RE: Sandeep Srivastava Research Report

Introduction

On July 8, 2026, the Fulcrum Intel research team began an assessment of Sandeep Srivastava’s personal, professional, and political history. This report outlines the results of our research and provides an analysis of the resulting information relating to Srivastava and his vulnerabilities as a candidate for Texas House District 66. The comprehensive background check and social media vetting reports, as well as other supporting documentation, can be found here. Additionally, a list of all background reports, AI social media reports, and other avenues of research is outlined in the Research Methodology chapter, and details regarding open record requests submitted to various government agencies can be found here.

Executive Summary

Sandeep Srivastava is running for Texas House District 66 as a business-minded Democrat focused on public education, health care, and property-tax relief. His record shows a different candidate: a formerly self-described “hardcore conservative” who crossed to the Democratic primary ballot after losing a nonpartisan Plano City Council race, has lost every general election he has entered since 2021, and campaigns on property-tax relief while he and his wife hold residence homestead exemptions on two homes at the same time, two years after he swore to one appraisal district that the second house had stopped being his residence.

Srivastava is a perennial candidate who has run as both a Republican and Democrat, but has never won a general election. On April 19, 2021, at a candidate forum organized by Collin County Republican Party clubs, Srivastava told Plano City Council voters, “As far as the policies, I am a hardcore conservative,” and closed by asking them to send him to the council “to present a good conservative agenda in the city.” On May 1, 2021, he finished fourth of five candidates with 11.65 percent of the vote. On July 14, 2021, roughly two months after the loss, he made his first recorded federal contribution to a Democratic organization: $50 to Powered by People, the political action committee founded by Beto O’Rourke. On March 1, 2022, he took a Democratic primary ballot for the first time, ending seven straight Republican primary ballots dating back to March 2010, and won the Democratic primary for U.S. House District 3.

Srivastava's reinvention has not produced a general-election win. Srivastava has appeared on the ballot in four cycles since 2021 and lost every general election he has entered: the 2021 council race, the 2022 District 3 race against Republican Keith Self by roughly 24 points, and the 2024 rematch against Self by 25 points. His only contested victory is the 2022 two-candidate primary, in which fewer than 23,000 ballots were cast. In the 2024 and 2026 primaries, he ran unopposed. Ahead of the 2024 cycle, he initially filed in U.S. House District 32, refiled for District 24, withdrew before the primary, and refiled in District 3. He now faces Republican incumbent Matt Shaheen in November for Texas House District 66.

Srivastava's property-tax message collides with his own tax records. He has said that "rising property taxes are crushing Texans, from small businesses to seniors on fixed incomes." On January 30, 2025, Srivastava had signed a sworn application to the Collin Central Appraisal District stating that he began occupying his Frisco house as his principal residence on May 25, 2023, and asking that his homestead exemption be transferred from his Plano house in Denton County. Collin County granted the Frisco exemption for tax year 2025. Denton County kept the Plano exemption. Both houses carried a residence homestead exemption in tax year 2025, and both carry one again in 2026, a Frisco residence appraised at $2,984,228 and a Plano property at $1,158,000. Texas Tax Code Section 11.13(h) provides that "a person may not receive an exemption under this section for more than one residence homestead in the same year."

Srivastava's ties to the Islamic Association of Collin County (IACC) carry particular weight in this district. In the March 2026 Republican primary, 93.14 percent of Collin County Republican primary voters backed a nonbinding ballot measure stating that Texas should prohibit Sharia law. On October 22, 2024, Srivastava's congressional campaign publicized a private fundraiser hosted by Akram and Zeba Syed. Akram Syed co-founded the IACC and the Taqwa Seminary, and the couple contributed $2,250 to Srivastava's federal campaigns. Arsalan Haque, the IACC's imam and formerly its resident scholar and the Taqwa Seminary's director for 8 years, said in a recorded sermon that a husband may strike his wife "with something like a small stick," "without leaving a mark on the body anywhere," to "bring her back to her senses." In a second recorded lecture, Haque said it was his "duty... to discipline my wife if she rebels" and described physical discipline of a wife as something "Allah... tells us to do in certain situations." In August 2024, Srivastava described a "wonderful day" at the IACC, which promoted an anti-Israel event at UT-Dallas the following month.

On hot-button issues, Srivastava's record runs well to the left of the district he seeks to represent. Srivastava pledged to codify Roe v. Wade in October 2021, and in June 2024 called Texas "the epicenter of legislative attacks on reproductive rights." On guns, he lists Everytown's "Gun Sense Candidate" designation among his endorsements, and he blamed the state's 2021 constitutional-carry law for mass shootings in Texas.

During his 2024 congressional run, Srivastava wrote that Republicans “advocate for drastic measures like rounding up immigrants and establishing concentration camps.” He supports a pathway to citizenship for illegal immigrants already living in the country, opposes ending birthright citizenship, and wrote in October 2025 that “H-1B holders don’t take jobs away — they help create them.” On February 6, 2024, while more than 130 hostages were still held by Hamas, he called for a Gaza ceasefire while speaking at a local Islamic center.

In 2022, Srivastava said he was fighting for the “Economy and Medicare for All,” yet independent cost analyses have widely concluded that instituting Medicare for All would be incredibly costly and produce ripple effects that would reach the middle class. The Mercatus Center put the ten-year federal cost of Medicare for All at $32.6 trillion, and the Committee for a Responsible Federal Budget found that financing it would require tax increases reaching the middle class. On education, Srivastava is “firmly against” the school-choice program Texas enacted in 2025 and has pledged to repeal it, and he has also voiced support for universal Pre-K.

Srivastava has tied himself publicly to the national and state Democratic establishment. He endorsed Kamala Harris for President in July 2024, thanked Nancy Pelosi for “extending her full support” at a private dinner, and celebrated Ketanji Brown Jackson’s confirmation to the Supreme Court as “a historic day.” He has been pictured with Raja Krishnamoorthi, who voted three times to impeach President Trump, voted for a nationwide statutory right to abortion, voted for the 2022 Assault Weapons Ban, and voted against the Laken Riley Act. He has campaigned with Colin Allred, who voted twice to impeach President Trump and voted against the Secure the Border Act. Srivastava said he is proud to stand with James Talarico, who has called for ICE to be torn down, supports defunding the police and abolishing prisons, and claimed that “God is non-binary.” Srivastava appeared with Gene Wu and Mihaela Plesa, the caucus leaders of the August 2025 quorum-break walkout, in which more than 50 House Democrats left the state to block the Republican redistricting map. Wu called the map a “racist gerrymandered map” and President Trump “a disgraced president.” Plesa, who authored legislation to repeal parental consent for a minor’s abortion and touts a “100% pro-choice voting record,” returned to the Capitol declaring “I feel victorious.”

Srivastava asks the voters of House District 66 to send him to Austin on his fourth campaign in six years, carrying positions on abortion, guns, immigration, and school choice that Collin County voters have already rejected twice in his races against Self. Srivastava is a perennial loser with a record of reinvention without a win, far from the priorities of the district he seeks to represent.

TOP FINDINGS

From “Hardcore Conservative” To Democrat

1. At an April 19, 2021 candidate forum, Srivastava said, “As far as the policies, I am a hardcore conservative,” and closed by asking voters to send him to the council “to present a good conservative agenda in the city.”^{1 2}
2. On July 14, 2021, roughly two months after losing a May special election for the nonpartisan Plano City Council, Srivastava made his first recorded federal contribution to a Democratic organization: $50 to Powered by People, the political action committee founded by Beto O’Rourke.^{3 4}
3. On March 1, 2022, Srivastava voted in the Democratic primary, ending a run of seven consecutive Republican primary ballots between March 2010 and July 2020, including two Republican primary runoffs.⁵
4. Srivastava’s $3,000 contribution to Colin Allred for Congress in March 2023 was more than four times his largest recorded contribution to any Republican committee.^{6 7}

Perennial Loser

1. Srivastava has lost every general election he has entered since 2021: the 2021 Plano City Council special election, the 2022 U.S. House District 3 race against Republican Keith Self by roughly 24 points, and the 2024 rematch against Self by 25 points.^{8 9 10}
2. Srivastava’s only contested electoral victory is the 2022 two-candidate Democratic primary, in which fewer than 23,000 ballots were cast. His 2024 and 2026 primary wins came without opposition.^{11 12 13}

3. Ahead of the 2024 cycle, Srivastava initially filed in U.S. House District 32, refiled for District 24, withdrew before the primary, and refiled in District 3. He will now face Republican incumbent Matt Shaheen in the November 2026 general election.^{14 15}

Residence Homestead Exemptions On Two Houses

1. Srivastava campaigned on property-tax relief, writing that “rising property taxes are crushing Texans, from small businesses to seniors on fixed incomes” and that “homeownership shouldn’t be an impossible burden.”¹⁶
2. On January 30, 2025, Srivastava signed a sworn application to the Collin Central Appraisal District stating he began occupying his Frisco house as his principal residence on May 25, 2023, and requesting that his homestead exemption be transferred from his Plano house in Denton County.¹⁷
3. Denton County never removed it. The Plano house has carried a certified “HS - Homestead” exemption on the Denton appraisal roll in every tax year from 2023 through 2026, including all three years after the occupancy date Srivastava swore to.^{18 19 20 21}
4. In tax year 2024, the couple’s only residence homestead exemption sat on the Plano house Srivastava had sworn he stopped occupying in May 2023. The Frisco house carried no exemption that year, and the City of Frisco, Collin County, Collin College, and Frisco ISD each taxed it at its full $3,100,000 value.^{22 23}
5. In tax years 2025 and 2026, both houses carried the exemption at the same time: a Frisco residence appraised at $2,984,228 for 2026 and a Plano property appraised at $1,158,000. In 2025 alone, seven taxing units across two counties removed a combined $1,737,580 from the taxable value of the two properties. Texas Tax Code Section 11.13(h) provides

Ties To Islamic Organization Whose Top Cleric Justifies Domestic Abuse

1. Srivastava seeks to represent a district where 93.14 percent of Collin County Republican primary voters backed a March 2026 ballot measure stating that Texas should prohibit Sharia law.^{32 33}
2. On October 22, 2024, Srivastava’s congressional campaign held a private fundraiser hosted by Akram and Zeba Syed; Akram Syed co-founded the IACC and the Taqwa Seminary, and the couple contributed $2,250 to Srivastava’s federal campaigns.^{34 35 36}

Democratic Establishment Connections

1. Srivastava endorsed Kamala Harris for President in July 2024, thanked Nancy Pelosi for “extending her full support” at a private dinner, and celebrated Ketanji Brown Jackson’s confirmation to the Supreme Court as “a historic day.”^{41 42 43}
2. Srivastava said he is proud to stand with James Talarico, who has called for ICE to be torn down, supports defunding the police and abolishing prisons, and claimed that “God is non-binary.”^{44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51}
3. Srivastava campaigned with Colin Allred and appeared with Gene Wu and Mihaela Plesa, the Texas House Democratic Caucus leaders of the August 2025 quorum-break walkout.^{52 53 54}

Abortion

1. In October 2021, Srivastava urged the U.S. Senate to pass the Women’s Health Protection Act and pledged to “proudly vote” to codify Roe v. Wade into federal law.⁵⁵
 - a. The bill he backed, H.R. 3755, superseded federal and state law “notwithstanding” the Religious Freedom Restoration Act, barred any prohibition on abortion “at any point or points in time prior to fetal viability,” barred states from requiring a patient to disclose her “reason or reasons” for seeking an abortion, and identified state “parental involvement laws (notification and consent)” among the restrictions it targeted.⁵⁶
 - b. H.R. 3755 also required a state defending any abortion regulation to prove by “clear and convincing evidence” that the regulation advanced patient safety, and stripped state immunity from suits challenging it. The bill passed the U.S. House

2. Srivastava kept the pledge current through 2024, promising to codify Roe “through legislation like the Women’s Health Act” in the same thread in which he called Texas “the epicenter of legislative attacks on reproductive rights.”^{60 61 62}

Gun Control

1. Srivastava named two federal gun measures in his 2022 congressional run: raising the purchase age for “advanced weapons” and federal background checks, posted alongside his Moms Demand Action “#gunsense candidate” designation.^{63 64}
 - a. In September 2024, Srivastava met with Moms Demand Action in Allen to describe his “vision” for “common-sense solutions.”⁶⁵
2. Srivastava wants federal gun law to displace the Texas Legislature. In May 2023, he wrote that “our state legislators have failed” and that “it’s time for the Federal Government to step up.”⁶⁶
3. Srivastava lists Everytown’s “Gun Sense Candidate” designation among his endorsements.^{67 68}
 - a. Everytown calls for background checks on all gun sales, waiting periods, extreme risk laws, requiring prohibited people to turn in their guns, and prohibiting people with what Everytown terms “dangerous histories” from having guns.⁶⁹
 - b. Everytown calls for prohibiting assault weapons, high-capacity magazines, and “auto sears, bump stocks, and other rapid-fire devices,” and for blocking the deregulation of silencers.⁷⁰
 - c. Everytown calls for prohibiting open carry, requiring permits to carry concealed guns in public, prohibiting guns in what it labels “sensitive areas,” keeping guns off college campuses, repealing “shoot first” laws, ending programs that arm teachers, and repealing the firearms industry’s liability protections.⁷¹

4. In April 2022 Srivastava called for “stricter gun laws” and to “re-imagine public safety.”⁷²
5. Srivastava blamed Texas Republicans and the state’s 2021 constitutional-carry law for the increase in mass shootings in Texas.⁷³

Immigration

1. On May 26, 2024, Srivastava accused Republicans of advocating “drastic measures like rounding up immigrants and establishing concentration camps.”⁷⁴
2. Nineteen days earlier, when answering a critic on border security, Srivastava wrote that Democrats “believe in fair, legal immigration and securing our borders.”⁷⁵
3. Srivastava supports a pathway to citizenship for illegal immigrants already living in the country, opposes ending birthright citizenship, and calls the border crisis one “created by cruelty, not compassion.”^{76 77 78}
4. In October 2025, Srivastava wrote that “H-1B holders don’t take jobs away — they help create them.”⁷⁹
5. Everytown for Gun Safety, which endorsed Srivastava, is also spearheading an anti-ICE campaign.⁸⁰

Israel/Gaza

1. On February 6, 2024, while more than 130 hostages were still held by Hamas, Srivastava called for a Gaza ceasefire while speaking at a local Islamic center.^{81 82}

Health Care

1. In 2022, Srivastava said he was fighting for “the Economy and Medicare for All.”⁸³
 - a. The Mercatus Center estimated the Medicare for All Act would cost the federal government $32.6 trillion over ten years, and the Committee for a Responsible Federal Budget concluded financing it would require tax increases reaching the middle class.^{84 85}
 - b. The two states that tried to build Medicare for All, Vermont and California, abandoned the effort after their own analysts found the programs could not be paid for.^{86 87 88}
2. In August 2023, Srivastava called universal healthcare “economically sound.”⁸⁹

Energy And Data Centers

1. Srivastava campaigned on renewable energy and grid regulation while accepting $3,000 from two Pioneer Natural Resources executives, including CEO Scott Sheffield.⁹⁰
2. Srivastava posted a campaign platform headlined “WHY WE’RE AGAINST DATA CENTERS,” pledging to “close loopholes that give tax breaks to data centers” and urging voters to “prioritize your family over a tech corporation’s servers.”⁹¹

School Choice

1. Srivastava calls himself “firmly against school voucher programs,” opposes the school-choice program Texas enacted in 2025, and has pledged to repeal it.⁹²

BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION & PERSONAL HISTORY

Biography

“Sandeep Srivastava, a longtime Plano/Frisco resident, business owner, and community advocate, is officially announcing his candidacy for Texas House District 66 as a Democrat. He will challenge the five-term Republican incumbent in the November 2026 election.

Srivastava is running to bring bold, fresh leadership to the Texas Legislature—leadership that reflects the diversity, values, and priorities of District 66. A proud Texan and first-generation immigrant, he is committed to fighting for quality public education, accessible health care, reproductive rights, and real solutions to lower property taxes while investing in infrastructure and community safety.

“For too long, our district has lacked a representative who listens and acts in the best interest of our families and future,” said Srivastava. “I’m running to give a voice to every resident of District 66 regardless of party who believes in progress, fairness, and opportunity for all.”

With a strong background in business and civic engagement, Srivastava plans to build a broad coalition of supporters across party lines, focused on pragmatic solutions and real change. As a parent, husband, and small business leader, he understands the challenges families in Collin County face every day and is ready to be their voice in Austin.

This campaign isn’t about him. It’s about the community—the neighbors, the kids, and the future of District 66.”⁹⁷

Claims A Residence Homestead Exemption On Two Houses While Campaigning On Property Tax Relief

Srivastava Campaigned On Property Tax Relief For Homeowners And Seniors.

On June 26, 2026, Srivastava posted a campaign graphic to X built around property taxes. He wrote that “rising property taxes are crushing Texans, from small businesses to seniors on fixed incomes” and that “homeownership shouldn’t be an impossible burden.”¹⁴⁸

¹⁴⁸ Sandeep Srivastava, June 26, 2026, X, Accessed July 24, 2026

The graphic stated that “homeownership is becoming increasingly unaffordable” and that “retirees on fixed incomes face impossible decisions,” and it laid out a plan of tax transparency, “caps on runaway increases,” and a “louder voice for voters.”¹⁴⁹

Srivastava Swore To Collin County That He Began Living In His Frisco House On May 25, 2023. Denton County Has Applied A Residence Homestead Exemption To His Plano House Every Year Since.

Seven taxing units in two counties applied a residence homestead exemption to the couple’s two houses in tax year 2025, removing a combined $1,737,580 from the taxable value of property carrying a combined 2026 appraised value of $4,142,228.^{150 151 152}

On January 30, 2025, Srivastava and his wife, Vinita, signed a Residence Homestead Exemption Application, Form 50-114, and filed it with the Collin Central Appraisal District for tax year 2025 on their Frisco house at 10701 Rogers Rd. The application states that he acquired the property on May 24, 2023, and began occupying it as his principal residence on May 25, 2023. When asked whether he was transferring an exemption from a previous residence, he answered yes and listed the 6801 Wild Ridge Ct address from Denton County. The form carries an affirmation that a false statement on it is punishable under Penal Code Section 37.10.¹⁵³

Collin CAD granted the exemption. The Frisco record for tax year 2025 lists the owner as “Srivastava Vinita & Sandeep” and shows “Exemptions: HS -” against a market value of $2,673,000. Four taxing units applied it: the City of Frisco and Collin College each cut the taxable value 20 percent to $2,138,400, Frisco ISD cut it by $140,000 to $2,533,000, and Collin County cut it 5 percent to $2,539,350.¹⁵⁴

The Collin County Tax Assessor-Collector’s 2025 statement for the Frisco house, account R676600000801, lists exemption codes “HS001 OH” and itemizes the exemption by entity: $140,000 for Frisco ISD, $534,600 each for the City of Frisco and Collin College, and $133,650 for Collin County, a total of $1,342,850 against a $2,673,000 appraised value.¹⁵⁵

The exemption is on the Frisco house again in 2026, against a market value of $2,984,228, with a homestead cap loss of $43,928. Under Texas Tax Code Section 23.23, that 10 percent appraisal cap applies only to property that qualified as a residence homestead in the preceding year.¹⁵⁶

Denton CAD did not remove the Plano exemption. The Plano record lists the owner as “Srivastava, Sandeep K & Vinita” and shows “Exemptions: HS - Homestead” for tax years 2024, 2025, and 2026.^{157 158 159}

On the 2026 roll, three Denton County taxing units applied the exemption against a $1,158,000 appraised value. The City of Plano cut the taxable value 20 percent to $926,400. Lewisville ISD cut it by $140,000 to $1,018,000. Denton County cut it by 1 percent to $1,146,420, a combined $383,180 in reduced taxable value across the three units.¹⁶⁰

The Denton County Tax Assessor/Collector’s 2025 statement for account 222163DEN lists the property’s exemptions as “GENERAL HOMESTEAD, OPTIONAL HOMESTEAD,” with a

Lewisville ISD exemption amount of $140,000 against a $1,213,000 market value and a Denton County exemption amount of $12,130.¹⁶¹

Collin County also bills the City of Plano portion of the Plano house, which the Denton Central Appraisal District appraises, on a separate account. That 2025 statement, account R437000A00502, lists exemption code “OH” and a City of Plano homestead exemption of $242,600 against a $1,213,000 appraised value, reducing the taxable value to $970,400.¹⁶²

The screenshot displays the Denton Central Appraisal District website for property 222163. The header includes the district's logo and name. A navigation bar contains links for Home, Online Services, Reports, Forms, News, Resources, About, and Meetings. The main content area is titled 'Property | 222163' and includes a status indicator 'Preliminary'. The 'General Info' section is divided into 'ACCOUNT' and 'OWNER' details. The 'ACCOUNT' section lists Property ID (222163), Geographic ID (SL3403A-00000A-0000-000), Tax Office ID (222163), Type (R), Legal description (KINGS RIDGE ADDN BLK A LOT 5), and Property Use. Texas Tax Code Section 11.13(h) provides that “a person may not receive an exemption under this section for more than one residence homestead in the same year.” The Form 50-114 instructions state that a “property owner must notify the chief appraiser in writing before May 1 of the year after his or her right to this exemption ends.”¹⁶³ ¹⁶⁴

The Frisco Exemption Kicked In During 2025 And In 2024, All Four Collin County Taxing Units Taxed The House At Its Full $3,100,000 Value.

The Frisco record for tax year 2024 shows no exemption applied. The City of Frisco, Collin County, Collin College, and Frisco ISD each list a taxable value of $3,100,000 against a market

POLITICAL HISTORY

Election History

Srivastava has appeared on the ballot in four election cycles since 2021 and has not won a general election. Dubbing himself a “hardcore conservative,” Srivastava finished fourth of five in the 2021 Plano City Council Place 7 special election. By March 2022, Srivastava had crossed to the Democratic primary ballot after seven straight Republican primary ballots. In March 2022, he secured his only contested electoral victory to date in the U.S. House Texas District 3 Democratic Primary, where less than 23,000 ballots were cast.^{189 190 191}

He then lost back-to-back U.S. House District 3 general elections in 2022 and 2024 to Republican Keith Self by an average of 24.3 points. Between his two defeats to Self, in 2023, Srivastava amended his statement of candidacy three times and refiled for House seats in Texas Districts 32 and 24 before settling on running again in District 3, where he ran unopposed in a Democratic primary and was soundly defeated by Self for a second time in the general election.^{192 193 194 195 196 197 198}

After failing twice against Self, Srivastava filed for TX HD 66 and ran unopposed in the Democratic primary to set up a November 3, 2026 general election matchup against Matt Shaheen.^{199 200}

Plano City Council, Place 7: Special General Election (2021)

Five candidates ran in the May 1, 2021 nonpartisan special election. Julie Holmer and Chris Robertson advanced to a June 5 runoff; Srivastava finished fourth and did not advance.^{201 202}

Organization

Organization Description

National Democratic
Redistricting Committee

“We’re on a mission to make our democracy truly representative and ensure that every voter has a fair shot at making their voice heard in the process. Attorney General Eric Holder established the National Democratic Redistricting Committee (NDRC) with support from party leaders, President Barack Obama, and Speaker Emerita Nancy Pelosi because they understood that the redistricting process was vulnerable to politicians who care more about protecting their own power than ensuring voters choose their representatives. Under Attorney General Holder’s leadership, the NDRC is the centralized hub to fight for fair maps. Since our founding, we have executed a comprehensive redistricting strategy that includes shifting the balance of power away from total Republican control of redistricting, raising awareness of redistricting, and empowering the public to get involved in the fight for fair maps”.²²⁴

Mental Health Now

“Mental Health Now is an initiative of Inseparable Action, an advocacy campaign working to ensure that mental health is at the forefront of policy in this nation. Mental Health Now recognizes candidates who commit to prioritizing mental health policy. Since 2022, nearly 1,800 candidates and elected officials from every state in the country have signed the Mental Health Now Statement of Support.”²²⁵

Moms Demand
Action-Gun Sense
Candidate

“Moms Demand Action is a grassroots movement of Americans fighting for public safety measures that can protect people from gun violence. We pass stronger gun laws and work to close the loopholes that jeopardize the safety of our families. We also work in our own communities and with business leaders to encourage a culture of responsible gun ownership. We know that gun violence is preventable, and we’re committed to doing what it takes to keep families safe.”²²⁶

Srivastava's State Contributions

Texas Ethics Commission records show Srivastava contributed $22,296.01 to state and local committees and candidates between November 2011 and December 2025. His earliest itemized Texas contributions went to Republican committees, including $30 to Collin County Conservative Republicans in August 2020 and $50 to the Collin County Republican Party in November 2020. From 2021 forward, his contributions went to Democratic committees and candidates, led by $11,250 to the Collin County Young Democrats, $2,226.01 to the Democratic Party of Collin County, and $2,000 to state candidate Mihaela Plesa. Of the $22,296.01 total, a single $2,500 contribution to the Tarrant County Democratic Party PAC on August 25, 2023 was filed under the contributor name “Srivastava For Congress, Sandeep” rather than under Srivastava personally. Abortion

Wants to Override Texas Pro-Life Laws

Srivastava Campaigned For A Federal Abortion Statute That Would Have Overridden Texas Law And The Religious Freedom Restoration Act.

Srivastava has campaigned on federal abortion legislation and against Texas’s pro-life laws since his first congressional run, restating the position in nearly every cycle. In an October 26, 2021 post, he urged the U.S. Senate to pass the Women’s Health Protection Act and wrote that he would “proudly vote for codifying Roe v. Wade into federal law.”²³⁹

The bill Srivastava endorsed, H.R. 3755, reached well beyond restoring Roe. Section 5 provided that the Act “supersedes and applies to the law of the Federal Government and each State government,” whether adopted before or after enactment, “notwithstanding any other provision of Federal law, including the Religious Freedom Restoration Act of 1993.” Section 4 barred any prohibition on abortion “at any point or points in time prior to fetal viability, including a prohibition or restriction on a particular abortion procedure,” and barred any requirement that a patient “disclose the patient’s reason or reasons for seeking abortion services,” the provision that reaches state bans on sex-selective abortion.

The Act’s findings identified state “parental involvement laws (notification and consent)” among the obstructions it was written to remove, and Section 4(b) swept in any further requirement that “expressly, effectively, implicitly, or as implemented singles out the provision of abortion services” and “impedes access.” A state defending any such regulation carried the burden of proving by “clear and convincing evidence” that it advanced patient safety, and Section 8 stripped state immunity under the Tenth and Eleventh Amendments from suits challenging it.²⁴⁰

The bill passed the U.S. House 218–211 on September 24, 2021. The Senate vote Srivastava called for never occurred: on February 28, 2022, cloture on the motion to proceed failed 46–48.^{241 242}

The commitment carried into later cycles. On August 20, 2023, Srivastava’s campaign wrote that he was “committed to enacting laws like the Women’s Health Act to protect Roe v. Wade,” and on June 12, 2024 Srivastava repeated that he was “committed to codifying Roe v. Wade through legislation like the Women’s Health Act.” The same June 2024 thread called Texas “the epicenter

Srivastava Ran As A Moms Demand Action “Gun Sense Candidate,” And Called For Raising The Gun Purchase Age And Federal Background Checks.

Srivastava named specific federal gun measures during his 2022 congressional run. On September 29, 2022, promoting his Moms Demand Action designation, he wrote: “I’m proud to be a @momsdemand #gunsense candidate. We need to be regulating weapon sales, not women’s bodies — kids & educators should feel safe in their learning environments. It’s time to raise the age to purchase advanced weapons & it’s time for federal background [checks].”²⁴⁶

Moms Demand Action Advocates For Red Flag Laws And For Halting Federal Immigration Enforcement Operations.

Moms Demand Action claims to advocate for “responsible gun ownership, background checks on all gun sales, and disarming domestic abusers.” The named campaigns are “Update Background Checks,” “Extreme Risk / Red Flag Laws,” “Disarming Domestic Abusers,” which routes to a page on passing the Violence Against Women Act, “Responsible Gun Storage,” and the “Gun Sense Action Network,” which it describes as volunteers working “to help pass key gun sense policies and grow our movement.” On red flag laws, the group writes that seventeen states have passed measures that “empower family members and law enforcement to petition courts to temporarily limit a person’s access to guns.”^{250 251}

The group’s advocacy is not confined to firearms. As of July 2026, the Moms Demand Action homepage carries a petition headlined “Tell Congress: We Demand Oversight and Accountability of ICE,” which tells supporters that lawmakers should be “protecting us from dangerous federal agents that are terrorizing families and communities.”²⁵²

Tell Congress: We Demand Oversight And Accountability Of ICE

Our lawmakers should be focused on keeping us safe. That includes protecting us from dangerous federal agents that are terrorizing families and communities.

In just weeks, two people—Alex Jeffrey Pretti and Renee Nicole Good—senselessly lost their lives at the hands of federal agents in Minnesota. Alex was an ICU nurse who devoted his life to caring for veterans. Renee was a community member and mother of three who exercised her right to protest. These deaths were not isolated incidents—they are the predictable result of unchecked power, secrecy, and a complete lack of oversight.

As long as ICE continues to operate without meaningful oversight, we will not be safe. That's why we need you to send a letter to your federal lawmakers telling them to hold ICE accountable.

We demand accountability for the killings of Renee Nicole Good, Alex Jeffrey Pretti, and the countless others who have been harmed by this violence and chaos. Send a letter to your lawmakers to make your voice heard now:

Everytown’s Policy Agenda Calls For Prohibiting Assault Weapons And Repealing Texas’s Permitless-Carry Law.

Everytown calls for background checks on all gun sales, waiting periods, extreme risk laws, requiring prohibited people to turn in their guns, and prohibiting people with what Everytown terms “dangerous histories” from having guns. It calls for prohibiting assault weapons, high-capacity magazines, and “auto sears, bump stocks, and other rapid-fire devices,” and for blocking the deregulation of silencers. It calls for prohibiting open carry, requiring permits to carry concealed guns in public, prohibiting guns in what it labels “sensitive areas,” keeping guns off college campuses, repealing “shoot first” laws, ending programs that arm teachers, and repealing the firearms industry’s liability protections.²⁵⁴

Everytown’s own scorecards place Texas outside that agenda on both of its headline measures. Texas “has not adopted” a prohibition on assault weapons, and Everytown writes that “lawmakers should act urgently to prohibit these excessively dangerous firearms.” Texas also “has not adopted” a requirement that residents obtain a permit before carrying a concealed handgun in public. Everytown describes the permitless-carry law Texas enacted in 2021 as “part of the NRA’s broader agenda to weaken and repeal important gun safety measures,” and states that permitless carry “often allow[s] carry by irresponsible and dangerous people.”^{255 256}

At the federal level, Everytown is currently campaigning against H.R. 38 and S. 65, the concealed-carry reciprocity bills, which it calls a “federal concealed carry mandate” and identifies as “one of the gun industry’s top priorities.”²⁵⁷

Studies Have Estimated That Medicare For All Would Cost Over $30 Trillion Over The First Ten Years And Would Require Tax Increases On The Middle Class.

A 2018 Mercatus Center study by Charles Blahous, a former public trustee for Social Security and Medicare, estimated that the Medicare for All Act would cost the federal government $32.6 trillion over its first ten years, and found that doubling all federal individual and corporate income taxes would not fully fund it. The Two States That Tried To Build Universal Health Care Abandoned The Effort After Their Own Analysts Found The Programs Could Not Be Paid For.

Vermont enacted the first state universal health care law in 2011. Three years later, Governor Peter Shumlin abandoned Green Mountain Care after his administration’s financing team concluded the program would require an 11.5 percent payroll tax on all businesses and a 9.5 percent assessment on individuals earning above 400 percent of the federal poverty level, with a sliding scale below that. Shumlin said the risks and economic shocks of moving forward were too great. California’s Legislative Analyst’s Office reviewed AB 1400, the CalCare single-payer bill, in March 2022 and put its annual cost at $494 billion to $552 billion. Even after redirecting every existing federal and state health care dollar and imposing the bill’s new payroll, income, and gross receipts taxes, the LAO found an annual funding shortfall of $70 billion to $193 billion.^{284 285}

The same analysis concluded that eliminating cost sharing while cutting provider payment rates could produce shortfalls in the quantity and quality of care available to Californians, including longer wait times and difficulty finding providers accepting new patients. The Congressional O’Rourke Called Trump A “White Supremacist” And Has Taken Multiple Left-Wing Stances Such As Defending Third-Trimester Abortions And Mandatory Government Buybacks For Firearms.

Beto O’Rourke declared at a September 2019 presidential debate, “Hell yes, we’re going to take your AR-15, your AK-47,” defending a mandatory government buyback of those rifles, and said weeks later that Americans who refused to surrender them would face “a visit by law enforcement to recover that firearm.” At the same 2019 debate, O’Rourke called Trump a “white supremacist in the White House.” O’Rourke also said third-trimester abortion “should be a decision that the woman makes about her body,” and while in Congress voted against the Pain-Capable Unborn Child Protection Act, which would have banned most abortions after 20 weeks.^{322 323 324 325 326}

Wu Led The August 2025 Quorum-Break Walkout To Block The Republican Redistricting Map, Called The Map A “Racist Gerrymandered Map” And Trump “A Disgraced President.”

Gene Wu, chair of the Texas House Democratic Caucus, led the August 2025 walkout in which more than 50 House Democrats left the state to deny the chamber a quorum and block the Republican congressional redistricting map.³⁶³

In a caucus statement responding to Governor Abbott’s petition to remove him, Wu called the map a “racist gerrymandered map,” referred to President Trump as “a disgraced president,” and wrote that “denying the governor a quorum was not an abandonment of my office; it was a fulfillment of my oath.” He said the walkout was “successful ... beyond our wildest dreams” and that the public “now sees [Republicans’] corruption” and “where the swamp actually is.”^{364 365}

Plesa Joined The Quorum Break And Said: “I Feel Victorious.”

Mihaela Plesa, vice chair of the Texas House Democratic Caucus, joined the August 2025 quorum break; returning to the Capitol, she said “I feel victorious” and “we killed the first sham special session,” and the next day tore up her House-issued “permission slip” on the chamber floor.^{367 368}

Editor's Note: *Haque's remarks below come from two separate recordings published by two mosques. The marital-discipline sermon was published to the Islamic Association of Collin County's YouTube channel on October 25, 2023. In A 2023 Recorded Sermon, Haque Justified Domestic Abuse By Saying It Is Permissible For A Husband To Strike His Wife "With Something Like A Small Stick" Or "A Push, Or A Hit On The Chest," To "Bring Her Back To Her Senses."

VIDEO: In a recorded sermon, Haque describes the manner in which a husband may physically abuse his wife:

*HAQUE: "The physical action of darb, which the ulama mentioned, means to hit lightly, without leaving a mark on the body anywhere, with something like a [siwak / small stick] or something like that. Or like a push, or like a hit on the chest, to bring her back to her senses if she is going insane. If again, there is hope that that method will help mend the relationship."*³⁸⁷

In A Second Recorded Lecture From 2016, Haque Said That A Husband’s Authority To Physically Discipline His Wife Is Akin To A Slavemaster’s Authority Over A Slave.

VIDEO: In a lecture on slavery published to the Islamic Association of Allen’s YouTube channel, Haque, then the resident scholar of the Islamic Association of Collin County, describes slavery as practiced in Islam as carrying rights and treatment for slaves “unheard of in Western societies.” Turning from slaves to wives and children, he states that disciplining a disobedient wife is his own religious obligation:³⁸⁸

HAQUE: “Yes, to discipline them. It’s my duty as well to discipline my wife, if she rebels; it’s my duty to discipline my children if they rebel.” (11:20–11:32)

Later in the same lecture, Haque identifies physical discipline as Quranic instruction:³⁸⁹

HAQUE: “One of the things that Allah tells us to do in certain situations ... is to use physical discipline. Yes, Allah says that, and no one can deny that; it sits there in the Qur’an.” (12:44–12:59)

Haque adds that the Prophet “gave a dispensation for the men to hit their wives.”³⁹⁰ He states that the practice is “to be used in the right way, at the right time, but not to beat our wives to the extent that they die,” citing a Plano murder-suicide, in which a man killed his wife and then himself, as conduct he condemns.³⁹¹

Lost Every General Election Since 2021

Srivastava Has Lost Every General Election He Has Entered Since 2021, Including Two Races Against Keith Self, And Won His 2024 And 2026 Primaries Unopposed.

Srivastava has appeared on the ballot in four election cycles since 2021 and has not won a general election. In the May 1, 2021 nonpartisan special election for Plano City Council Place 7, he finished fourth of five candidates with 3,670 votes, or 11.65 percent, and did not advance to the runoff. He won a two-candidate Democratic primary for U.S. House District 3 in March 2022, then lost the November 2022 general election to Republican Keith Self by roughly 24 points. He ran again in 2024 and lost the general election to Self a second time, by 25 points.³⁹⁴

His primary wins after 2022 came without opposition. Srivastava ran unopposed in both the March 2024 Democratic primary for District 3 and the March 2026 Democratic primary for Texas House District 66. Ahead of the 2024 cycle he filed in U.S. House District 24, then withdrew before the primary and refiled in District 3. His only contested electoral victory to date is the 2022 primary against a single opponent. He faces Republican incumbent Matt Shaheen in the November 2026 general election.^{398 399 400}

Srivastava entered the District 66 race after these two losses to Self at the federal level, moving from a congressional district he had lost twice to a state legislative seat.

From “Hardcore Conservative” To Democrat

Srivastava Ran For Plano City Council In 2021 As A Self-Described “Hardcore Conservative,” Then Contributed To Democratic Candidates Two Months After Losing And Pulled A Democratic Primary Ballot The Following March.

Srivastava ran for Plano City Council Place 7 in the May 1, 2021 nonpartisan special election, one of five candidates for the open seat.

VIDEO: On April 19, 2021, he appeared at a candidate forum organized by Collin County Republican Party clubs. Asked to rank the factors voters should weigh in the race, Srivastava stated his party identification directly.⁴⁰¹

SRIVASTAVA: “As far as the policies, I am a hardcore conservative ... The experience is the most important thing ... I worked in a corporate for 25 years.” (16:01)⁴⁰²

VIDEO: Srivastava opposed new apartment construction (“I’m zero for the apartments, no more apartments in the Plano”), backed low taxes, called for cutting “a lot of fat in [the] city budget,” and said the police and fire departments “should be fully funded and protected.” In his closing statement, he asked voters to send him to the council to advance a partisan agenda.⁴⁰³

SRIVASTAVA: “I will bring a unique experience to the city council ... and to present a good conservative agenda in the city and preserve the rights of the people of the Plano.” (20:11)⁴⁰⁴

Srivastava finished fourth of the five candidates with 3,670 votes, or 11.65 percent. Julie Holmer and Chris Robertson advanced to the June 5 runoff.⁴⁰⁵

Srivastava’s federal contribution record shows the same shift, and it predates his first Democratic primary ballot. His contributions to Republican committees were limited to small amounts: $680 and $6 to the Denton County Republican Victory Fund in 2011, $28 to Donald J. Trump for President in 2016, and two $25 contributions to the Trump Make America Great Again Committee in July 2020.⁴⁰⁶

On July 14, 2021, roughly two months after losing the Place 7 election, he made his first recorded federal contribution to a Democratic organization: $50 to Powered by People, the political action committee founded by Beto O’Rourke. He followed it with $25 to Iroghama Omere for TX in December 2021, $3,000 to Colin Allred for Congress in March 2023, and $500 to the Texas Democratic Party in May 2023. The contribution to Powered by People came several months before he pulled his first Democratic primary ballot, and his $3,000 contribution to Allred was more than four times his largest recorded contribution to any Republican committee.^{407 408}

Srivastava’s public posture shifted on the same timeline as his money: on November 11, 2021, roughly three months before he pulled his first Democratic primary ballot, he posted his solidarity with radio host Joe Madison’s hunger strike to end the Senate filibuster and pass the John Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act, a federal voting-rights bill Senate Republicans were blocking.⁴⁰⁹

Srivastava registered to vote in Texas on December 19, 2009 and took a Republican ballot in every primary he voted in through July 2020. On March 1, 2022, roughly ten months after presenting himself as a hardcore conservative at the Collin County Republican Party forum, he took a Democratic primary ballot.⁴¹⁰
