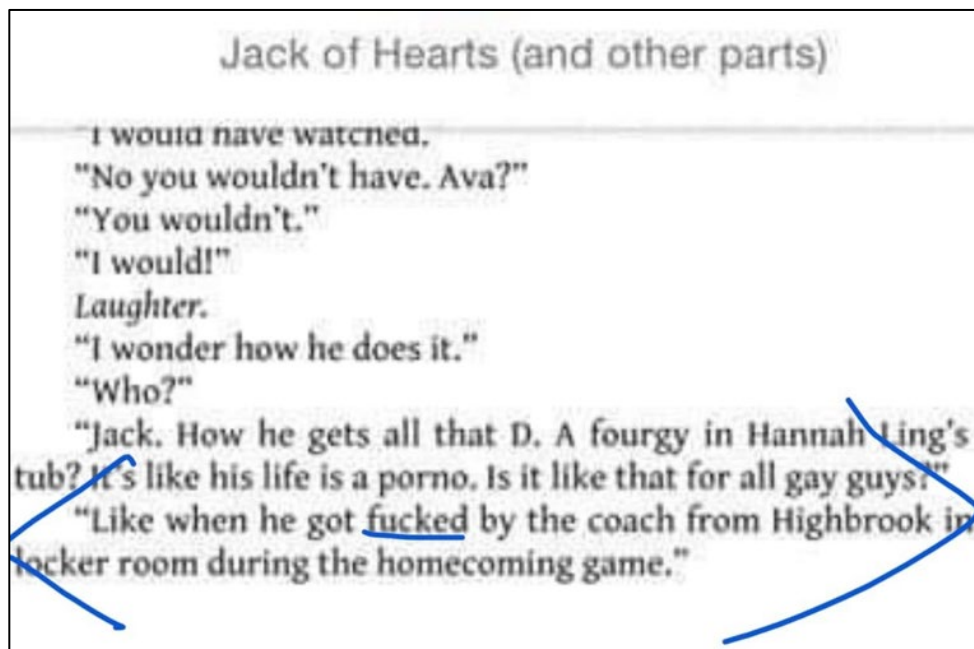

Jack of Hearts (and Other Parts) by L.C. Rosen details the “unapologetically queer” sex life of a teenager in graphic detail. The book’s dust jacket says, “It’s true that Jack has a LOT of sex and he’s not ashamed of it.” The book is full of pornographic content. “Big hairy muscled men love taking it up the *ss . . . And slim, makeup-wearing types? We love to f*ck and, in my case, getting f*cked too.” (Page 111) On page 285, a boy character says, “What I really get turned on by, is the idea of hurting (girls). Not like beating them or anything but spanking them, slapping them, making them wear collars and ball gags and ordering them around.” In a rave review, School Library Journal called this disturbing book “an essential addition to library collections that serve teens,” recommending it for children in grades ten and up. (The journal also later featured the book in a column about “delectable dramas for teens” and a feature on “56 excellent books.”)

Chelsea Clinton, Pete Buttigieg, and many others on the left claim that “book banning” is a pretext to prevent children from reading books with LGBT characters and themes. Clinton recently retweeted an NBC news article claiming that seven of the 13 most “challenged” books of last year were “challenged for having LGBT content,” according to the notoriously progressive American Library Association. But that’s disingenuous. I’ve looked at three of the seven books in question—Flamer, Gender Queer, and This Book is Gay—and what’s objectionable about them isn’t the fact that they have LGBT content but rather that they have explicit, adult sexual content that’s not appropriate for young adult readers.

When your local school district (KISD) fails to be inclusive, you can count on your neighborhood bookstore to do the job! 🍌💙

Katy Budget Books is with Jerry Craft and HarperKids Books.

October 11, 2021

As an independent bookstore, we support the right of everyone to read what they want. Like so many others, we're disappointed with the recent decision to pull Jerry Craft's books from library shelves and cancel the originally scheduled visits with students.

We have plenty of New Kid and Class Act currently in stock. Both of these titles are 10% off for anyone who wants a copy for any reason. But we're also offering 20% off purchases of ten copies or more of a single title, for anyone who wants to read it in their book group or distribute copies in the community. Use coupon code "JERRYCRAFT" if you're purchasing 10+ copies at www.katybooks.com.

We hope you join us in celebrating and supporting all stories.

Eliz Markowitz

Let's explain this one more time:

In May, you wake up with a terrible cough, a fever, and severe body aches. Immediately, you rush to the doctor. Unfortunately, you're diagnosed with COVID-19. For the last two weeks, you've been unaware that you were infected. For the last two weeks, you've ignored "the rules," gotten together with some close friends for pizza, had a few people over, even visited some parks and beaches. You figured, "I don't feel sick," and "I have the right to keep living my normal life!"

With your diagnosis, you spend the next few days at home on the couch, feeling pretty crappy; but then you're well again because you're young and healthy. Lucky you.

But your best friend caught it from you during a visit to your house, and because she didn't know she was contagious, she visited her 82-year-old grandfather, who uses oxygen tanks daily to help him breathe because he has COPD and heart failure. Now, he's dead.

Your co-worker, who has asthma, caught it too, during your little pizza get-together. Now, he's in the ICU, and he's spread it to a few others in his family, too--but they won't know that for another couple of weeks yet.

The cashier at the restaurant where you picked up the pizza carried the infection home to his wife, who has MS, which makes her immuno-suppressed. She's not as lucky as you, so she's admitted to the hospital because she's having trouble breathing. She may need to be placed in a medically-induced coma and intubated; she may not get to say goodbye to her loved ones. She may die surrounded by machines, with no family at her bedside.

All because you couldn't stand the inconvenience of a mask, of staying home, of changing your routines for just a little while.

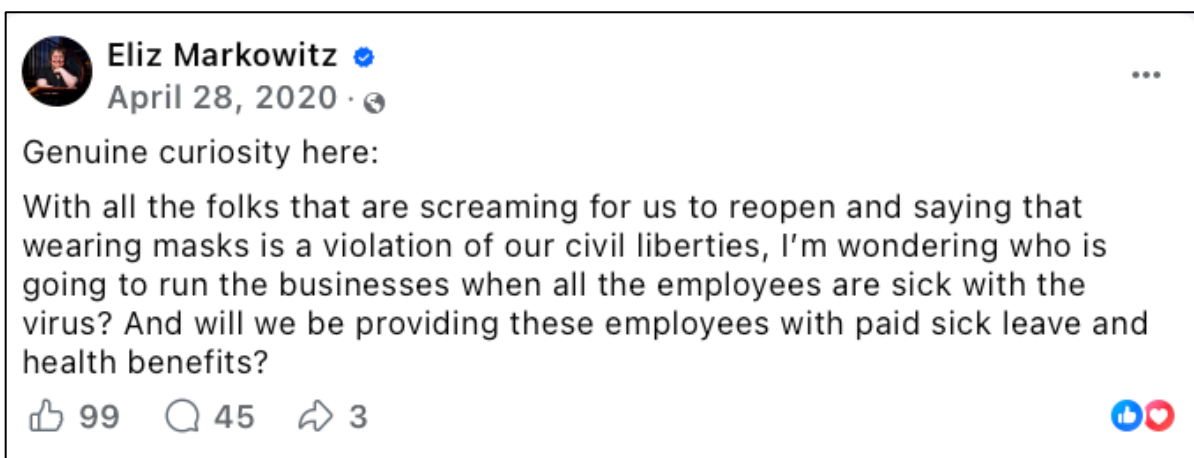

Care for others and show compassion: it is not about you. See less

Hey, y'all!

Like all Americans, our campaign and I are doing our best to adjust to this unprecedented crisis. The decision to suspend all public events and rallies may have been tough to make in the context of a campaign, but it was the right thing to do. My number one priority is keeping the public safe.

One of the things I love most about this grassroots movement is how much we care for one another. You and so many others that support me are in this fight because in this campaign you see a chance at a better future for all Texans. I also believe that we can be a force for good in other ways -- including the public health crisis currently gripping the nation. COVID-19 forced my campaign to make some tough decisions, but millions of Americans are going to have to make even tougher choices -- and they need our help.

Instead of donating to our campaign, can you make a contribution to a local food pantry or shelter? Check out organizations like Rosenberg-Richmond Helping Hands, Inc., the Fort Bend Women's Center, and An-Nisa, and join me in donating to help them lift up our community during this difficult time. Let's make sure we take care of our neighbors who may not be in a financial position to prepare for COVID-19. If you can, please donate to a local food pantry or shelter to help provide for those in need. These organizations have been providing emergency food, clothing, and shelter to West Fort Bend county, aiding victims of domestic abuse, and helping those in need for decades. Visit their websites to learn more about their mission and to make a donation.

As we try and get through this public health crisis, your donation today can have a real impact on the most vulnerable. Thanks for stepping up and helping! Y'all are all amazing individuals, and I'm with you in this every step of the way! 🙌❤️

Abstract

Background: Ivermectin has demonstrated different mechanisms of action that potentially protect from both coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) infection and COVID-19-related comorbidities. Based on the studies suggesting efficacy in prophylaxis combined with the known safety profile of ivermectin, a citywide prevention program using ivermectin for COVID-19 was implemented in Itajaí, a southern city in Brazil in the state of Santa Catarina. The objective of this study was to evaluate the impact of regular ivermectin use on subsequent COVID-19 infection and mortality rates.

Results: Of the 223,128 citizens of Itajaí considered for the study, a total of 159,561 subjects were included in the analysis: 113,845 (71.3%) regular ivermectin users and 45,716 (23.3%) non-users. Of these, 4,311 ivermectin users were infected, among which 4,197 were from the city of Itajaí (3.7% infection rate), and 3,034 non-users (from Itajaí) were infected (6.6% infection rate), with a 44% reduction in COVID-19 infection rate (risk ratio [RR], 0.56; 95% confidence interval (95% CI), 0.53-0.58; $p < 0.0001$). Using PSM, two cohorts of 3,034 subjects suffering from COVID-19 infection were compared. The regular use of ivermectin led to a 68% reduction in COVID-19 mortality (25 [0.8%] versus 79 [2.6%] among ivermectin non-users; RR, 0.32; 95% CI, 0.20-0.49; $p < 0.0001$). When adjusted for residual variables, reduction in mortality rate was 70% (RR, 0.30; 95% CI, 0.19-0.46; $p < 0.0001$). There was a 56% reduction in hospitalization rate (44 versus 99 hospitalizations among ivermectin users and non-users, respectively; RR, 0.44; 95% CI, 0.31-0.63; $p < 0.0001$). After adjustment for residual variables, reduction in hospitalization rate was 67% (RR, 0.33; 95% CI, 0.23-0.66; $p < 0.0001$).

Conclusion: In this large PSM study, regular use of ivermectin as a prophylactic agent was associated with significantly reduced COVID-19 infection, hospitalization, and mortality rates.

Today is #RareDiseaseDay. I have a condition known as Factor II Gene Deficiency, which means that I do not create enough of the clotting factor protein prothrombin.

During my sophomore year of college, I started having trouble breathing and extreme chest pain, drove myself to the ER, and after fighting with staff and indicating I was not, in fact, having an asthma attack, I was found to have pulmonary embolisms and a 50% chance of pulling through. After a two-week stay in the San Antonio Methodist hospital, I was released, but have suffered from diminished lung capacity and my stable O2 intake has never been above 97% since.

In 2020, Markowitz gave her “biggest piece of advice” to parents during the Covid lockdowns, “do not stress about it.” Markowitz goes on to dismiss as “just not true” the concerns of parents about their children not learning or falling behind. In retrospect this is so tone-deaf coming from a non-parent considering the huge decline in reading and arithmetic scores due to the pandemic and lockdowns.

- ◆ Markowitz shared the clip herself on Facebook.

INTERVIEWER: Let me get serious for just a second, Eliz. While we have you, because you are Dr. Eliz Markowitz, you have your doctorate in education. You have dedicated your life to public schools and improving the American education system. The coronavirus has made it difficult for families because they're having to homeschool their kiddos right now, right? What advice do you have to folks in your district or around Texas who are struggling to juggle their full-time jobs and educate their kids at home?

MARKOWITZ: My biggest piece of advice would be to not stress about it. Just let your kids survive through this crisis. Everyone's worried about loss of learning, and oh my gosh, if we don't have these two or three months of school, my kid's going to be so far behind in the greater scheme of things. And quite frankly, it's just not true. From this period of time in Texas public schools till the end of the year, normally we'd be doing drill and kill for the star test anyway, so on some great experiential learning at this point. And I think that this entire situation is a learning experience in and of itself. It's going to teach students about what happens in a national and world pandemic, which is something we've never seen. It's going to teach them new technologies that they're going to discover because they can't go anywhere. It's going to teach people new ways of being empathetic and sympathetic because they're going to have to reach out to their friends and family in alternative ways and to check in on them, and it's going to also be very character molding as we deal with the increasing death rate and infection rate, and this is something that I truly think is going to affect our children for the rest of their lives. I think this is their defining moment. This is their Cuban missile crisis. This is their Vietnam War. This is their 911, and now this is what they're going to remember. But I think worrying about completing worksheets that are mandated by the 10th grade teacher on biochemistry formulas shouldn't be our top concern at this point because everything's going to work out. Nobody, everybody's in the same situation, so nobody's going to be penalized. So I don't think we should be freaking out about our kids becoming dumb during this crisis, but rather be focusing more on their emotional growth...

Markowitz delivered two speeches to KISD to pressure and guilt-trip the board into imposing draconian measures, pretending that she was the voice for the voiceless teachers and families. She wanted the board to change the dress code to include face masks to get around Abbott’s executive order. She bemoaned that children were “crowded together in classes, elbow to life elbow at lunch.” Markowitz wanted to enforce “social distancing” on children throughout the whole school day even as they ate meals together. Markowitz said the board would be to blame if anyone died from Covid.

- ◆ Markowitz posted her two speeches on Facebook:

August 30, 2021 · 🌐

My speech at the Katy ISD BOT meeting this evening.

We find ourselves together, once again, to discuss the health and safety of our children, faculty, and community. When I spoke to you a few weeks ago, prior to school starting, Katy ISD had 56 self-reported cases of COVID-19. School has now been in session for under two weeks and the number of cases has increased by 980%—and that includes only self-reported cases, which is traditionally lower than the actual number of existing cases. Furthermore, based on data released by Texas Health and Human Services, KISD was in the top 20 districts experiencing COVID cases.

Over the past couple of weeks, I've received messages from KISD parents, teachers, and nurses regarding their concerns and fears. Many of these parents are unable to speak tonight because their children have been exposed to COVID in school, and teachers and nurses fear retaliation for speaking here in support of science and data. The irony that educators and health professionals are unable to speak about evidence-based science and health protocols that could save their lives and the lives of their students and families is not lost on me. In their own words, teachers feel "abandoned, forgotten, overwhelmed, expendable, and terrified."

While Justin Graham and the board have stated that they cannot implement a mask mandate under GA-38, you do have the opportunity to follow the lead of both Paris and Texas City ISDs and amend the school dress code to include masks. Doing so would protect individuals within the educational institutions, while avoiding any legal repercussions.

Should you be unwilling to do the aforementioned, I would ask that you, at the very least, implement other measures to protect the health and safety of students, teachers, and their families. We are aware that COVID is an airborne virus, and I would ask that you improve the ventilation systems to ensure that circulated air does not further the spread of the virus.

It is also a well-documented fact that parents send students to school, even when ill. Particularly for our elementary populations, who cannot yet be vaccinated, temperature checks upon student arrival at school could mitigate the spread of COVID and other illnesses among our most vulnerable populations.

In your safety plan, KISD mentions social distancing, but a look at KISD social media shows students crowded together in classes, elbow to life elbow at lunch, and crammed together during passing and lunch periods.

Surely you recognize the value of taking common sense safety measures in order to maintain the continuity of learning that was discussed at the start of this meeting. Please use your position as elected officials, all of whom said you were running to serve students, parents, and teachers, to do everything in your power to protect public health and safety. See less

My testimony to the Katy ISD BOT this evening:

My name is Dr. Eliz Markowitz and I'm currently a professor in the Department of Psychological, Health, and Learning Sciences at The University of Houston.

First and foremost, thank you for holding a special meeting to discuss the current safety protocols regarding COVID-19 in KISD public schools, which stretch over Fort Bend, Harris, and Waller counties; two of these counties, Fort Bend and Harris, have adjusted the COVID-19 threat levels to 'severe' over the past week and have a positive testing rate of over 15%. As of 3:30PM today, the number of individuals hospitalized for COVID-19 has reached the peak hospitalization rate that we experienced this past winter, except there is one stark difference. The new Delta variant is affecting children and, unfortunately, pediatric hospitals have few beds left to address the needs of those infected.

In a district with a population of nearly 100,000 students, staff, and faculty, there is no doubt that, without proper precautions, students, staff, and faculty will become infected with COVID-19. And, sadly, probability states that people will die. And when those people do die, like a previous KISD nurse did last year, what will you say to the family of that child or faculty member? "Whoops! I'm sorry that we put politics over the health and safety of your child and did not take action to prevent the death of your loved one?"

Thankfully, such consequences can be avoided through the adoption of the CDC's evidence-based guidelines. After all, that is your job, according to the Texas Education Code. Indeed, Objective 8, "School campuses will maintain a safe and disciplined environment conducive to student learning." I implore you to follow the lead of Austin ISD, Dallas ISD, and, soon, Houston ISD and institute a mask mandate across all KISD institutions in order to ensure that we can get our kids back to school and make up for the learning loss that has already been experienced. Unfortunately, science has shown us that masks are only effective if worn by all. While the fine for defying Abbott's mask mandate is $1,000, the life of a human is far more valuable, and, undoubtedly, the board will face far pricier legal action for reckless endangerment or manslaughter upon the mass infections and death of those who attend KISD institutions.

Furthermore, KISD was awarded $79.3 million in ESSER funds over the past year that, according to the federal government, can be used for to support any CDC recommendations such as PPE, cleaning and sanitizing materials, and activities that support remote learning for all students, especially disadvantaged or at-risk students, and their teachers. Since children under 12 are unable to get vaccinated and students may live with individuals who are immunocompromised or vulnerable, it is only logical to implement a virtual learning option for all KISD students.

I have had the opportunity to speak with many of you personally, and those with whom I haven't spoken to have made their views known in community forums. When you were running for the KISD BOT, each one of you said that you were running to do what was best for students, parents, and teachers. Please prove to your constituents that your words were true, that you are community role models, and that you were not simply pandering to get elected. You all have a choice. You can change the narrative in KISD from the recent past, which has been mired in bullying, plagiarism, and other scandals, and be known as an ISD that truly did everything in their power to protect the lives of their students, staff, and faculty. See less

Markowitz shared her “coming out story” on Facebook.

Eliz Markowitz

October 11, 2021

Happy National Coming Out Day! I hope that we progress to a point in society where an individual's sexual preference is accepted every day each year and the need for such a holiday is eliminated. Until then, this is my story:

"It's a tale of two reactions. I wish I were able to offer a different narrative, but the responses of my parents were vastly different and had a profound effect on our relationships.

I had an inkling that I was gay in middle school. While my friends obsessed about going to prom with the cutest boys in class, try as I might, I was unable to mirror those feelings towards the opposite gender. My first relationship with a woman began in high school, and it was one of shared looks during class, clandestine meetings after school, and intense young love.

After dinner one night, I asked my dad, who is my best friend and biggest supporter, if he would go for a walk with me. We walked, we talked about meaningless nonsense, and then I told him that I had something I needed to tell him. He was nervous; I could read the concern on his face. I mumbled that I thought I was gay and, true to form, he gave me a huge hug and told me that nothing would ever come between us. He followed up with "This is no big deal! I thought you were going to tell me you were pregnant!" The irony was not lost on us, and we laughed as we walked home.

My mother, however, was a different story. Due to the premature death of my sister and half a dozen miscarriages, my mother suffered from depression and struggled with severe alcoholism. To say that our relationship had always been rocky would be an understatement. I returned home from work one day, found my mom sitting at the kitchen table with an expression of disgust on her face, and was greeted with "So you're having an affair with a woman?" I was speechless. She berated me, told me that I was going through a phase, and preached about how society would not accept my sexuality. None of what she said was as devastating as the words with which she ended her tirade: "Love has limits. This is a limit."

I cannot tell you exactly what happened over the next few hours at my house, but I do know that my parents fought, I retreated to my bedroom, and I went through the stages of grief in an expedited manner. While my mother became more tolerant of the idea over time, and we mended parts of our relationship before she passed away, we never fully repaired our already fractured relationship and her words were forever imprinted in my mind.

Parents, love should not have limits. Love your children with your entire being and love them for they are, not who you idealize them to be. Words carry weight, and your children will never forget those which are used to heal or harm."

“Dear Fellow White People” says Markowitz.

Eliz Markowitz

June 28, 2021 ·

Dear Fellow White People,

I am a 38-year-old gay woman of Jewish ethnicity living in a conservative state. I have faced my fair share of discrimination and hatred throughout my life. However, my experiences are through the lens of a white woman, someone who doesn't face the daily systemic racism embedded in our society and institutions.

Let's be clear. The United States was built on the backs of enslaved people, human beings who were considered property for no other reason than the color of their skin, and the institutions within this country were both developed and implemented by, and for, white people. By virtue of this fact, white people have the inherent privilege of living in a world that was created for their benefit.

If this makes you feel uncomfortable, it should. Any individual with a moral and ethical compass should be outraged that a caste system based upon the amount of melanin a person has, a system upon which our country was founded, continues to negatively impact the lives of our fellow human beings.

The goal is not to make you feel guilt, sadness, or anger. Nobody is asking you to justify the current system, explain your heritage, or apologize for the color of your skin. After all, you are not responsible for either the actions of those who came before you or your phenotype. You are, however, responsible for your actions, behaviors, and the way in which your actions and behaviors impact others.

It is your responsibility to recognize the inherent privilege you hold and be actively anti-racist. It is your responsibility to hold your fellow white people accountable for their words and actions, calling out behavior that perpetuates racial prejudice and division. It is your responsibility to actively listen to people of color and advocate for changes to a system rooted in inequity.

It's not a difficult concept. Use the privilege you've been given to work with those who are forced to operate in a world of discriminatory processes and policies to create a more equitable society. 🙏💙 See less

Markowitz blames Beto O'Rourke for her 2020 election loss.

"Eliz Markowitz, a Democrat whose effort to flip a Houston-area state House seat in 2020 drew national attention, recalled that O'Rourke and his organizers "set up shop" in her district to help her for about a month ahead of the election, drawing hundreds of volunteers from as far away as New York, Canada, Wisconsin and Spain. But it was not all positive.

"I think there were benefits and there were drawbacks," she said. "Beto is obviously a big name out in Texas, and so his presence definitely fired up the Democrats to come out and vote. But on the flip side, when you fire up the Democrats, you're going to fire up the Republicans."

Markowitz called O'Rourke "the best shot we have at actually winning that gubernatorial seat, and he's the individual who has put the most effort into actually changing the state of Texas. Even when he's not on the ballot, he's constantly working."

Still, she said, "There's a certain calculus that needs to be addressed. It would be difficult to have another loss."

Texas House Files Bill Condemning Racism against AAPIs

FIND OUT HOW TO GET INVOLVED:

Background:

Texas House Representative Gene Wu (HD137), Democrat of Houston, TX filed HCR 66 on March 15th, a bill that condemns racism against Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders (AAPIs) in the 87th Texas Legislative session.

Since the start of the COVID-19 pandemic, violence and racist acts have been on the rise across the nation. While oppression and discrimination has always existed towards AAPIs, incendiary comments “Kung Flu” and “China Virus” has led to AAPIs experiencing violent attacks and verbal abuse - with recent cases in San Antonio, Midland, and Dallas, Texas.

Get Involved:

WHAT TO DO NOW?

Call or email your Texas House Representative and ask them to sign onto this bill as a co-author. Condemning violence against AAPIs is a nonpartisan issue and should receive broad support from all elected officials, regardless of political affiliation.

Hey, y'all-

Over the past few weeks we have collectively experienced a seismic shift as a nation. Hundreds of thousands of voices are rising up in unison to demand change and an end to systemic racial abuse and police brutality.

Like everyone, I was appalled by the deaths of people like George Floyd, Ahmaud Arbery, Breonna Taylor, and so many others who have suffered the same fate at the hands of unjust system that still continues to propagate oppression against our black and brown brothers and sisters.

It is up to those of us who have enjoyed these unfair privileges to use those privileges to help dismantle a corrupt, unjust, and inequitable system. It is up to us to elevate the disenfranchised, amplify the voices of the unheard, and demand accountability from our criminal justice system.

As we continue to lack leadership from the federal government, we must take it upon ourselves to fight for a better tomorrow. One that is filled with empathy, compassion, and inclusion.

I hope to be a part of that change as your next Representative from District 28, and I will continue to condemn these abhorrent actions as I see them and work to become a better ally to support true voices for change.

On the birthday of Breonna Taylor, let us all commit to doing our part in this fight for justice. 🍌❤️

In solidarity,

At least we are focused on the priorities, Texas. 🙄

“The Texas Legislature is on the verge of approving a new law that would require some public schools and universities to display the phrase “In God We Trust” in prominent places inside all campus buildings.

The measure is in line with several that have progressed through the Capitol this year pertaining to education or patriotism. Lawmakers are also nearing passage of a bill that would ban teaching — or accepting donated materials pertaining to — critical race theory in public and open-enrollment charter schools. Other measures advancing in the final days of the session would require schools to teach “informed American patriotism” and require any professional sports teams with contracts with the state government to play the national anthem before the start of a game.” See less

Meet in the Middle Chronicles welcomes Dr. Eliz Markowitz - Democratic candidate for the Texas State Board of Education, District 7.
Hosted by Sam Collins III and Norman D. Pappous.

- ◆ Markowitz (segment begins 17:58): “We can't, we can't give individuals who are already at an advantage more of an advantage while we're not helping those of a lower economic status, and so we have to provide to give the same opportunities to all our students, and if that means distributing funding based on socio-economic status of the district or the ISD or the school, then that's something we need to do. It's also something that the Texas legislature needs to work on as well.”

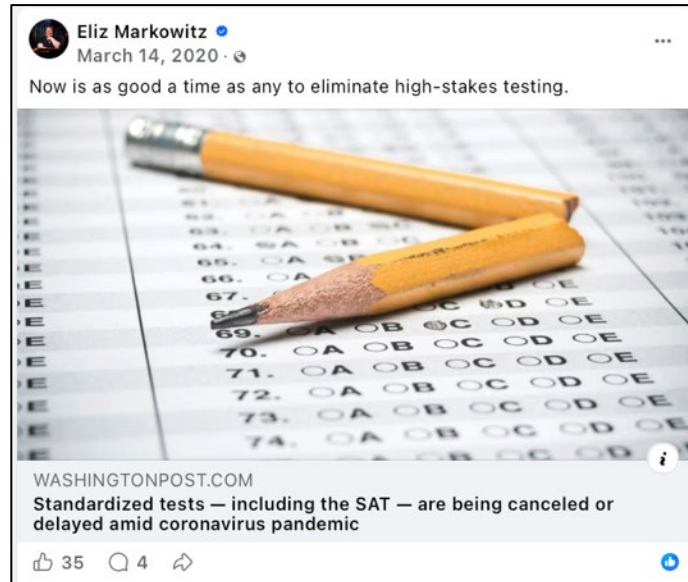

Markowitz loves to talk about how much she is opposed to standardized testing but helps author books for the standardized tests via the Princeton Review. Markowitz was the primary author for a book called “The Princeton Review high school algebra I unlocked”. Markowitz has also been a co-author and contributing author for several other books. She herself profits off standardized testing.

- ◆ Markowitz plans to remove standardized testing like the STAAR test. Why? Because standardized testing “is inevitably and inherently racist in its creation and distribution.” Markowitz states in the “Two Broads Talking Politics” podcast:

So I truly believe that the core or the root of all of our issues is standardized testing, and particularly the star test. I spent the time that I was working on my doctorate studying standardized tests and doing analysis on how effective they are and whether they actually do work in an assessment environment, and the fact of the matter is that standardized tests have no bearing on the aptitude, ability, or achievement of a school teacher or institution. So, and they've also been proven to be invalid, unreliable metrics of any of the aforementioned. So, here we are, plunging hundreds of millions of dollars into simply the creation of the star test, let alone the lost learning time, the penalization that teachers face if they don't achieve a certain score, the funding that is linked to standardized testing, which is inevitably and inherently racist in its creation and distribution, and so we have this test that is essentially determining the educational outcomes for all students. So, I've said publicly that the first piece of legislation that I would file would be to eliminate the STAAR test from the curriculum. I think we also need to get back to teaching teachers how to teach, instead of teaching to a test, which is also linked to our standardized testing, we need to stop linking school funding to standardized test scores, because again, these tests are created in the mindset of a high-class Caucasian individual taking these tests, and Texas is not that state. We are a diverse cornucopia of different ethnicities and nationalities, and so a single standardized test is not going to meet the needs of our students.

- ◆ Markowitz wants to get rid of SATs and thought Covid could be an opportunity to get rid of them.

Facebook, 03/14/2020

- ◆ At the same time, Markowitz profits off the standardized testing industry, authoring textbooks to help prepare for standardized tests. She's been working for Princeton Review for over 20 years.

Outside of politics, I'm a textbook author and am currently co-authoring a PCAT book. As nerdy as it sounds, there are few things that spark joy as much as writing a sexy math problem.

[Q5] What is the value of $(\log_5 10 - \log_5 2) + \log_5 5$?

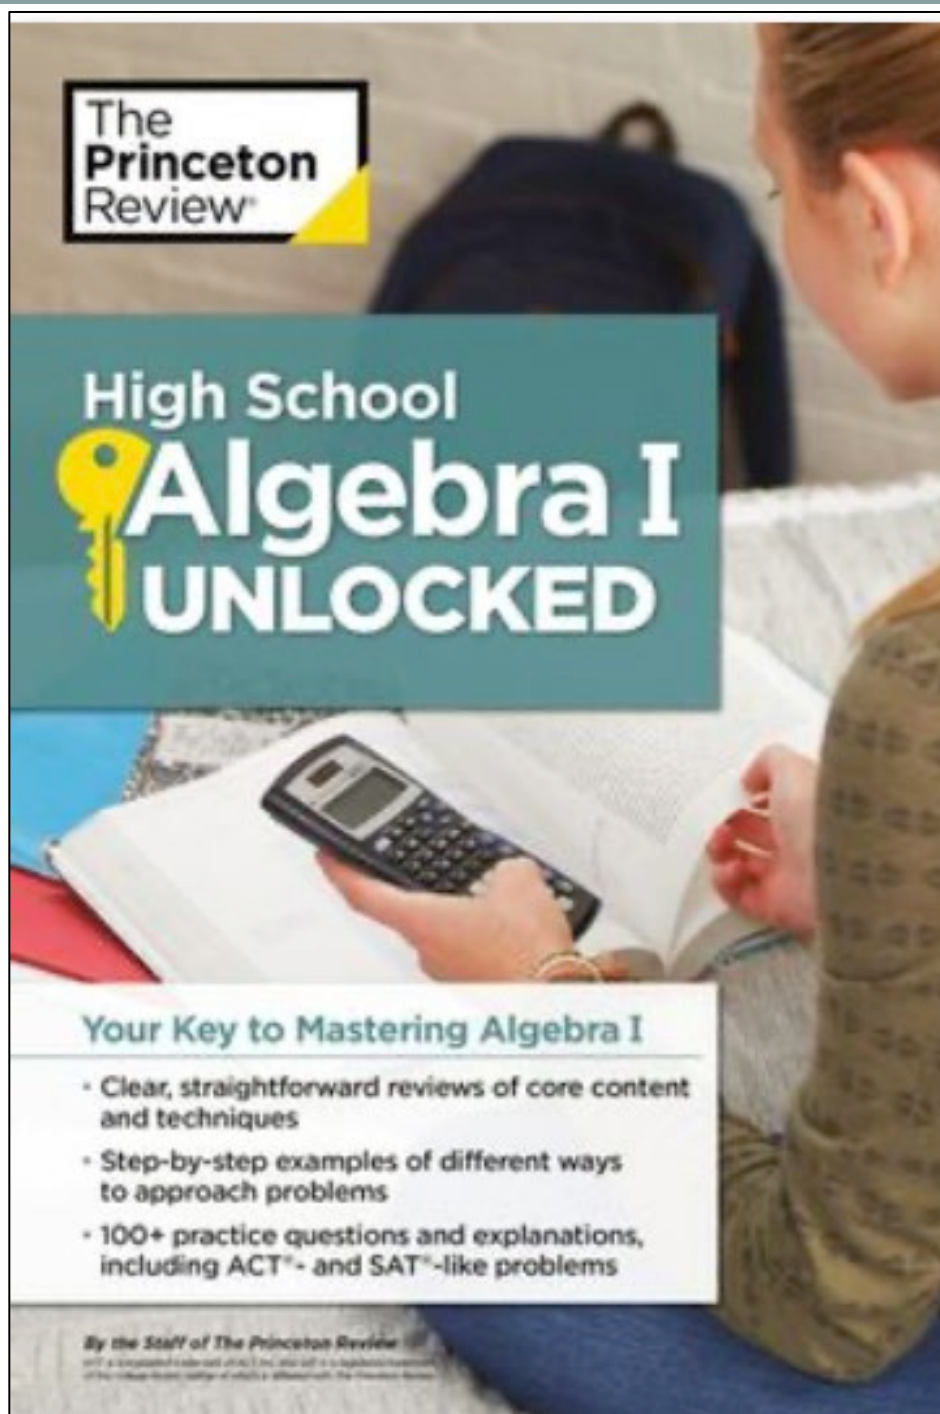

- A. $\log_5 40$
- B. $2 \log_5 5$
- C. $5 \log_5 5$
- D. $13 \log_5 5$

Follow order of operations and handle the information within the parentheses first. Recall that $\log_b x - \log_b y = \log_b \frac{x}{y}$. Accordingly, $\log_5 10 - \log_5 2 = \log_5 \frac{10}{2} = \log_5 5$. Next, remember that $\log_b x + \log_b y = \log_b xy$. Therefore, $\log_5 5 + \log_5 5 = \log_5 5^2$. Finally, recall that $\log_b x^y = y \log_b x$. Thus, $\log_5 5^2 = 2 \log_5 5$, and the correct answer is (B).

About this group

Indivisible Katy is a group that blends the Women's March (where many of us met) with the Indivisible movement, which teaches us how to become politically active. We have visited our legislators, written letters and postcards, and are actively involved in supporting candidates and getting out the vote in the Katy area. We generally meet the 3rd Tuesday of the month from 1:30 - 3:30 at Cinco Ranch Library but participate in activities throughout the month. No activities are required.

Markowitz is allied with the radical left group Run for Something. Run for something is a far-left nationwide organization run by a NYC liberal that aims at recruiting and supporting “progressive candidates” and has been favorable described as “building and army of Zohran Mamdanis.” Run for Something funnels George Soros’s Money into local races, as Soros’s Open Society Foundation gave a whopping $50 million to the group. Run for Something “alumni” include leftwing crazy woman, Nathya Raman, who is now running for Los Angeles mayor, and Texas’s very own James Talarico.

- ◆ Markowitz lists Run for Something as an endorsement on her campaign website.

Run For Something

Run for Something will help recruit and support young diverse progressives to run for down-ballot races in order to build a bench for the future. We aim to lower the barriers to entry for these candidates by helping them with seed money, organization building, and access to trainings needed to be successful.

<https://www.eliz4tx.com/endorsements>

- ◆ Run For Something is run by Amanda Litman of Brooklyn:

Amanda Litman is the co-founder and president of Run for Something, which recruits and supports young, diverse progressives running for down-ballot office. Since launching on Inauguration Day 2017, RFS has built the largest progressive candidate pipeline in the country, electing more than 1,650 leaders across nearly all 50 states — mostly women and people of color. She is also president of RFS Civics, a 501(c)(3) focused on ending the gerontocracy in American politics.

She is the author of two books: When We're in Charge: The Next Generation's Guide to Leadership (Zando/Crooked Media Reads, 2025), named a best business book by the Financial Times and endorsed by Adam Grant, Ilana Glazer, Jon Favreau, and Anne Helen Petersen; and Run for Something: A Real-Talk Guide to Fixing the System Yourself (Atria, 2017), with a foreword by Hillary Rodham Clinton.

Before launching Run for Something, Litman served as National Email Director for Hillary Clinton's 2016 presidential campaign, where she oversaw a digital fundraising operation that raised $330 million from more than 3 million donors. She previously served as digital director for Charlie Crist's 2014 Florida gubernatorial campaign and deputy email director for Organizing for Action. She holds a B.A. in American Studies from Northwestern University.

Politico named her one of 50 ideas driving American politics (2018). Bloomberg named her one of the people to watch (2019). Fortune included her on their 40 Under 40 list (2020). She was named to Time's Next 100 in 2022, was a 2022 Dial Fellow at the Emerson Collective, and is a 2025/2026 Obama Foundation USA Leader.

She lives in Brooklyn with her husband, two daughters, and their rowdy rescue dog.

- ◆ Run for Something has received $50 million in Soros money to push their radical agenda:

“Ensuring that all communities have the tools they need to maximize both individual and collective engagement in our society creates a more vibrant American democracy for everyone. This historic investment will help ensure that the voices of women and our young people are heard, valued, and included in this critical work,” said Leah Daughtry, a co-convenor of Power Rising, an organization that seeks to advance racial, gender, and social justice on a nonpartisan basis.

“Run for Something Action Fund is so grateful to Open Society Policy Center for its sustained investment in our nonpartisan work recruiting and supporting thousands of young diverse leaders running for state and local office,” said Amanda Litman, co-executive director of Run for Something. “The millennial and Gen Z leaders we recruit, who are a majority women and a majority people of color, are doing the hard work of engaging their communities and rebuilding our democracy from the ground up. Their leadership has never been more important as they fight to protect and expand abortion access, stop book bans, and engage young voters in authentic ways. We'll have their back; we're so glad OSPC has ours."

"The Open Society Foundations' generous commitment of $50 million ignites an unprecedented pathway for youth and women's activism. This is more than funding; it's a resounding vote of confidence in our young and women changemakers' untapped potential and visionary power," said Dakota Hall, the executive director of the Alliance for Youth Action. "As we embrace this transformative moment, we're not just part of history but actively forging it. This investment is a call to action, ushering in an era where silenced voices take the lead, and our collective organizing shapes a future with limitless possibilities."

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Date: Monday, September 15, 2025

Contact: press@runforsomething.net

Run for Something Alumni Are Running for Higher Office

More than 20 Democrats under the age of 40 are running for Congress — and nearly half of them are RFS alumni

“This is exactly what Run for Something was built to do—identify, recruit, and support young people to run for local office so they can become our next generation of leaders,” said Amanda Litman, co-founder and President of Run for Something. “Our alumni are proving that when you invest in emerging leaders early, they don’t just stay in office—they rise.”

In the last two weeks alone, at least five candidates who have previously earned RFS’ endorsement announced runs. That includes: Texas State Rep. James Talarico, who entered the Democratic primary to challenge GOP incumbent Sen. John Cornyn. Talarico, known for his thoughtful leadership and bipartisan work in the Texas House, has long been a rising star in Texas politics.

From city halls to state legislatures, these leaders have proven that local service is the most powerful training ground. What began as a direct response to the chaos of Trump’s first term has evolved into a full-blown pipeline of next-generation leadership. Today, Run for Something’s total pipeline includes over 230,000 future leaders who are running to govern, to lead, and to win. And since Trump was elected in November, over 67,000 people have raised their hands to explore a run—more people than signed up during all four years of Trump’s first term.

Joe Biden endorses Democrat in battleground Texas House special election

The leading Democratic presidential candidate is wading into the Jan. 28 special election runoff for House District 28.

Democratic presidential candidate Joe Biden is backing Eliz Markowitz in the special election runoff for state House District 28, her highest-profile endorsement yet in the battleground race.

Markowitz faces Republican businessman Gary Gates in the Jan. 28 race to replace former Rep. John Zerwas, R-Richmond. Democrats are working to flip the suburban Houston seat as they look to capture the House majority in November.

Biden cited Markowitz's extensive education background in endorsing her. Markowitz, who ran unsuccessfully last year for the State Board of Education, is a longtime instructor, trainer and author with The Princeton Review.

"I'm from a family of teachers and I know the real deal: Not only is Eliz an educator and activist — she's the kind of fighter who will bring heart and smarts to the statehouse and to communities across Texas and at home in Fort Bend County," Biden said in a statement. "She has worked to boost access to health care and quality public education, and to train other teachers across the country. Let's help her continue that fight for our families and futures on January 28th."

Biden, who is leading Texas presidential primary polls, is the latest White House contender to get involved in the runoff after Michael Bloomberg visited the district late last month to stump with Markowitz. The ex-New York City mayor did so at the recommendation of Beto O'Rourke, the former El Paso congressman who has taken a close interest in the race, especially since ending his presidential bid in November. O'Rourke first campaigned with Markowitz in September and is set to return to the district this weekend for his third trip there to help her.

Markowitz took $2,500 from Megan Hull in 2019-2020, activist and daughter of billionaire Blair Hull. Megan Hull

Megan Hull is a left-of-center activist and political donor who regularly contributes to Democratic candidates and left-of-center advocacy causes. Her father is Blair Hull, a billionaire investor and founder of the left-of-center grantmaking nonprofit the Hull Family Foundation. Megan Hull sits on the board of the Hull Family Foundation, which funds a variety of left-of-center advocacy groups including NARAL, the American Civil Liberties Union, Planned Parenthood, and the Council on American-Islamic Relations. In her personal capacity, Hull has donated thousands to Democratic candidates and left-of-center advocacy groups, and founded the now-defunct Secretary of State Project in the mid-2000s. ^{1 2 3}

Background and Career

Megan Hull is the daughter of Blair Hull, a Chicago-based investor who was a member of a “card-counting” group of blackjack players in the 1970s. Partially with his winnings from gambling, Hull launched the Hull Trading Company, which he would later sell to Goldman Sachs for $531 million. Hull later used this money to found the Hull Family Foundation and to self-fund a campaign in the 2004 U.S. Senate election in Illinois, coming in third place in the Democratic primary with 10 percent of the vote, losing to future President Barack Obama. ⁴

Blair Hull’s four children, Megan, Kristin, Courtney, and Jeff, at one point all sat on the Hull Family Foundation board. Megan, Courtney, and Jeff were still on the foundation board as of 2023. ^{5 6}

In 2006, Megan Hull co-founded the Secretary of State Project, an effort sponsored by members of the Democracy Alliance and the personal fortune of left-of-center donor and businessman George Soros, to elect senior state elections officials, typically state secretaries of state, from the Democratic Party. The Secretary of State Project lost five of the seven races it targeted in 2010, with the only victories coming from incumbents in California and Minnesota. ⁷

According to her biography on the now-defunct organization’s website, in 2004, prior to her work at the Secretary of State Project, she “was a Project Director for Democracy Reform at the Center for Civic Participation” and “in 2004, she was a Co-Director of the coalition that investigated polling place problems and vote counting irregularities in Ohio and New Mexico.” ⁸

Federal Election Commission donation filings list Hull as a self-employed consultant in Washington, D.C. ⁹

Crisis Management

Every Texan should be assured that the state has comprehensive plans for handling the occurrence and aftermath of natural and man-made disasters. Following the aftermath of Hurricane Harvey and during COVID-19, many Texans were left without sufficient support. The district must develop, fund, and implement processes to ensure the health and safety of all Texans; these plans should adhere to local, state, and federal public safety guidelines. Furthermore, the district must immediately develop plans to manage emergency learning protocols, in the event of short-term and long-term educational disruptions. Additionally, our district must actively address issues concerning violence in our schools, and invest more money in providing mental health services to our students in order to reduce the possibility of violence, particularly gun violence, in our schools.

As an educator of nearly two decades and graduate of Katy ISD, I'm running for the Katy ISD Board of Trustees because I believe education is the foundation of our society, affecting all aspects of our lives and community. We must work together to improve the educational outcomes of our students, provide teachers with greater support and resources, and ensure parents are active participants in the educational process.

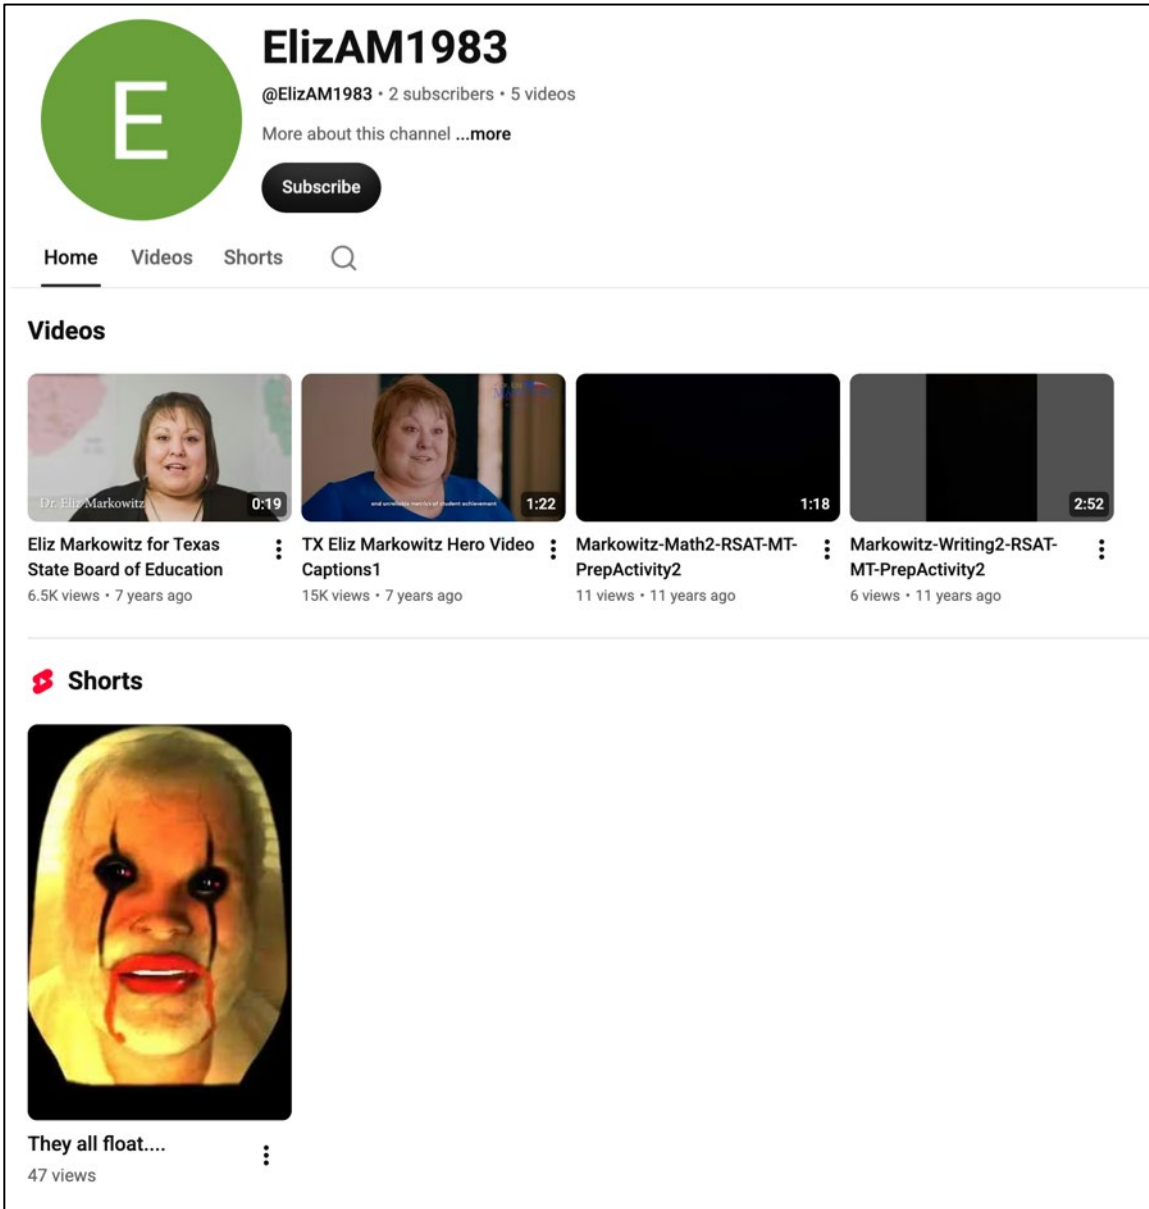

I believe that we must adopt and implement evidence-based best practices for education to ensure that our students are prepared to be productive members of the global society in which we live. Our students are far more than a test score, and rather than simply teach to a test, we must remove the handcuffs from our teachers and allow them to teach material that promotes curiosity and critical thinking skills. The district must also provide high-quality education to all students, including our special needs and gifted students, and the district must meet the needs of all learners.

The district must also adopt and implement plans to handle emergent situations, such as that experienced during the COVID-19 pandemic, that address both public safety issues and provide remote learning options for those whose health would be compromised by in-person attendance. Above all, the district must be transparent with the community when developing policies and procedures and accountable for their actions.

DISTRICT MAP

See if you live in HD 26

As a Fort Bend County native with an educational and professional background in healthcare, education, and public administration, I believe that healthcare and education are two of the greatest issues facing our constituents today. Over the last few legislative sessions, we have seen Texas Republicans in office reject funds for Medicaid expansion. In fact, Texas residents paid $36.2 billion in federal taxes between 2014 and 2024 that were allocated towards Medicaid funding in other states that had expanded coverage. As your State Representative, I'll fight to make healthcare more accessible, affordable, and effective for Texans. That means expanding rural hospitals, boosting mental health services in schools, and making telehealth a permanent, statewide option. I'll work to reduce prescription drug costs, improve maternal health, and ensure every child has access to a school nurse. By focusing on prevention, early care, and community-based solutions, we can keep Texans healthier, lower costs for families, and make sure no one is left behind when they need care.

During the last legislative session, we saw the Republicans funnel taxpayer money to fund charter schools through the use of vouchers, which do not have to educate all children and operate with little transparency. As your State Representative, I'll work to strengthen Texas schools and give every child the tools to succeed to ensure that our students are prepared to be productive members of the global society in which we live. That means raising teacher pay to attract and keep the best educators, expanding early childhood and literacy programs, and boosting career and technical education so students graduate ready for college or high-paying jobs. I'll fight to modernize classrooms, reduce over-testing, and make sure every student has a safe, supportive, and high-quality learning environment. Strong schools mean a stronger Texas economy!

Without an educated society, we are destined to see our economy fail. However, as your State Representative, my focus will be on building a stronger Texas economy that works for everyone. I'll push to invest in high-paying job training programs, expand rural broadband so every community can compete, and support small businesses with targeted grants and tax relief. We'll modernize infrastructure, attract innovative industries, and protect our agricultural backbone. By cutting unnecessary red tape and investing in our people, we can create more opportunities, raise wages, and keep Texas the best place to live, work, and build a future.

ECONOMY

- Fight for much needed property tax relief; no Texan should be taxed out of their home.
- Partner with community colleges and technical schools to train workers for high-demand industries
- Tax Incentives for Startups to encourage entrepreneurship and attract innovative companies to Texas and Fort Bend County.
- Allocate state grants and incentives to expand broadband and connect underserved rural communities.
- Expand disaster relief and market access programs to support Texas farmers and ranchers.
- Incorporate both renewable and advanced energy technologies to diversify our energy economy through Energy Innovation Grants.

EDUCATION

- Invest in both college and trade programs.
- Invest in early education child development programs
- Improve teacher retention through salary increases and advocate for benefits reform.
- Reduce class sizes
- Improve the state of Texas higher education.
- Eliminate the STAAR test, reinvesting the money to be spent on such tests into our public education system.

HEALTHCARE

- Develop and implement evidence-based safety protocols for public health situations.
- Fight for Medicaid Expansion.
- Expand mental health care services and programs available to the public
- Improve maternal health outcomes
- Work to make healthcare more accessible, affordable, and effective through Medicaid expansion.
- Expand rural hospitals.
- Expand preventative care services.

"The greatness of a community is most accurately measured by the compassionate actions of its members."

— Coretta Scott King

ISSUES

Education

All Texans have the right to receive high-quality, publicly-funded education. High-quality public schools that meet the needs of all individuals should be accessible. Here's where I stand on the issues.

-Teachers and Support Staff

The success of our children is dependent upon the success of our teachers, counselors, librarians, aides, and other support staff. Due to meager wages, deficient funding, and the increased emphasis on standardized testing, which is improperly used as a teacher performance metric and monopolizes class time, educational institutions suffer from low teacher retention rates and are often forced to staff unqualified individuals. If we wish to recruit superior, certified teachers that have the training and tools necessary to support all students throughout their educational journey, we must increase teacher pay and advocate for quality, affordable healthcare and retirement options. Such issues have only exacerbated since the COVID-19 pandemic and the passage of HB2 in the past legislative session.

-Special Education

Individuals of all abilities are entitled to receive a high-quality education at any publicly-funded Texas educational institution. Both gifted students and those with disabilities are entitled to receive appropriate, high-quality early, secondary, and postsecondary education and access to all services and support indicated in their individual education plans. Furthermore, we believe that all institutions should provide a safe-haven for students of all abilities, and disparities in instruction or discipline based on such factors should be eliminated.

-Standardized Testing

Studies show that standardized testing is an ineffective metric of both student and teacher performance, discourages higher-level critical thinking and creativity, and penalizes underserved populations. While the district receives funding based on standardized test scores, the approach to test preparation must move away from teaching to the test. Furthermore, the use of a statewide, test-based "Value Added Measure" as a teacher evaluation metric should be uniformly rejected, as such measures have been proven invalid and do not reflect an educator's ability to effectively teach. Furthermore, students with disabilities must take assessments designated in individual education plans and no longer be subject to inappropriate testing.

-Vocational Training

College is not, and should not be treated as, the only path to success. For students who do not wish to attend college, vocational education programs can provide high school students with occupational training, unrelated to traditional academic skills. Accordingly, it is imperative that Texas expand its career and technical educational programming. The further development of hands-on training programs will prepare students for a specific career or trade. Furthermore, the establishment of career programs has been shown to reduce the number of students who drop out of high school and benefit at-risk students, while also providing all students with an alternative to college or university.

Healthcare

Every Texan should have access to high-quality, affordable health care. As a state, we must ensure that we provide comprehensive health care options to our all Texans, including the most vulnerable, our children, veterans, and seniors. No individual should be denied access because of a pre-existing condition or inability to pay an exorbitant hospital bill.

Texas has the highest uninsured rate in the nation, with more than 1 in 6 Texans lacking health coverage. By refusing Medicaid expansion, our representatives are leaving billions of federal dollars on the table every year—money that could be used to keep our rural hospitals open, lower the cost of care, and provide everyday Texans with affordable coverage. Expanding Medicaid isn't just about healthcare—it's about strengthening our economy, protecting our communities, and ensuring that every Texan can see a doctor when they need one. As your State Representative, I'll fight to bring our tax dollars back home and invest them where they belong: in the health of Texans.

Texas is one of the most diverse states in the nation and Fort Bend County one of the most diverse counties in the country. Despite this, too many communities face unequal access to care. Black mothers are more likely to die during childbirth, Hispanic families are more likely to be uninsured, and rural Texans often drive hours just to see a doctor. Reducing these disparities isn't just the right thing to do—it's smart policy. By expanding community health clinics, investing in bilingual and culturally competent care, and tackling barriers like cost and transportation, we can make sure every Texan has a fair chance at living a productive, healthy life.

Crisis Management

Every Texan should be assured that the state has comprehensive plans for handling the occurrence and aftermath of natural and man-made disasters. Following the aftermath of Hurricane Harvey and during COVID-19, many Texans were left without sufficient support. The district must develop, fund, and implement processes to ensure the health and safety of all Texans; these plans should adhere to local, state, and federal public safety guidelines. Furthermore, the district must immediately develop plans to manage emergency learning protocols, in the event of short-term and long-term educational disruptions. Additionally, our district must actively address issues concerning violence in our schools, and invest more money in providing mental health services to our students in order to reduce the possibility of violence, particularly gun violence, in our schools.

Immigration

The state of Texas is great because of the contributions of immigrants. Not only do immigrants make up more than 1 in 6 Texas workers, but they contribute an estimated $192 billion annually in personal income, which equates to nearly one in five dollars of spending power in Texas. That's roughly 20% of the state's consumer spending economy

As a state that shares its southern border with an ally, it would be in our best interests to enact fair and practical immigration reform. As Texans we must support a secure border that protects Texans, and Americans, from bad actors engaged in the evils of human trafficking and drug smuggling. However, we must balance that by treating immigrants humanely, considering the pleas of asylum seekers and refugees with the utmost seriousness. We must support the passage of the DREAM Act, which will allow those here under DACA (Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals) to achieve their citizenship and their American dream.

We cannot allow the current policies of child separation, 'tender age' shelters, and a zero-tolerance approach to immigration to continue. We must value the power that is associated with the diverse skillsets of our immigrant population, with a pragmatic approach that ensures the continued success of the Texas economy, while respecting the dignity and humanity of immigrants.

See if you live in Katy ISD

As an educator of nearly two decades and graduate of Katy ISD, I'm running for the Katy ISD Board of Trustees because I believe education is the foundation of our society, affecting all aspects of our lives and community. We must work together to improve the educational outcomes of our students, provide teachers with greater support and resources, and ensure parents are active participants in the educational process.

I believe that we must adopt and implement evidence-based best practices for education to ensure that our students are prepared to be productive members of the global society in which we live. Our students are far more than a test score, and rather than simply teach to a test, we must remove the handcuffs from our teachers and allow them to teach material that promotes curiosity and critical thinking skills. The district must also provide high-quality education to all students, including our special needs and gifted students, and the district must meet the needs of all learners.

The district must also adopt and implement plans to handle emergent situations, such as that experienced during the COVID-19 pandemic, that address both public safety issues and provide remote learning options for those whose health would be compromised by in-person attendance. Above all, the district must be transparent with the community when developing policies and procedures and accountable for their actions.

STUDENT SUCCESS

- Invest in both college and trade school preparatory programs
- Provide life skills courses to prepare students for life after graduation
- Promote curiosity, experiential learning, and critical thinking skills for career preparation
- Reduce class sizes
- Support family engagement with inclusive, individualized approaches and informational community events

TEACHERS & CURRICULUM

- Invest in early education child development programs
- ESE and gifted learner initiatives based on best practices.
- Grade-level reading initiatives to ensure literacy proficiency
- Promote culturally relevant teaching and learning.
- Support professional development and partner with teachers to develop appropriate policies
- Improve teacher retention through salary increases and advocate for benefits reform.

HEALTH & SAFETY

- Develop and implement evidence-based safety protocols for public health situations.
- Expand mental health care services and programs available to KISD students, staff, and employees.
- Improve access to a breadth of services, including nutrition, physical, and mental health services, to ensure students are able to focus on learning
- Develop and implement plans to handle virtual education should the need arise.

For years, we've been told that funneling money away from our public schools was the answer. Now, charter school enrollment growth is slowing, but the damage to public education funding remains.

Texas has spent years chasing the next shiny education fad while underfunding the schools that educate the overwhelming majority of our kids. Meanwhile, teachers are leaving the profession, districts are making budget cuts, and families are being asked to do more with less.

As a teacher, I know what our public schools can do when they're given the resources to succeed. It's time to stop treating public education like an afterthought and start investing in the students, educators, and communities that will make Texas strong.

Let's change the narrative together this November, y'all! 🗳️💙 See less

Business Risk & Controls Advisor Senior at USAA Federal Savings Bank

February 22, 2012, Eliz reported to Jahnavi directly

From 2005-2012, I have had the distinct pleasure of successfully working with Jahnavi Rajagopal at The Princeton Review in both San Antonio and Houston, Texas. Throughout my time as an instructor and trainer at The Princeton Review, I've personally witnessed Jahnavi's ability to cooperate with a diverse set of individuals, produce high sales numbers, and attack everything in her wake with both a professional attitude and caring disposition.

Jahnavi has worked her way up the corporate ladder at The Princeton Review, but has not eschewed the more dynamic world of teaching. Indeed, throughout Jahnavi's time as Director of Operations, she continued to teach, tutor, and train current instructors for the betterment of the company. Always professional and courteous, Jahnavi willingly collaborates with colleagues and demonstrates a genuine willingness to try new strategies.

With a B.S. in Microbiology, more than seven years of multi-subject teaching experience, and four years in management, her presence on any team should be deemed a tremendous asset. While undeniably professional, it should be noted that Jahnavi has an easy-going disposition that will fit in well with individuals who are serious about their work, but also know the meaning of fun. Her professionalism is a balanced combination of ability, experience, and affability. It is without hesitation that I give my endorsement of Jahnavi Rajagopal's skills and professionalism.
